Every state, county and city official or board that handles public money should publish at regular intervals an accounting of it, showing where and how each dollar is spent.

JUST consider how much has happened to the world since last we observed our annual Thanksgiving day. A year ago the war in Europe was on but, after the destruction of Poland, it was not a furious war.

In the spring the storm broke. There is no point in recounting here the elimination of numerous proud nations, the destruction of property, the loss of life.

But there is no war in the Americas. For that, above all else, we may give thanks today.

Shall we be able to keep this peaceful state? No one knows. All we can know for certain is that we must prepare, we must arm, we must be strong.

Our domestic situation is no worse than it was a year ago and there are marked signs that conditions in this country, economic conditions that is, will be much better during the coming year or two.

Another presidential election is past and out of the way. An election year is always a year of jitters.

So, taken all in all, the people of the United States have a great deal to be thankful for on this Thanksgiving day.

the government to that end. H: There is an assurance which I think I can give you and that is the assurance that the practice and procedure of collective bargaining through chosen and independent unions will not be sacrificed.

"That policy is fundamental to a democratic defense of democracy."

COLLECTIVE bargaining through "chosen and independent unions" (intelligently and wisely led) puts labor on an EQUAL BASIS in industry with management and ownership.

Any employer who thinks labor is going to be satisfied in the future with anything less than an equal basis is so far behind the times that he might as well be taken out and chloroformed in or der to put him out of his misery.

ANOTHER thought: As labor and management get together to solve their problems in the light of modern thinking, the result (unless extreme moderation and intelligence prevail) is apt to be higher prices to THE FARMER for the products of industry.

Unless the farmer is somehow taken into the partnership, there will be trouble ahead.

Registration Of Aliens in U. S. To Close Dec. 26th

Registration of aliens in the United States is making good progress with only about 500,000 for the nation as a whole still unregistered, according to an announcement by the U. S. department of justice.

All aliens who were in the United States as of August 27 must be registered and fingerprinted by December 26 or face a $1,000 fine, six months in jail, or both fine and imprisonment.

After registering, aliens are required to notify the immigration and naturalization service of the department of justice in Washington of any change in permanent residence address within five days of such change.

The new legislature will be comparatively well-balanced. In the senate will be nine farmers, seven business men, seven attorneys, three physicians, three insurance men, and one banker.

The house membership will include 19 business men, 13 farmers, 12 attorneys, five insurance men, three labor leaders, two physicians, two laborers, two teachers, one editor and one writer.

Part Drunk Expert Outdoes Sober Men In Driving Test

LOS ANGELES.—(AP) All in the interest of science, the police department's foremost outsider against drunk driving got two things light and proved he could drive a car better after six Scotch and sodas than the average motorist can when he's sober.

Capt. Bernard H. Caldwell, 39, leads the police traffic control team. He recently returned from a five-mile trip through the middle west, bringing on the sylvan mix of rain, sleet and snow.

The greater Los Angeles safety council is about to prove the same thing scientifically. It used to subject, mostly policemen and known city experts. The council proved its point but Caldwell proved the expert that proves the rule.

His six drinks contained an ounce of 50-proof alcohol taken at half-hour intervals. Other participants tried other liquors—vodka, bourbon, wine and beer.

With most of the group, there was a noticeable lessening in coordinating ability after four drinks—a definite drop after six. But Caldwell, in some respects, improved as he went along.

The testing machine is a full-size driver's compartment, with steering wheel and brake pedal. Before the "motorist" are red and green signal lights and a moving panorama with a highway in the center.

New Legislature Of Oregon Will Be Well Balanced

SALEM, Ore., Nov. 21.—(AP) The new state senate will be more experienced than usual, but the house will have a high percentage of inexperienced members.

Of the 39 senators, only four are without legislative experience. Four have served in one session, five in two sessions, and the other 17 senators have attended more than two sessions.

The dean of the legislature is Senator W. H. Strayer, Baker democrat, who first served in 1915 and in every session since then, making a total of 11.

The two house veterans, each with six sessions, are Representatives Frank J. Longman and Harvey Wells, both Portland republicans.

The house membership will include 19 business men, 13 farmers, 12 attorneys, five insurance men, three labor leaders, two physicians, two laborers, two teachers, one editor and one writer.

Famous Magician Offers Thrills At Roseburg Armory

A thrilling fun show based on mystery is promised local people when "The Great Virgil," famous magician and illusionist, brings his company of artists to show on the stage of the Roseburg armory next Wednesday night at 8 o'clock.

Though the entire performance is full of laughs, there are many hair-raising and death-defying scenes which combine to round out a masterful show of mystery, beauty, thrills and fun.

A special feature of "The Great Virgil" show will be Julie, the psychic enigma, who will offer her thrilling opportunity of witnessing before their very eyes. The dissolving of the bodies of two human beings, in which "The Great Virgil" changes places with one of his lady assistants in the fraction of a second.

Among the exciting creations during the many scenes of "The Great Virgil" performance are the beautiful Hindoo princess, asleep in space. The breathtaking demonstration of an execution on Mars. The gorgeous Oriental fan-tasy of Chinatown after dark.

The exciting spirit scenes during which spirits sit and flutter about the stage causing strange and lighter provoking situations, making the members of the audience howl with laughter. The famous Hindoo rope mystery, which everyone has heard of or read about some time or other during his or her life, but which a very select few have had the thrilling opportunity of witnessing before their very eyes.

What a year this has been so far. Wars, rumors of wars, broken pledges, cruel atrocities, jungle barbarities. One of the great casualties of these days is our own serene and inner world. How can we keep thinking about things that are pure and just and honorable in a day when there is so much injustice and unparity and dishonor. St. Paul admonishes us to think on the things that lift us rather than the things that drag us down. In his years of missionary effort he had met the evil forces that torment our world. They had done their worst to destroy his faith in God, but this warrior with the scars of the Lord Jesus Christ on his body, still cries out. Finally keep thinking on goodness and purity and justice and love. Nothing can destroy them only darkness in our own souls can turn the world finally dark. Keep faith with the eternal realities. Trust God whom no fury can defeat. The Christian has confidence unknown to the worldly heart, and so if the night draws on, keep thinking on these things for they are our hope for the future and our sure defense in the midst of all the present confusion and hatred and bitterness may we still see the shining path that leads to the kingdom of our God. Amen.
