POET'S CORNER

THE ONLY WAY.

By MALINDA ODERKIRK

How strange a problem is the heart of man,
Quite capable of good and gentle deeds,
And yet so cruel, a slave of ruthless greed.

When control by devious sorcery,
This plan of strife, so long in preparation,
Can end in devastated waste, false creeds

And guns and lusts and gore are not man's needs,
And what a fearsome way to end life's span.

Is this what progress brings? Illusions fall;
For war's ungodliness the helpless
pay,
And friend and foe together weep
and call,
Mankind was meant to live in peace for aye
If we will learn the truth that after all
To "love thy neighbor" is the only way.

FORMER ROSEBURG BOY MARRIES AT MYRTLE POINT

The wedding of Mary Margaret Dye and Keith H. Mintonye was solemnized Sunday at 2 p. m. at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Dye, Rev. Arthur R. Jones performing the ceremony.

Standing before a bank of autumn leaves flanked by baskets of yellow and white chrysanthemums, the couple exchanged vows. The bride wore a dress of white net over satin with a bodice of white lace and a fingertip veil. She carried a shower bouquet of white chrysanthemums.

Miss Ellen Carver, as maid of honor, wore a dress of garnet taffeta and a toque of matching flowers in her hair. Hers was a colorful bouquet of mixed chrysanthemums.

Frank Brown of Crescent City acted as best man for Mr. Mintonye.

Schubert's "Serenade" was played as Miss Dye came down the stairs—then "Sweet and Low".

Following the ceremony, a reception was given for the wedding guests, Miss Dye making the first cut in a huge white wedding cake with miniature bride and groom adorning it. Miss Edith Smith of Myrtle Point and Mrs. Frank Brown of Crescent City assisted in serving.

For going away, the bride wore a brown suit with matching accessories, and a corsage of yellow chrysanthemums.

Mr. and Mrs. Mintonye will be at home in Crescent City Nov. 15.

Miss Dye is a graduate of Myrtle Point high school, having finished in the class of '38. Since that time she had been employed in the office of the Myrtle Point Herald.

Mr. Mintonye graduated from the Marshfield high school. He is the son of Mrs. Fannie Mintonye of Roseburg.

Out-of-town guests present for the occasion were: Mrs. Oscar Mintonye, Mrs. Neil Harding and Scott J. and Dale M., and Mrs. Amy Mintonye and Martin and Joan of Coquille; Mrs. Fannie R. Mintonye of Roseburg; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brown of Crescent City; Mr. and Mrs. Don Burke of Klamath Falls and Mrs. Adeline Anderson of Gaylor.
