DAILY DEVOTIONS DR. CHAS. A. EDWARDS

Someone has said that there are five great powers which always have governed human society: Eloquence, learning wealth, rank and arms. These powers were arrayed agains Christianity at the beginning of its history, yet the close of the first century saw this faith well established in the Roman Empire. How was this done? First, the early Christians had implicit faith In the Living Christ. He did not remain in tomb. They knew, for they had seen and conversed with Him after His resurrection, and He said, I am He that liveth and was dead. Second thou believed in dead. Second, they believed in the Holy Spirit. He had been promised by Jesus, and the day of Pentecost fulfilled that promise. His presence brought power. Third, they possessed the mind which was also in the mind which was also in Christ Jesus, and manifester it toward mankind, viz. kind ness, goodwill and truth. Evi days are upon us. Have we been depending upon worldly powers? Have we forgotter those sources of power that made the church a conquering force in the first century. The Living Christ, the Holy Spirit. Amen.
