POET'S CORNER

EASTER LILIES

By MALINDA ODERKIRK

Easter lilies, clothed in beauty,
Much too rare,
At this special time they greet us
Everywhere.
On the altars, we behold them
Pure and fair,
White, like fragile, misty snow
In sun-cleared air.

We remember that He told us,
Long ago,
Of the lilies, how they toil not
Neither sow;
How He taught us on Him only
To rely,
And receive our greatest blessings
From on High.

Easter lilies, pure and white,
Emblems of eternal light.

KINDLY LIGHT

By WANDA ALTHAUS

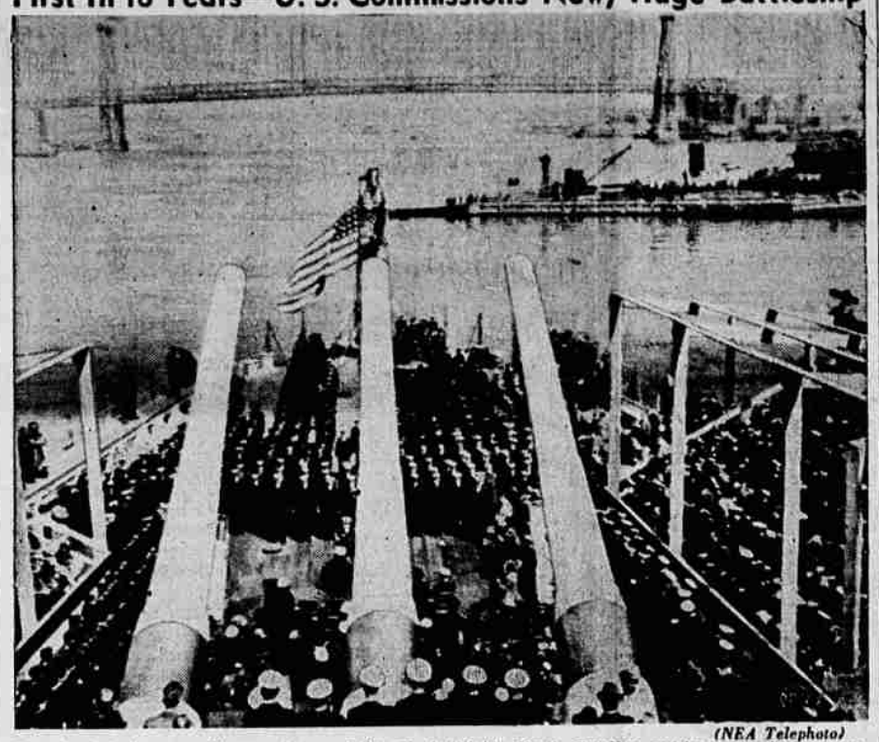
Fragrance of white lilies
In the message of Easter bloom;
Our Divine Saviour has risen
From the darkness of the tomb.

Memories sweet and sacred
The story old and new
Down the ages across wan moons
The story real and true.

"Lo I am with you always"
Our light on the other shore;
A promise ever faithful
To lead us, through the dark door.

For ever, our blessed assurance
As down the valley we go, one by one
Confident, fearless and hopeful
To the setting of the sun.

First In 18 Years—U. S. Commissions New, Huge Battleship



(NEA Telephoto)

Beneath 16-inch guns, officers and men of the new battleship North Carolina watch commissioning exercises at Brooklyn Navy Yard. Commissioning of the huge 35,000-ton battleship—first to be built in America in 18 years—places the U. S. Navy on a par in battleships with the British and ahead of the known strength of any other battle fleet. Williamsburg Bridge in background.

WOMEN OF ROSEBURG TO BE GIVEN OPPORTUNITY OF HOME NURSING COURSE

The American Red Cross has made it possible to conduct a home nursing course in this city, which will begin just as soon as the registration is complete. Only 24 women will be in the class, which will be a twenty-four hour study course to be completed in twelve two-hour classes. The class will probably meet on Wednesday afternoons from two to four o'clock in the Red Cross offices above the Roseburg branch of the U. S. National bank.

Similar classes were taught women during the world war and a number of local women received certificates for the study of home nursing at that time.

In case of war, nurses and doctors are scarce and it is up to the women in the home to know what to do for various types of illness, infections and injuries. With this though in mind, the Red Cross has mapped out a very interesting and valuable course in home nursing.

The local Red Cross department has expressed its appreciation in securing the very capable services of Mrs. Grant H. Moore, who has had considerable experience in teaching home nursing, while in St. Louis, Mo. Registrations for this class may be made by telephoning either Mrs. Thomas H. Ness at 418-J or Mrs. Ivan Pickens at 727-J.

The twenty-four women who complete this study course satisfactorily will be given certificates of award.
