Every state, county and city official or board that handles public money should publish at regular intervals an accounting of it, showing where and how each dollar is spent.

THERE is no sense in swooning into a great state of panic because of the rather high percentage of rejections in the draft calls.

That is not to say that "all's right with the world," or that the health of youth is all it should be. It isn't, and it never will be.

There are a great many rejections for failure to meet the rather high standards the military services have set.

Isn't it just possible that standards are higher now? Certainly the necessity for raising a huge army immediately is not as great.

The Vichy government in France is now adding poor physical health of Frenchmen to the many already-revealed causes of France's downfall.

French rejections for military service in 1934-35 were about 20 per cent. In the United States it is questionable whether, over the whole country, it will prove so high.

Further, the need for a great mass land army is not nearly as great here as in France, and there seems no doubt at all that by lowering standards only slightly a great many now being rejected could be passed, and still make excellent soldiers.

We have not as yet produced a race of men capable of passing 100 per cent the rather specialized requirements of the military. But it is not wise to jump from that to the conclusion that the national health is not sound.

All of which does not minimize in the slightest our job, which is to make it still better.

ships of all kinds carrying supplies to England. It will be waged with submarines, airplanes, surface raiders and whatever other weapons the axis may find useful.

Its purpose will be to prevent supplies from reaching the British. If it begins to succeed, our purpose will have to be to break it up.

OTHER ripples from the lease-lend bill: Yosuke Matsuoka, Japanese foreign minister, leaves for Berlin and Rome via Moscow for important talks with Hitler and Mussolini (and possibly Stalin en route.)

Berlin says the purpose of this visit is to plan counter actions to the lease-lend aid to be given Britain.

Gayda mutters darkly into his beard: "We're preparing many disagreeable surprises in the Pacific for England and the United States."

ASAHI, Japanese newspaper, says: "The lease-lend bill is a step nearer to war. The first step will be a trade of American destroyers for heavy capital British ships which the United States can send into Far Eastern waters against Japan to aid Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek more aggressively."

The Rome newspaper La Tribuna (government-controlled) says: Matsuoka's trip is the immediate answer to Washington's threatening move. Yesterday America spoke. Soon Japan will say her word.

Jap Rear Admiral Gumpel Sekine defines Japan's "co-prosperity sphere" in Asia as including India, Australia and the Philippines.

ALL this is TALK—intended to bluff us out of effective help to Britain. It won't be talk, however, that will drag us into war. It will be DEEDS. If the axis triplets want open war with us, they will go ahead with deeds. If not, they will merely talk. It is their move.

Transporting Of Pupils Unchanged

The action of the Wilbur and Winchester school districts in voting to dissolve the Wilbur union high school district will not necessarily mean that students will be transported to Roseburg next year.

Return Here—Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Carter returned of their home on Military street last night from a business trip to Portland.

Inquiries About North Umpqua Region Pouring In

Forestry Office is Besieged For Information Following Magazine Story by Winch

The office of the Umpqua National forest resembles a chamber of commerce headquarters as a result of numerous inquiries received for information on weather, hunting, fishing and other recreational resources, according to V. V. Harpham, forest supervisor.

The great flood of inquiries was the result of an article appearing recently in the service department of Adventure magazine, in which Frank Winch, now in California, but a great lover of the Umpqua river, who painted a fine picture of recreation, living conditions, etc., in the Umpqua valley.

A young lady in Torrance, Calif., wants to know, "is it advisable to bring my brother's gun with me in case wildcats, cougars or bears should run into me, or do they mind their own business?"

She is assured in the reply by Mr. Harpham that while there is plenty of big game in the national forest they "tend to their own business 100 per cent," and that no gun is necessary or is there any danger.

Inquirers particularly desire information upon the kinds of fishing available, the seasons on fishing, the species of fish to be caught, etc.

The forest service has prepared a circular letter to supply general information and at the same time is giving a personal information containing specific answers to all questions, and enclosing illustrated folders, maps, weather statistics, and other information which it is believed will be of interest to prospective visitors.
