Construction Expert Engaged by Local Firm

Lyle F. Glenn, until recently a resident of Medford, has accepted employment with the Denn-Gerretsen company in Roseburg and will have charge of plans and architectural service and handle FHA applications. W. H. Gerretsen, manager, reports, Mr. Glenn has for the past few years been in charge of plans and construction work, including cost accounting, for the Medford school district, and also has had considerable experience in residence construction work with the Porter Lumber company at Medford.

The Denn-Gerretsen company, local material dealers, is anticipating a great deal of new residential construction during the year, as much interest is being shown in the FHA plan of financing, Mr. Gerretsen reports.

Roseburg FFA Pair Wins Places at Meeting

Two third places were won by Roseburg entrants in competition at events in connection with the convention of Future Farmers of America at Corvallis last week. Don Hurley of Roseburg placed third in the hog-calling contest, and Walter Durech of Roseburg was third in the tractor driving contest. Don Hurley also was second among individual competitors in the dairy judging contest.

Obtains Position—Miss Eleanor Eastling, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Eastling of this city, has received a civil service appointment as junior clerk-stenographer in the office of the Bonneville Power administration in Portland and is leaving for Portland tomorrow to begin her duties there May 1. For the last three years, Miss Eastling has been secretary to City Superintendent W. M. Campbell.
