

News of 4-H CLUBS

The Roseburg Kiwanis club will take its program to Sutherlin this evening at eight o'clock. The program will be presented in the community hall there for the Sutherlin Community grange.

Tuesday evening of next week the Kiwanians will take their program to Lookingglass. These programs are all presented for the purpose of raising funds for 4-H club scholarships to summer school.

Wednesday evening of this week County Club Agent E. A. Britton will show the Douglas county motion pictures and also the picture, "Plows, Planes and Peace" at Camas Valley.

Thursday evening of this week the "Coca Cola" entertainers will present their program in the auditorium of the Oakland school. In addition to the Coca Cola program, the Oakland school will present several good numbers. This program will be for the purpose of raising funds to provide 4-H club scholarships to summer school.

The Coca Colas will take their program to Tenmile next week.

The Douglas County 4-H Club Local Leaders association will hold its regular monthly meeting for April Monday evening, April 7, at the Edenbower school. The leaders will complete plans for the Marketing day program to be held in Roseburg Saturday, April 12. They will also discuss plans for the 4-H Spring fair programs.

The "Dust Chasers" held their fourth meeting Tuesday evening of last week at the home of their leader, Mrs. J. M. Bartley. The roll call was answered by each describing some wild animal and giving its geographical range. We will have to have an extra meeting to meet our quota of ten. Mrs. Bartley suggested a hike some sunny Saturday or Sunday afternoon. This was enthusiastically received by all members. Cocoa and delicious cookies were served by Mrs. Bartley.

Both Meissner and Doll Harbour made fruit salad Wednesday afternoon in Cooking Two after the regular meeting. It was served to the members of Cooking Two and Three.

The members of Cooking One had their regular meeting on Wednesday. Maggie Paulson and Geraldine Hayes made hamburger sandwiches afterwards.

After the regular meeting of Cooking Three was held, fruit tapoca was prepared by Vivian Watts and Hazel McNeil. It was made with home-canned blackberries.

Both Sewing Three and Four held their regular meetings Wednesday. Mrs. Place helped the members with their work.

There were two visitors at the meeting of the "Cricket Sewing club" Friday, held at the home of Mrs. Cecil Harris. The members made plans for a picnic to be held at the next gathering. Wanda Lehnebr and Elaine Strausbaugh will furnish refreshments. Jello and cake were served to the group by Zolamae Raynor and Mirgie Harris.

Jello and cake were also served at the meeting of the Home-making club at the home of their local leader. These were furnished by Marcelene Moore and Patricia Calkins. The roll call was answered by each telling how much was yet to be done on her dresser scarf. All but one member were well started. A club picnic in cooperation with the other clubs of the school was discussed after the adjournment.

Most of the time during the meeting of the Bachelor Sewing club was spent in sewing on buttons for exhibit and in filling out cards and record books. Each member brought his camp apoon and knife sheath. Nearly everyone has completed his project. Cookies were served by the leader after the close of the meeting.

No Marketing club was organized in the school, but Patricia Calkins has taken this as an individual. She has turned in her essay.

Dean Bartlett was elected as song and yell leader at the meeting of the Safety club Wednesday. Four plays on safety were given by members of the club under the supervision of Mrs. M. F. Miller, the local leader.

No meeting was held in either the Woodworking or Arts and Crafts club, but work was carried on throughout the past week.

Funeral Services Held for Former Riddle Resident

Fire Destroys Residence in Miller's Addition

A two-story frame residence located in Miller's addition, south of Roseburg, and owned by Charles Beckman, was totally destroyed by fire discovered shortly before noon today. As the structure was outside the city limits, the city's equipment could not be taken to the scene of the blaze, but a number of the volunteer firemen responded and took charge of the task of saving adjoining structures. A very severe rain and hail storm occurred during the height of the blaze, however, and eliminated danger to nearby buildings.

Teachers Elected by Riddle School Board

RIDDLE, April 1.—The present teaching staff of the Riddle school, both grades and high school, have been reelected to their positions and all have accepted the positions. The staff is: Prof. Horace Lundberg, principal, Gordon Frazee, coach, and high school assistant, Edna Davis, domestic science and assistant; Prof. Leland Harter, 7th and 8th grades; Bertha Blundell, 4th, 5th and 6th grades; Waneta Wallace, primary.

Attend Celebration—Dr. and Mrs. George E. Houck, of this city, spent Sunday in Medford attending the reception of Dr. C. T. Sweeney, who celebrated his fiftieth year of practice on that date. Mrs. Fred Strang, former Roseburg vocal instructor now residing in Medford, sang on the program and was accompanied by her daughter, Mary Lou. Seven hundred attended the reception.

Sprague Vetoes Judge Retirement Bill, Two Others

SALEM, April 1.—(AP)—Governor Sprague yesterday vetoed three bills which would have permitted court appeals from decisions of the state liquor control commission, given supreme and circuit court judges retirement on pensions, and preserved the employment status of public employees called into military service.

The governor said he vetoed house bill 393, the liquor appeal bill, because it would hamper enforcement of the liquor laws by court delays.

Governor Sprague explained that he could not approve house bill 339, the judges' retirement bill, because he opposes granting pensions to only part of the state employees. He pointed out that the legislature did not adopt his proposal for a pension plan to cover all public employees.

In vetoing senate bill 3, preserving the status of public employees called into military service, the governor wrote that it "makes no allowance for the expiration of term of an elected officer or appointed official during the interval of his absence."

He already has approved a similar bill, senate bill 173, which covers the same ground and makes allowances for such expiration of terms.

Governor Sprague signed into law yesterday a bill to create a new judicial district including Linn and Benton counties, and he signed another measure to give Marion county a district by itself.

Marion and Linn now are in a joint district, while Benton now is in a joint district with Coos, Curry, Douglas, Lane and Lincoln counties.

The governor also signed the bill to create a $25,000 forest products laboratory at Corvallis.
