Coquille Man Has Hard Time Getting Into Draft Army

COQUILLE, April 3.—(AP)—Bill Pook, 26, said he felt like "in-again-out-again-Finnegan" as he reached home yesterday to report to his draft board.

The case history of Bill and his efforts to get into the army include:

As a meter and appliance man he applied for enlistment in the signal corps and was notified he might be called momentarily.

No call came so he checked with his draft board and was told he probably would be conscripted April 7.

On March 22 he and his mother started a two-week vacation trip to California. They hadn't much more than left than Bill's father received a notification that Bill was to report for duty immediately. Several men had been rejected and Bill's number was up.

Bill's dad burned the telephone wires for 24 hours before he located his son at Yosemite.

Bill cut short the vacation and started home.

A couple of hours later Bill's dad learned from the draft board that volunteers had again delayed the date of Bill's probable induction. Bill's father failed to intercept his son with another flood of telegrams.

Bill arrived home yesterday to learn that he could have kept on vacationing.

But it turned out just as well, about that time the draft board sent another communication that

DAILY DEVOTIONS

DR. CHAS. A. EDWARDS

Some people have no eye for the light. Light came but they did not recognize (John 1:10). Are they born blind or has blindness come upon them because of their habits of thoughts and life? When men see no difference between light and darkness, they have not only come upon tragedy for themselves, they are likewise a menace to others and to the social order. Many hate the light. They are in bitter opposition to it, loving darkness rather than light. It is a rebuke to them, causing them endless discomfort. Iago says to Cassio, "He hath a daily beauty in his life that makes me ugly." The cynic—the doglike—sneers at all nobleness of feeling, all generosity of motive, all pure and lofty purpose. Bad men wish to destroy that which reveals their own malignity, evil purpose and corrupt practice. Some welcome the light. Anyone whose life is true comes out into the light to make it plain that his actions have been divinely prompted. They wish to live in the presence of high and exacting standards of intellect, character and behavior. Believe in the light, walk in the light, that you may be the sons of light. Amen.

some of the volunteers didn't pass examination and Bill probably will be inducted into the service April 7, after all.

That's only four days away, but Bill is still skeptical.

Declamatory Contest to Be Held at Canyonville

CANYONVILLE, Ore., April 5.—(AP)—A silver medal declamatory contest, under sponsorship of the W. C. T. U., will be held at the Canyonville Bible academy at 2:30 p. m. Sunday, April 6.

Two teams from the academy will participate and there will be several out-of-state speakers. The program will be open to the public free of charge, but a silver offering will be taken to finance cost of the medals.

Bill cut short the vacation and started home.

But it turned out just as well, about that time the draft board sent another communication that
