All of the bowling leagues will swing into action next week following a two-week holiday lay-off. All the leagues are closely grouped in regard to team standings and with the season only a little more than half through no team is out of first place possibility.

Play in the Commercial league has been marked by the sensational rise of the Stephens Auto company team, which in five weeks has traveled from the cellar position to second spot in league standings and now is threatening the leading Kiwanis keglers for first place. The Stephens Auto company team has won its last 15 games without a loss.

A two-day tournament has been arranged for Jan. 25-26 between teams from Eugene, Grants Pass, Medford, Marshfield and Roseburg.

There will be two classes, commercial and open, and also a five-game singles sweepstakes for each of the divisions.
