Every state, county and city official or board that handles public money should publish at regular intervals an accounting of it showing where and how each dollar is spent. This is a fundamental principle of democratic government.

As we plunge all the more determinedly into the "aid for Britain" policy, we become as nearly active in the war as we shall be even when a formal break with the Nazi powers comes—with the exception of the possible participation of our fleet.

What effect will this have upon the lives of those of us who live in this peaceful Umpqua valley?

Among those things that may be listed as almost certain results are the following:

1. MEN. Our national guard company will remain in service at least for the year scheduled, and perhaps longer. Some few young men of draft age will be called into active service—but not so very many.

2. TAXES. The federal tax bill paid by each person, firm or corporation will be larger. Possibly the bill for 1941 will not be alarmingly increased but there is little possibility of anything but increasing federal taxes for some years to come.

3. COST OF LIVING. Sooner or later prices for the things we must buy will rise. Every effort is being made to prevent undue price increases, but the probability is that prices will ascend. Luxury items will be the first to cost more.

4. FARM PRICES. By all reasoning the prices of farm produce should go up even faster than living costs increase. It would seem that wool should certainly advance in price and that grains and dried and canned fruits and vegetables should command a better market price than the previous five-year average.

5. DEFENSE ACTIVITY. Our valley will see little actual defense work activity. There may be highway development and we may see an increase in our timber products production but for present, at least, we are not in line for a direct slice of the defense spending.

6. INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT. This valley is unusually rich in timber and mineral resources. These should see development as a part of the defense and preparedness program. Rich lime, quick silver, nickel and sulphur deposits may be worked as they have not been before. We should have at least one large plywood plant and several fairly large sawmills as well as numerous smaller mills.

It will be noted that the above is somewhat an optimistic summary of the prospects for this valley when our nation is at war, or nearly so. It happens that ours is a frontier area, rich in undeveloped resources. In times of emergency, when all resources are needed, such an area is bound to come in for a share in productive activity.

MEMBERS of the 78th congress, today's dispatches inform us, agree on these as the big issues of the session:

1. Total defense for America.
2. Greater aid for Britain.
Both can be achieved only by PRODUCTION OF THINGS—not by talk.
PRODUCTION, like Cromwell's victory, must be obtained by men who "know what they are working for and love what they know."
If it can't be done that way, democracy is a failure. IT CAN BE.

Program Arranged for Men's 99 Club Meeting

The men's 99 club of the First Christian church is to meet in the church basement at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday for one of its bi-weekly sessions. Pastor John A. Barney announced today. An interesting program has been arranged, he reports. The business session will include consideration of projects to be undertaken during the year.

The club is holding a men's meeting for Douglas county on Jan. 21, at which time B. Ross Evans, state evangelist, will be the speaker. An open invitation to all men of the county to attend is extended, Pastor Barney states.

The first "1941 baby" to be reported from Mercy hospital in Roseburg was born Friday, Jan. 3, to Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Johnson, of Glide. The baby, weighing eight pounds and six ounces, was named Donna Faye. Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Johnson, residing at 520 Cobb street, Roseburg, are the child's grandparents.

The arrival of the Johnson infant preceded by only a few hours the birth of a daughter, weight six pounds and three ounces, to Mr. and Mrs. Austin Pendergrass of Roseburg.

Other "New Year" babies born at Mercy hospital are Richard L. Lowell, born Saturday, Jan. 4, to Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy L. Lowell, of Tiller, weight seven pounds and five ounces, and Clifford George Long, Jr., weight five pounds and eight ounces, born Sunday, Jan. 5, to Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Long of Medrose.

Ashland Chosen as Site for "B" Hoop Tournament

PORTLAND, Jan. 6.—(AP)—Selection of Southern Oregon College of Education at Ashland as the site for the annual Oregon high school basketball "B" tournament March 6, 7 and 8 was announced Saturday by a special committee.

The committee's selection must be approved before it becomes final. In the past the "B" tournament has been played in conjunction with the regular high school tournament at Salem.

Three Conference Hoop Games Billed For Roseburg High

Three conference basketball games in quick succession have been scheduled by the Roseburg high school Indians for Friday and Saturday of this week and Tuesday of next week. Coach Jim Watts announced today.

The Medford Pear Pickers will play here Friday night in a game starting at 8 o'clock. Grants Pass will play on the local court at 8 o'clock Saturday night. Ashland will be in Roseburg Tuesday for a game to start at 7:30 p. m.

These three teams, together with the Roseburg Indians, form the southern Oregon conference and the three games to be played here will give fans an opportunity to size up the competition the Indians will have in attempting to gain the district title and the right to play in the state championship tournament at Salem.

