

Score Board Given By Soda Works to Senior High School

Installation of an automatic electric basketball score board in the gymnasium at the Roseburg Senior High school is expected within the next two weeks, it was announced today following the placing of the order last night for the signalling device which comes from Des Moines, Iowa.

The signal board is a gift to the school by the Roseburg Dairy and Soda works and represents an expenditure of a large sum of money.

The device includes a large illuminated clock dial, which, through automatic electric controls shows the time consumed and remaining in each period. The period of the game also is shown as well as the running score. The clock hands are halted automatically during time-out periods.

The electrically lighted and operated score boards are a new development which provides a fine service to fans, affording information at all times on the progress of the game with regard to score and time.

The Roseburg high school has been trying for many months to find some way of financing the installation of such a scoreboard. Principal C. H. Beard reported today: "It is needless to say that we appreciate more than words can tell the kindness of the Roseburg Dairy and Soda works in making this fine gift to our school."

Tallest Prep School Hoopsters Return Home

Back from a successful southern Oregon road trip, the Roseburg high school Indians, claimed to be the nation's tallest high school basketball team, are preparing for contests Friday and Saturday of this week with Grants Pass and Astoria. This week's games will be played on the home court, with the Cavemen coming Friday night for the third meeting between the two teams. Astoria will play here Saturday night, bringing the Indians in competition with one of the state's strongest basketball squads.

The Indians last Friday and Saturday won exceedingly rough contests from Ashland, 29 to 26, and Grants Pass, 28 to 17.

News of 4-H CLUBS

A forestry club of fourteen members has been organized among high school boys of Canyonville. It is to be held by N. B. Ashcraft, principal of the school. Harold Ramberg was elected president, Donald Lilja vice-president and Wayne Garey secretary.

The club is to share in the experimental work with the clubs of Days Creek and Riddle on the plot leased by the Days Creek clubs from Douglas county. A section of this plot is to be burned each year; another section protected against burning, and another used for a recreational area.

Members of the club are Donald Lilja, Ray Eshleman, Bill Hobson, Bill Hart, Carl Long, Lester Spencer, Verlon James, Baxter Ferebee, Calvin Neiswanger, Wayne Garey, Sidney Hemphill, Webster Briggs, James Moyer and Harold Ramberg.

The eighth graders of Days Creek organized a marketing club of eight members, with Miss M. Church, teacher of the school, as their leader. They elected Lois Ellen Matthews president, Dorothy Brown vice-president and Jean McGee secretary.

A cookery club consisting of all boys was organized at the Kellogg school, with Mrs. Leona Madison as leader. Mrs. Madison is teacher of the school, and the membership of the school is 100 per cent boys. They are carrying division II of cookery, or that section known as luncheon club cookery. Members of the club are Haldeane Smith, president; James Gourley, vice-president; Alvin Kesterson, secretary; Bobby Gourley, Harold Minter, Bobby Bauer, John Griffith and Donald Mole.

Five Mile school, located back of Tahkenitch lake, organized a marketing club among the five eighth graders. Miss Dellis Schad is leading this group through the project. George Stonecker was elected president, Gordon Murphy vice president and Helen Murphy secretary.

Local leaders of western and central Oregon are holding their annual conference at Oregon state campus during the first three days of this week. This conference, according to E. A. Britton, county club agent, is strictly for the benefit of local leaders. Regardless of the project a leader is assisting in, there will be a section at the conference for special instruction in that project.

Mrs. P. O. Aekley, president of the Douglas county local leaders; Mrs. Donn Radabaugh, active in the Fullerton school 4-H club work, and Miss Doris Haines of Oakland are in attendance at the meeting.

Elgarose 4-H Club News By CAROLYN TANNER Our opening song was "Oh, Beautiful America," followed by the 4-H pledge. The new health inspector is Edna Shew, and wash guard is Carolyn Tanner. For the roll call we had a "Truth or Consequences." If they answered the question correctly they didn't have to take the consequences. Marion Galla and Patty Holmquist were the only ones to answer their questions correctly.

Days Creek 4-H Club News By MARGIE WRIGHT The Days Creek Cookery club and their local leader, Mrs. C. L. Miller, held a meeting at the school last week. The local leader gave a very interesting and educational talk on "Cereals" and the "Value of Fruits." Several cards were handed in to the local leaders. On Monday of last week Mrs. Miller and the cookery club held another meeting. Mrs. Miller gave a very good talk on sandwiches. The members of the club are to have their cards on sandwiches complete at the next meeting.

