

Editor to Address Camera Devotees

All persons interested in amateur photography are invited to attend the meeting of the Roseburg Camera club at the chamber of commerce office at 8 p. m. Wednesday, Frank Coen, president of the organization, reports. Harris Ellsworth, editor of the Roseburg News-Review, will speak on newspaper photography.

Of special interest, however, will be the discussion on the club's project for a permanent photographic display. Plans are being formed for the preparation of a photographic exhibit, depicting scenery, industry, agriculture and recreation in Douglas county. Field trips by club members have been outlined for the spring and summer months and are expected to furnish much pleasure to participants as well as providing material for the display.

Prior to making the excursions, the club desires to increase its membership to include all persons interested in photography and is inviting all those interested in this hobby to be present at Wednesday's meeting. Mr. Coen states.

hour at Grand Forks. Sudden gusts at times raised the gale as much as 15 miles an hour.

Biting cold rode with the wind which tumbled temperatures close to the zero mark. As the wind ceased the mercury continued to sink, dropping under zero generally.

MARQUETTE, Mich., March 17.—(AP)—Seven men and a woman, badly frozen after 23 hours in sub-zero gales on a broken ice floe, reached the Lake Superior shore in the Huron mountains this morning. Coast guards redoubled their search for an undetermined number of other fishermen still unaccounted for.

Ambulances were sent from L'Anse to carry to hospitals the eight who spent the night at the mercy of a biting northwest wind that reached 50-mile velocity. Upwards of 20 persons were reported to have been trapped on the ice which was driven into the lake Sunday during a sudden weakened and his authority shaken," the Athens radio declared, after the Greeks asserted they had wrecked his personally-directed Albanian offensive in a week of fighting which cost Italy 50,000 troops.

A Greek spokesman said last night that 120,000 fascist soldiers participated in the series of attacks which Greek forces in inferior numbers repulsed. Italian prisoners, he said, described the smashing of the Italian push as a "real massacre."

With German forces massed on the Bulgarian frontier facing Greece, a German-language broadcast from Belgrade yesterday asserted there would be an Italian-Greek armistice in two days, but the German informants said they doubted this.

Hitler Predicts Victory
Duce's axis partner, Adolf Hitler, had some reassuring words for the Italian leader in a Memorial day speech Sunday, asserting that Germany "from now" will bear the brunt of the fighting against Britain which Italy has borne all winter.

Hitler predicted "England will fall" in 1941 and said "no power and no support coming from any part of the world can change the outcome of this battle in any respect."

Even as he spoke, Belgrade, Yugoslavia, reported the landing in Greece of additional mechanized British forces. Diplomatic quarters in Belgrade said that apparent Nazi hesitation to attack Greece at once might be due to anxiety over Russia.

A military expert just arrived at Belgrade from a tour of the Balkans estimated tonight that 16 Nazi divisions—perhaps 240,000 men—now are massed on or within striking distance of Bulgaria's frontier with Greece.

Authoritative sources said today they had "no comment on an NBC report in New York that its Istanbul reporter, Martin Agronsky, sent a radio message last night that British forces were entering Turkey.

A reliable source said today Britain had warned Italy and Germany that RAF bombers would attack Rome if axis planes bombed Athens.

The warning was said to have been conveyed to Berlin and Rome through Vatican channels.

Nazis Deal Sea Blows
London had a quiet Sunday with only one alert but waves of German bombers struck at a town in western England (possibly Bristol), where the British said the raiders caused "a number of casualties" and "considerable damage."

In sea warfare, the British admiralty announced the submarine Snapper was overdue and must be considered lost.

The German high command reported its air force took another bite out of Britain's sea-borne commerce yesterday with the sinking of two armed merchantmen totalling 4,000 tons in the Atlantic west of Ireland, the probable destruction of a 5,000-ton armed merchantman and damage to two other freighters totalling 4,000 tons.

Informed Nazis in Berlin also reported German planes torpedoed two British battleships yesterday in the Mediterranean off the island of Crete, but the high command made no mention of this.

Liner Bremen Ablaze
DNE, German official news agency, reported that a still-blazing fire had broken out aboard the 49,864-ton liner Bremen, which made a dramatic dash across the Atlantic from New York early in the war. It did not give the ship's whereabouts.

There have been many contradictory accounts about the liner—some that she had been damaged or sunk, others that she was being used as a troop and supply ship between Germany and Norway.

The Germans said their air raiders last night concentrated attacks on Bristol, Avonmouth and harbor works at Portsmouth, Britain's south coast naval station.

Stefani, official Italian news agency, charged that British planes torpedoed and sank an Italian hospital ship in the harbor at Valona, Albania. It said Mussolini's daughter, Countess Edda Ciano, wife of the Italian foreign minister, was one of the last to leave the ship. She is a nurse.

The Spanish government ousted the Moroccan native nominal ruler of Tangier yesterday and turned over his palace to Germans as a consular office. The Nazi flag was to fly from the building today, the first time a German banner has flown in the seaport on the Strait of Gibraltar since the start of the world war.

Legislature Quits After Voting Tax on Cigaretts should be used for old age pensions, while the body of the bill says it should be used both for pensions and vocational education.

Bills Slaughtered
In the dying hours the legislators, with frayed nerves, killed several measures, including bills to equalize school taxes on a state-wide basis, to tax municipal power systems and to restrict utility districts, and to restrict sale of fortified wines to liquor stores.

The senate, on the whole, was orderly, but the house was boisterous and many members lost their tempers, causing Speaker Robert S. Farrell, Jr., to have trouble keeping order.

The 40-mill property tax limitation resolution, passed by the house, was buried in the senate assessment and taxation committee on the last day.

The house defeated 28 to 27 a bill to provide for promotion and advertising of agricultural products, while it approved and sent to the senate a resolution asking the state liquor commission to increase liquor prices as much as possible to provide more old age pension revenues.

The legislature and Governor Sprague were not very close on wine legislation. The governor in a message to a member of the senate opposed sale of wine over the bar.

Both houses approved a bill permitting the sale of fruit and berry wines over the bar. The governor also asked for restrictions of fortified wine sales to state stores. The legislature did not comply.

It's hard to Pick a Winner WHEN THEY'RE ALL GOOD

But You Can't Lose When It comes to Deciding on a 1941 Electric Refrigerator.

- THEY'RE ALL GOOD; they're all priced in proportion to manufacturing costs; and the only problem is to select one big enough for family needs.
- It's a fact that an 8 cubic-foot refrigerator costs about the same as the 6 cubic-foot of last year and what a lot of satisfaction in knowing there'll be plenty of room for that watermelon and that crate of berries you "picked up at such a bargain." (See your local electric dealer.)

NOW is the TIME To Buy Your Electric REFRIGERATOR

Roddy Says... "In 1941 Electric Refrigerators you'll find twice the value for half the cost."
