

Public Bidden To Library Luncheon

A cordial invitation to the general public to attend the luncheon on the district library program in Roseburg next Thursday, May 8, is extended by those in charge of arrangements. Those who accept are also urged to remain for the immediately following book program, in which several of the state's leading library workers will participate. The luncheon, to be held at the Umpqua hotel and starting at 12:15 p. m., carries a plate charge of 50 cents, and reservations not later than Wednesday are necessary to assure ample accommodations and service. Such reservations may be made with the city librarian, Mrs. Hilda Reizenstein, at the Roseburg public library; with Mrs. G. V. Wimberly (phone 566-J) or with Mrs. C. E. Roberts (phone 30-J), the two later being members of the city library board.

News of 4-H CLUBS

Days Creek 4-H News.

(By Margie Wright)
The Days Creek Woodcrafters and their local leader, Chas. MacKenzie, held a discussion of the details for the spring fair at the local school Friday of last week. All members of the club are to have their parts of the exhibit complete by Monday. The rest of the week will be spent in the final work for the exhibit. Members who will bring parts of the exhibit are Norval Ferguson, tables, benches and registration house; Maxine and Margie Wright, garbage can and tent; Jim Ward and Marshall Matthews, rest rooms and fireplace. The rest of the things will be gathered at school. The exhibit is to be a model camp ground. The Ringneck Pheasant club members of the community received word from Mr. Britton, county club agent, that John McKean of the Corvallis game farm would bring 2500 pheasant eggs to Douglas county pheasant club members Sunday. The eggs are a lot earlier than usual, but it will be an advantage for the members.

The Days Creek Foresters and their local leader, C. C. Hill, state representative, held a meeting on the forestry plot Sunday, for the purpose of discussing their exhibit for the spring fair at Canyonville, May 8. It was decided to have a flowering shrub, mineral exhibit and a contour map. This meeting was held around the camp fire at dinner time. The field trip's purpose was to plot the trail farther over to the plot and to explore the plot to a further extent. Some leveling was also done. While exploring the plot a lake was discovered in the northeast corner. Members going on this trip were Noel Welch, Maurice Matthews, Lester Ferguson, Josephine Wright and C. C. Hill. Margie Wright was a visitor on this trip.

The meeting of the Spring Blossom club, under the leadership of Mrs. John Ferguson, was postponed until next week. Since there was not a sewing club at Days Creek, Josephine and Maxine Wright took the work individually and are planning to exhibit at the spring fair. Josephine took division V, while Maxine carried division III.

Glendale 4-H News

(By Joan Carpenter)
Friday evening at 7:30 all the 4-H club members of both sewing and cooking clubs and some friends attended a wiener roast at the home of Mrs. Pirley Winkleman. Games were played around a large bonfire before refreshments were served. Then games were played indoors until about 11. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Winkleman, Bob and Dorothy Winkleman, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Bates, Helen Monte and Tommy Bates, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Place, Jean and Faye Place, Clara Winkleman, Hazel McNeil, Joyce Bussell, Ray Wooley, Art Frost, Creston McNeil, Zelta Wooley, Margaret Gutierrez, Vivian and LaNelda Watts, Bernadean Sparks, Betty McPherran, Georgetta McPherran, Betty Lou Weseman, Beth Meissner, Jimmy Bruce and Joan Carpenter.

The 4-H sewing groups held their regular meeting on Wednesday of last week. Definite plans about transportation were made and report cards and books were checked over.

No regular meeting was held by cooking groups two or three, but books and cards were checked over and final arrangements were made on the transportation to the fair at Canyonville, May 8. Fruit tapoca was made by Hazel

Edenbower 4-H News.

(By Patricia Calkins)
On Friday the Homemaking club members gathered at the home of Mrs. Hess, the leader. No business meeting was held, the entire time being taken up with work on record books. These are nearly completed.

Ten members were present at the meeting of the Bachelor Sewing club on Friday. A short business meeting was followed by work on stories for the record books. All work, cards, and record books are now completed and in order.

Work in the Arts and Crafts and Woodworking clubs has been completed also. The members have written stories and only a few record books remain to be filled out. All work in the first year clothing club has been finished for some time. The members met on Friday to do final work on record books and cards. The leader, Mrs. Harris, had promised the girls a picnic, but since the weather would not permit this, a moving picture show was enjoyed by the group Friday evening.

Elgarose 4-H News.

The Woodworking club at Elgarose, meeting every Wednesday, has decided to use every spare moment to work on their articles so they will get done in scheduled time. They are making such articles as stools, broom holders, tie racks and waste paper baskets.

Reedsport 4-H News.

(By Donna A. Bernhardt)
The 4-H spring fair was held on May 2. We are proud to say that we had 50 exhibits from the Reedsport school. These were placed on the bleachers at the high school. There were also some exhibits from Smith River and Loon Lake. The program for the evening was as follows: Oregon state song, led by Jean St. Onge and Janet Walker; 4-H pledge and creed, led by Robert Warren; demonstration, "How to Make the Potholder," by Phyllis Wright and Beverly Beardsly; demonstration, "How to Ride a Bus," by the Smith River girls; demonstration, "How to Make Bran Muffins," by Nancy Dawson and Georgia Smith; song and yell by Jean St. Onge and Janet Walker, skit, Smith River girls; song, Wm. Campbell of Loon Lake, "Prairie Moon"; presentation of pins to marketing class, by E. A. Britton, county club agent; talk, by H. C. Seymour, state club leader. We were happy to have Mr. Seymour with us. His coming was a surprise to us; the final event of the program was the dress revue, in which 27 girls took part.

Everyone who had their record books completed and all the exhibits finished got prizes. The first class, a blue ribbon, brought 40 cents; the second class, a red ribbon, brought 30 cents; and the third class, a white ribbon, brought 20 cents.
