LILAC CIRCLE HAS ENJOYABLE MEETING ON MONDAY EVENING

Lilac circle, No. 49, Neighbors of Woodcraft, held a very important meeting Monday night with twenty-three members present. As is customary, this being advance night, the guardian neighbor elect, P. G. N., advisor, magician and attendant all gave their work.

The lodge decided to send the drill team to Cottage Grove for the district convention to be held in June. The correspondent elect, Nettie Hallcraft, resigned and Ruth Dishman was elected for the coming year.

Lilac circle will be hosts Saturday, April 5th, for a large pep meeting comprising District No. 12 and tentative plans were made for a six-thirty o'clock banquet and program for that date.

Guardian Neighbor Winnie Hawn appointed Neighbors Lillie Lohr and Laura Hounshell as joint chairmen for the refreshment committee, assisted by Lydia Hooper, Mary McCuan, Lydia Neal, Ruth Perrin, Cynthia Germond, Ruth Dishman, P. E. Beaver and Adrian Hulbert. The decorating committee appointed Edith Sullivan, Grace Owen and Martha Erskine. Iva Taylor, Mildred Krogel, Prudie Hildinger, Nettie Hallcraft and Ethel Beaver were appointed on the reception committee with Mary Myers and Augusta Moran in charge of the program.

Junior Woman's Club Has Annual Book Party Monday

The annual book party of the Roseburg Junior Woman's club was a delightful affair of Monday evening at the clubhouse with Mr. Jack Chapman and Miss Elaine Brown as general chairmen. Miss Brown and Mrs. Harold Hoyt had charge of the program with Mrs. William Unrath and Miss Eleanor Fies in charge of invitations; Mrs. J. E. Henbest, refreshment chairman and Mrs. Jack Chapman in charge of the decorations.

Those attending the party included Mrs. Harris Ellsworth, Mrs. Edward G. Kohlhaugen and Mrs. Frederick J. Porter. The club expressed special appreciation to the cast for presenting the delightful one-act comedy. The St. Patrick's motif was carried out in the decorations with large cork trees, barley stones and shamrocks used about the rooms. The serving table was centered with a bowl of narcissi and spirea, flanked by tall green tapers. The St. Patrick's motif was also carried out in the refreshments.

The members and guests attending the party dressed in costumes to represent book titles or characters in books. First prize was awarded to Frances Hutchinson, who portrayed Lillian Russell. Library tables were arranged about the rooms and old books displayed included Women's Exchange book, 1894; The World Almanac, 1899; Great Big Story Book for Children, 1897; Little Try Against Albin, 1889; Pilgrims Progress, 1840; Lady of the Lake, 1830; Ancient Chivalry, and the History of America, 1791, latter two books from the library of Florence Aiken Banks, and the oldest book on display was a German Prayer and Sermon book published in 1738 and donated for the party through the courtesy of Bernard Schaefer.

A collection was taken by the members to purchase a book for the Roseburg Public Library. Four books have previously been purchased for the library by the club. Book games were played and the prizes awarded, wrapped in green and white, were carried out the book motif. St. Patrick favors for the occasion were arranged by Mrs. Henbest. The evening's program included music by The Swingsters, played by Royal Denton, Jack Rickli, Donald Hall, Donald Frear, Bob Larson and Lowell Rhoden; Roseburg Woman's club play, "Afternoon Tea" presented by Miss

American Legion Auxiliary Activities

By MRS. CLAUDE BAKER

One of the most enjoyable Legion birthday parties ever to be held here was feature of the week for the auxiliary who always try to "give their... full measure of devotion" to their Legion on this occasion. Following short analysis of the year's "job" by Commander James Young and myself a clever program held the attention of the many guests. We began the evening with chairs around the room but the boys were kept thankfully busy bringing in every available chair to seat the friends. Many were from out of town. It is a pleasure to great and meet these whom we see so seldom. The American's creed formed the basis of the inspiring discussion by F. L. Crittenden. When a worthwhile "talk" is needed by us or, we note, the town at large, we call on "Crit," who generously responds with thoughts to cogitate over.

