PRINCIPAL CLYDE BEARD IS GUEST SPEAKER AT JUNIOR WOMAN'S CLUB

Principal Clyde H. Beard, of Roseburg senior high school, guest speaker at the meeting of the Roseburg Junior Woman's club Monday evening, February 17, urged a return to the "simple way of living." In thought and action.

In an interesting talk on world conditions at this time Mr. Beard, through excerpts from various magazine articles, brought out the thought that the world is in its present condition due to love of luxury and woman's desire to protect her family. This was explained by the youth of the country being unfit for hard work and lack of discipline due to the woman's desire to ease the responsibility of her children in every-day life.

Since time has begun, Mr. Beard pointed out, the world has been straining between the balance of manly rule or feminine power. In time of masculine strength the world turns to war and in woman's ruling period the height of luxury is observed. This was shown in European countries where strength and power are being stressed now as compared to the United States where luxury and the power of money is considered more important than the "joy of honest, hard work."

Following Mr. Beard's talk a short business meeting was conducted with Mrs. Gordon Stewart presiding. Mrs. C. E. Smith acted as secretary pro tem in the absence of Mrs. Ralph Herman.

A social hour closed the meeting, the serving table being attractively arranged with a centerpiece of Japanese quince. Mrs. Fletcher Gardner and Mrs. James Henbest were in charge of arrangements for the evening.
