The church was beautifully decorated by a committee from the young people's class and the program included group singing followed by the invocation by the pastor, Rev. G. A. Garboden, and the welcome given by Frankie Buell, after which the lights were turned off leaving the only illumination that of a shaded light over a large scripture-graph on the platform, portraying the midnight star-dotted sky. During the singing softly of "Silent Night" by Mrs. Arthur Marsh, little Ilene Storey of the primary department placed a lovely figure of the Holy Mother and Child in the center of the graph. This was followed by scripture readings from Luke 2 by Gladys Storey and Martha June Buell, while scenes portraying the shepherds watching their flocks on the hills and the appearance of the angel accompanied by the host of angels were placed on the graph by Lorane Jacoby and Minnie Elliott. The primary department then sang "While Shepherds Watched Their Flocks by Night." Following the scripture readings pertaining to the manger scene by Mildred Jacoby and the appearance of the wise men by Elva May Green, scenes of Mary, Joseph and the baby with the shepherds arriving were placed by Harvey Buckle and Marde Jean Montgomery and the scene of the wise men was placed by Dorothy Ann Jones. The primary department sang "Away in a Manger" and Leland, Terrance and Glen Hodges, as a trio, sang "We Three Kings of Orient." Recitations were given by Harvey Buckle and Lila Meredith; two songs sung by the young people's class, and readings given by Mrs. Fred Richard and O. G. Rogers. At the close of the sacred program, treats for the children and gifts for all were distributed by Santa Claus impersonated by John Montgomery, who also showered the children with popcorn.

DAILY DEVOTIONS

DR. CHAS. A. EDWARDS

Man has always been building alters in his own human way; he is seeking a place where he may find God. Some sacred shrine at which he may bow down and his prayer to the Father above, or some place, somewhere, where he may sacrifice upon a pile of stones or on a rough rock slab—or even upon some massive masonry as in the temple at Jerusalem. Always a gift was brought and offered. Always sincerity and sacrifice were the test of his worship. When Jesus came He did away with the sacrifice of the altar as it had been, but His people have kept and will always keep the essential principle of each altar-builder. The same need to find God, the same desire to give unto Him—are not those with us? Let us then, day by day, on the altar of our own hearts make our desires and prayers known unto God, being assured that they who seek Him earnestly shall always be found of Him. "Jesus, where Thy people meet; There they behold, Thy mercy seat; Where'eth they seek Thee, Thou art found And every place is hallowed ground." Amen.