All of the southern Oregon teams are looking upon the Indians as the favored contender in the district and are pointing for their meetings with the Roseburg team, who so far has suffered only one defeat this season, having been beaten in a game at Klamath Falls.

Fans, Coach Watts states, are assured of interesting games in the three contests to be held here, which will be the last home games until January 24.

First Meeting Set for Adult Class in Speech

The first meeting of an adult class in speech problems, will be held at the junior high school at 7 p. m. Tuesday. It was announced today. The course will be taught by Scott Williams under the cooperative program of the state vocational department and the Roseburg school districts.

Persons interested in the class are invited to contact City Superintendent W. M. Campbell, Mr. Williams or Bruce A. Mellis, trades coordinator, for any desired advance information.

SERIAL STORY CHRISTMAS RUSH BY TOM HORNER

YESTERDAY: Valerie is determined to tell the Connelys what she thinks of Jerry's wrecking her car. Mary stops here, leads her into admissions that she never intended to marry Jerry, dated him merely because he was the most eligible man at the university. When Valerie accuses Mary of loving Jerry, Mary admits it. The Connelys overhear Valerie. Jerry is resting easier, but is not out of danger.

JERRY CLOSING A YEAR CHAPTER XII Dr. and Mrs. Connely went directly to Jerry's room, when they reached the hospital, leaving Mary and the twins in the downstairs office. Kathleen thumbed through an out-dated magazine. Sheila and Mary waited near the window.

"I wonder if Dad and Mother will break the news to Jerry about Valerie," Sheila said. "He'll never believe we didn't have something to do with her leaving in a huff."

Mary nodded. The thought had been troubling her since Valerie stormed out of this same room five hours ago. Jerry loved Valerie. Mary loved Jerry. Valerie was in love only with herself. It was like a nursery rhyme riddle with no answer.

It was up to Jerry to find the answer. But how could they tell him what Valerie had said? Who would tell him?

"I don't know how that brother of mine could be so blind," Sheila went on. "He should have been wise to Valerie five minutes after he met her."

"He was unconscious while Val carried on about her car," Mary began.

"He's been unconscious for six months," Kathleen added, from behind the magazine. "He had to wake up sometime."

But the ending of Jerry's romance with Valerie would not solve Mary's problem. Jerry might be bitter, against his family, against her. He might even go through his determination to quit medicine. If he did that, there was little hope that she would ever have the opportunity of seeing him again.

And seeing him was necessary. If Jerry returned to school, they might begin dating again, as they had before Valerie intruded. Some day—Mary clung to the hope—Jerry might fall in love with her. Then, after Jerry had finished school—

Martha's voice interrupted: "Jerry's awake now. He wants to see you. He asked particularly for you, Mary."

Jerry was grinning as they filed into the room. Bandages encircled his head. A framework supported his broken arm. His face was pale and drawn, but he still could grin.

"Happy New Year! Here, be careful!" Kathleen and Sheila had rushed to the side of the bed to kiss him—"I'm fragile. I break easily."

Dr. Connely's face and that of his wife mirrored their happiness. "Not so fragile, son," the doctor said. "The raps you took would have dented a stone wall. And that hard head of yours didn't even crack."

"Queer place to spend New Year's," Jerry was saying. "I tried to get home for that annual family breakfast. Didn't quite make it."

"Let's forget last night," Martha suggested.

"No, don't want to," Jerry persisted. "I've a lot of things to tell you, Valerie and I are through!"

"You are?" The doctor's surprise seemed genuine.

"Yes. Washed up. Finished." Jerry reached for his mother's hand, grasped it tightly. "I'll tell you about it and then it will be buried in the past—that's the rule, isn't it? And all of this happened before midnight. They waited for him to continue."

"It started when I said I had to be home this morning. Val wasn't coming at first, but finally gave in when I promised to take her home early. We kept arguing most of the time during the drive over here. Val said some things I didn't like about you."

"I told her she's have to like my family if she was going to marry me, and she set me back on my heels by telling me that she had no intention of marrying me—ever. I got mad then, took her home. And on the way, we hit this other car."

"Val told us, too. While you were unconscious," Martha said softly.

"It's all over and best forgotten, son," Hugh advised. "You'll have to stay here for a couple of weeks, and you'll be shaky for a month or so, but you'll get over this—and you'll get over Val, too."

BARBS Germans can now get permits for stoves in air-raid shelters. We thought the R. A. F. was making it plenty hot. If you keep looking up you'll find out that the sky's the limit. People find out how foolish it is to stay up all night when it suddenly dawns on them. The fur coats you see came from skinning dumb animals—and father. Take real good care of the present and you can trade it in on a much better future. It's becoming more and more apparent that Mussolini can make his soldiers do anything they want to. A picture of health requires a good frame of mind.
