

Tax Exemption For PUDs Opposed By Gov. Sprague

SALEM, Jan. 22.—(AP)—Governor Charles A. Sprague said today he has advised Dr. Paul J. Raver, Bonneville administrator, that he would not approve Dr. Raver's recommendation that people's utility districts be exempted from taxation.

The governor added that he would not approve his suggestion that the entire PUD law be rewritten.

The governor, however, did approve several of Dr. Raver's suggestions. These would make it easier for districts to consolidate or annex more territory, give districts more powers in condemning properties they wish to acquire, and permit districts to pledge revenues for payment of general obligation bonds.

The 1939 legislature passed an amendment that districts shall be taxed the same as private utilities. Dr. Raver objected to this, asking that districts merely be permitted to make "payments in lieu of taxes."

Dr. Raver also said the machinery for creating districts is too complicated, but Governor Sprague disagreed.

Answering Dr. Raver's recommendation that the entire law be rewritten to clarify it, the governor wrote:

"Remembering the difficulty in working out this legislation two years ago, I am loathe to approve of that recommendation. I do not believe the legislature has any stomach to go through another prolonged battle over utility district legislation."
