Blows Dealt at Sea. An intensified U-boat campaign, the high command reported today, was responsible for destruction of a British auxiliary cruiser of more than 10,000 tons and of two British convoys. In the latter attack, the high command said, two submarine hunters participated. Torpedo planes were credited with sending three "strongly protected merchanters" totalling 29,000 tons to the bottom off the east coast of England during the night. Heavy artillery of the German army and navy was said to have shelled two merchantmen in Dover harbor, causing "severe destruction" to the ships and port facilities.

Dr. Single Wins His First Battle With Big Chinook

Having spent nearly an hour endeavoring to persuade a 40-pound chinook salmon to give up and come to raft, Dr. Harry Single, dentist at the Roseburg Veterans Administration facility, now understands what it is like to hook and land a big fish, he says. The big chinook was taken on a spinner just above Mill creek on the lower Umpqua Saturday. It was Dr. Single's first experience at handling a salmon on hook and line.

Hill-Sharing Bid From Willkie Spurned by F. R.

(Continued from page 1) ing day. For the democrats, the current week will see President Roosevelt in an avowed "political" role, as he delivers the first of five addresses intended, so his own announcement said, to "correct" the deliberate falsification of fact by campaign foes and to "give the true facts to the public."

On the republican side, Wendell L. Willkie embarked on another closely filled itinerary of many speeches and news interviews. The republican presidential nominee's schedule will take him from Wisconsin, where he makes a major address tonight at Milwaukee, eastward through Illinois, Indiana and Pennsylvania to New York.

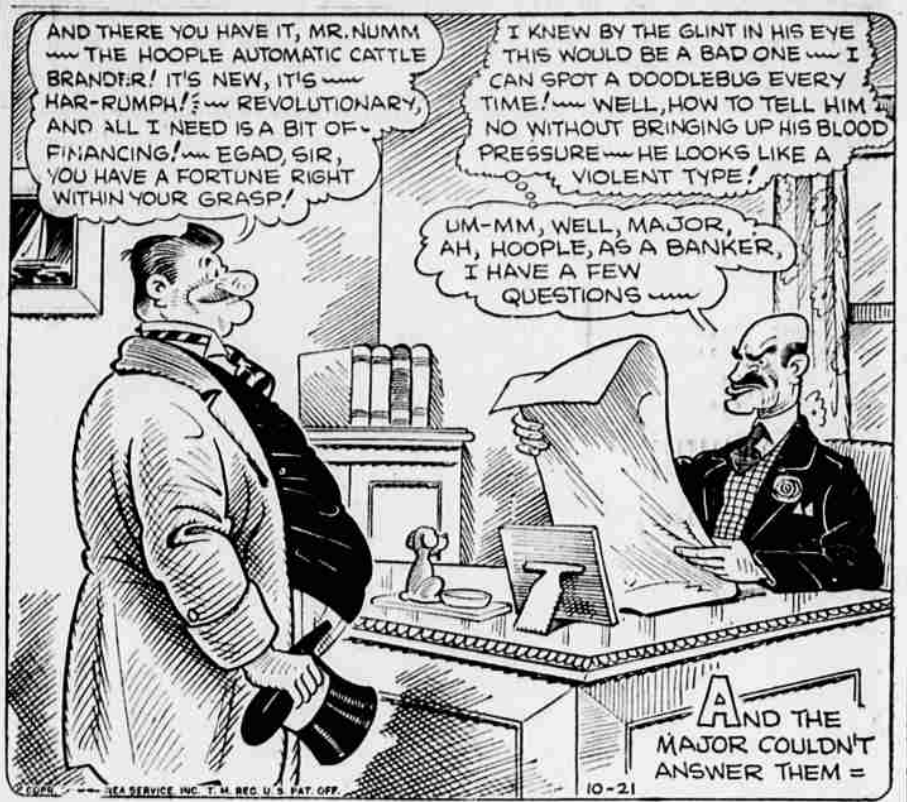

Other Notables Dated. To back up the formal campaigning of its standard bearer, each party marshaled a supporting array of notables. Former President Hoover is scheduled to urge Willkie's cause in a Thursday night speech at Columbus, Ohio. Frank Lawton, former governor of Illinois, is on the program for a broadcast address on Friday night. Numerous other party prominent also are down for talks.

In the democratic camp, Henry A. Wallace, vice presidential nominee, has the most active week with a schedule which will take him into Iowa, Wisconsin, Illinois, Michigan and adjacent territory. William C. Bullitt, ambassador to France, speaks in Chicago tonight, and Attorney General Jackson is listed for a radio address Wednesday.
