Zamzam Sunk by Nazis, Announcement of Berlin

20 ambulances from New York to Alexandria for service with the British and "free French" forces in Africa. In all, 138 Americans were aboard.

Germans quoted the American and British press in which the sinking of the ship was called an instance of nazi barbarism or the beginning of unrestricted sea warfare.

"The facts show that it was anything but the kind, indeed it was an instance of the most humane and legal destruction of a vessel which was bringing most valuable supplies to the enemy," a spokesman said.

The Germans did not say where in occupied territory the crew and passengers were taken. Nor would the say where the sinking occurred.

Not Submarine Job
To a question whether the Zamzam was destroyed by U-boat the spokesman said "It is hardly to be assumed that a submarine could take hundreds of survivors aboard."

It was understood here that war materials aboard were intended for General Charles de Gaulle's "free French" forces.

probably in some colony. "The excited comment in Anglo-Saxon lands (over the Zamzam) is a fine example of irresponsible war agitation without regard to facts," one source said.

WASHINGTON, May 20.—(AP)—The United States asked for full details from the German government today about 138 Americans reported at Berlin to have been saved from the Egyptian liner Zamzam. The state department, lacking official information about the sinking of the ship and the German announcement that all passengers and crewmen were saved, cabled the American embassy in Berlin to obtain the information. The American government's chief interest in the case now was in the welfare and return of the American nationals.

THE RECORD... Facts That Concern You No. 29 of a Series

It's always the SORE thumb that sticks out...

Odd, isn't it—the way everybody notices the sore thumb?

It's the same way with the retailing of beer. Everybody knows about the one undesirable place...everybody seems to forget about the thousands of worth-while retailers who operate clean, decent, law-abiding establishments.

To protect the good name of beer, we of the beer industry want the few... but noticeable... "black sheep" retailers eliminated.

That's not all. Such retailers endanger an industry that brings important economic benefits to the community. Right here in Oregon beer provides employment for 13,238 persons, supports an annual payroll of $11,541,550 and contributed $617,020.86 last year in state taxes.

This state, too, has an important stake in the beer industry's purchases—for materials, equipment, and services—from more than 100 other industries.

You can help us protect these benefits in two ways—by (1) patronizing only the law-abiding places where beer is sold and (2) by reporting any irregularities you may observe to the duly constituted authorities.

BEER...a beverage of moderation
