TICKET SALE OPENS FOR COMIC OPERA TO BE HELD MARCH 3

The ticket sale for the comic Gilbert and Sullivan opera, "Trial by Jury," opened Tuesday. The tickets are available at regular theater prices and may be obtained from members of the Kiwanis club, faculty members of the city schools, the east, Chapman's Drug store and the Indian theater.

This benefit affair to be presented March 3 at the Indian theater, is being sponsored for the swimming pool fund and promises to be one of the outstanding productions presented in Roseburg for some time.

Of particular interest in the opera is the jury. Although the jury was considered the bulwark of the English judicial system for many years, in the hands of Gilbert and Sullivan the jury's boast of being unbiased is an idle one. Long before the trial actually begins, the members of the jury appear to have made up their minds definitely about the respective merits of the case for plaintiff and defendant. When the juryman do a comic dance in the courtroom scene, the court spectators and the usher are completely horrified, much to the merriment of the theater audience.

The susceptibility of the juryman to the charm of the lovely young ladies in the bridal chorus, who flirt outrageously with them, also creates an amusing situation.

Members of the jury are Paul McGowan, Noble Goettel, Preston Lee, Carl Murphy, Dr. Harry Single, Fred Porter, Eldon Ogle, W. E. Buell, Norman Crites, Eli Hall, Tom Watson and Chaplain Anderson.