The entire program is not at hand (publicity chairman, Mrs. Walter Fisher is having something to do with the opening of spring or is it spring opening, anyhow the gala events of the next two days, I am just a poor filler in). Fact, right now I feel Wednesday morning we met with Mrs. Horsfall to "polite" a bit. During luncheon, who should walk into the Umpqua but Niel Allen, commander of the department last year with Mrs. Horsfall as his running mate. Then when we felt overwhelmed with dignitaries, the lovely State Woman's club president, Mrs. Harold D. Petersen of Dallas walked in. How I envy those folks who may sit on the sidelines, sort of, and see the great and near great pass, as they can in a hotel. No time to even philosophize, so if this isn't thrown out entirely I better rush it down. Have you, or you, gone to be typed for possible blood donor? If not get busy. It will help you, too. Did you see Dr. Edwards' Daily Devotion of this week? If not get out your papers and read them all till you find the one I mean. Did you know the Legion auxiliary bands itself together "for God and country... to uphold and defend the Constitution of the United States of America... to promote peace and goodwill on earth... to safeguard and transmit to posterity the principles of justice, freedom and democracy... and to consecrate and sanctify our association by our devotion to mutual helpfulness.

The party was under the auspices of the Fine Arts department of the club.

MISS JEAN CLOAKE ENTERTAINS AT PARTY FOR HOUSE GUEST

Miss Jean Cloake entertained a group of friends at her home this week to compliment her house guest, Miss Margot DeLa Mater, of Chiquescamata, Chile. Margot and Jean are students at Oregon State college and having been spending the spring vacation week at the home of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elvin G. Cloake.

Games were enjoyed during the afternoon and lovely refreshments were served by Mrs. Cloake, assisted by Mrs. Bert Kruse. Beautiful bouquets of spring flowers were used about the rooms.

Those attending the party honoring Miss DeLaMater included Miss Jean Ritchie, Miss Annabelle and Miss Clarabelle Berg, Miss Vera and Miss Vivian Dommenio, Miss Alice Myers, Miss Ruth and Miss Ruby Matthews, Miss Dorothy Bailey, of Norwalk, Calif., Mrs. Bert Kruse, Miss Joan Kruse, Miss Ella Mae Cloake, Mrs. Elvin G. Cloake and the hostess, Miss Jean Cloake.

like the little boy in the story told by Nels Christensen, Red Cross speaker at the dinner the other night. The parents and son were much chagrined because the child had no nickname in the school to which he was sent. One day he came home elated to proclaim: "Oh, mother, I have a nickname!" "Why, son, how grand, can it be?" "Sanka?" "Sanka?" his mother said. "Yes," said her son, showing her the Sanka can. "Sanka, like that... see?" Whereupon she read the label, stating "97% of the energizing force removed from the bean." "I'm no good at stories as you can see but it only proves my point that I'm like the little boy right now. One hour to get this article in and not a thought in my 'bean'."

Anyhow the entire program was one of beauty, for there were dances and music and pretty lassies and "Crit." That that the way I'm supposed to mean it, do. Wanda Althaus gave an nostalgic sort of war melody which reminded one a bit poignantly of the by-gone days when Legionnaires were soldier boys.

Registration was held Saturday with Mrs. Roy Young and Mrs. Victor Miesell joint chairmen. Anyone may register for this service. A tabulation will be made and sent to city officials for possible emergency help. Information may be obtained from either woman.

Mrs. William Horsfall's visit was a highlight of the week. Guest at various functions, speaker with a dynamic message on our radio program, with a forceful presentation of the national defense problem as it affects us, Tuesday night. Music at this meeting was the inspiring "I Am An American," sung so tellingly by Mrs. Hugh Whipple and accompanied by Music Chairman Mrs. Clyde Carstens. Miss Marie Milan and Bonnie Anderson were present to honor Mrs. Horsfall further with a beautiful violin solo and accompaniment. Many thank you's to these friends who so willingly make our programs more lovely.

Out-of-town guests were also present for this meeting. Drain unit with its president, Mrs. Marquette LaGrander, and Reedsport with Mrs. Lystra and her group Elktion and most members from Drain and Reedsport attended, too. From Los Angeles came friends who we are glad to greet, Mr. and Mrs. Golday. Salem post was represented, also. No time to give even a thought on her talk. Nels Christensen, Red Cross representative, was also a guest speaker.