The Days Creek marketing club and its local leader, Miss Marjorie Church, held a meeting at the school on Tuesday. It was decided that they would name the club the 4-H Clover club. The club sang a song, after which they began working on their first lesson, called "What is Marketing and What Purpose Does It Serve?"

The Days Creek Happy Cooking club and its local leader, Miss Josephine Wright, held a meeting at the school Thursday. Hazel Welch gave a very interesting report on the "Values of Soup." Lavina Perdue will give a report on vegetable salads at the next meeting. Most of the members have their score cards complete.

The Bulldog Forestry Hobby club met on Saturday. We took up the study of fir trees, the fir needles, bark, seed and wood. We also learned about the strength of fir lumber.

Reedsport 4-H News By DONNA BERNHARDT The Scissors Snippers of Reedsport held a meeting on Friday. A demonstration was given by Jean Arden St. Onge and eVrna Pundt on how to hem the tea towel! Games were played afterward. Mr. Britton came during the week and said we may have the spring fair here. Our next meeting will be held on January 24.

Tenmile 4-H News By EVELYN HAHN Tuesday the Peppy Cookers of Tenmile held their regular cooking club meeting. Olive Kreiger and Ralph Swift demonstrated a potato salad. La Verne Hahn and Jack Cabot will give the next demonstration.

Fullerton School 4-H News By LILLIAN THOMPSON Ten girls from Fullerton school met last Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Harold Bellows and organized a "My Room" project. Those present were: Bonita Bellows, Shirley Helweg, LaVelle DeWess, Marjorie Fowler, Verlie Wheeland, Barbara Ogle, Virginia Aekley, Carolyn Groves, Joan Rutter and Lillian Thompson. They elected the following officers: president, Bonita Bellows; vice-president, Shirley Helweg; secretary, Joan Rutter; reporter, Lillian Thompson. We have decided to call our club the Daisy club. We will meet at the Fullerton school.

Five Youths Frustrate Girl Abduction Attempt PORTLAND, Jan. 21.—(AP)—An attempted abduction of an 18-year-old girl was frustrated by five Vancouver, Wash., youths yesterday. Two men are held on federal kidnaping complaints. J. Douglas Swenson of the federal bureau of investigation said Frank C. Hiller, 30, and Harold H. Conner, 31, were charged with taking Kathleen Polster, 18, from Portland to Vancouver, Wash. The girl said she was forced into an automobile in downtown Portland late Sunday and driven to Vancouver, where the five youths saw her struggling in the car's rear seat and rescued her. The youths chased the automobile until it stopped and captured one man, who Detective Chief Keegan said was Hiller. Conner was arrested later. The girl reported she was standing on a corner with her two sisters when the men grabbed her.

Officers Retained By Pension Forum Unit of Douglas

All officers of the Douglas county unit of the Oregon Pension Forum, including members of the ways and means committee, were re-elected at a regular meeting held at the courthouse in Roseburg Saturday. The officers include Henry Anderson, Melrose, president; Joe Custer, Olalla, first vice-president; Laura C. Shaw, Sutherlin, secretary-treasurer.

Much interest was shown in a report of a member of the legislative committee that had recently returned from Salem. The group was informed that rumors and apparently reliable information indicated that four or five pension bills will be dumped into the legislative hopper. The opinion seemed to be general, it was stated, that the present relief measure would be liberalized to some extent and that the taxpayer's oath would be eliminated. The next meeting of the pension forum will be held February 1 unless a special session is called by the president ahead of that date.

Drain Basketeers Defeat Reedsport Quintet, 40-33

DRAIN, Jan. 21.—In one of the best basketball games of the local season, Drain defeated a strong Reedsport quintet Saturday night, 40 to 33. The game was played at a fast pace with each team electing to outrun the other. Jim Kirk, Drain forward, was high point man of the evening with 21 markers to his credit. Joe Stienbacher, sophomore center, playing his first full game, accounted for six points of the Drain total.

Coach Connors revamped his lineup the night before in an effort to get a higher scoring outfit.

In a preliminary game the Reedsport girls won a close volleyball game, 17 to 18. Drain (40) (33) Reedsport Sneed (6) F. (3) Vian Kirk (21) F. (4) Willard Stienbacher C. (7) Branden Paris, E. (5) G. (5) Dunn Olson (2) G. (8) Pinlon Paris, Ed S. (4) Henry Parker S. (2) Rosier
