THE drive for funds by the United Service Organizations, on full force in Roseburg and Douglas county this week is a part of the greatest nationwide effort of its kind in our history.

"We owe something to these men, and above all else we owe them the duty of seeing that the surroundings in which they undergo training... shall be such that they will come out of this difficult which lies ahead... better equipped to discharge their duties as American citizens."

FROM Ankara, Turkey's capital, comes reports day after day telling of German "tourists" pouring into Syria—the same reports that have come from every country Germany has invaded.

General Marshall, commander in chief of the army, has been deeply concerned with this problem and has twice broadcast to the nation. He has stated recently, "If you could see my daily mail... from women all over the country who have boys in this army, you would realize how vastly important it is that we do something and do it quickly."

It is proposed that buildings will be erected by government funds in communities most frequented by men from adjacent camps. These will be leased to the United Service Organizations, under whose direction the six participating agencies will cooperate in supplying personnel and program.

To finance the personnel and program which this involves, a nation-wide campaign is being undertaken beginning June 3 for $10,765,000.

ing as honorary chairmen in their respective states. Oregon's quota is $86,000.

The Douglas county quota of this total amount is $1200. We can, and we will, raise this sum quickly—and will be ready to do more when and if we are called upon.

BEYOND the seas, the lull continues today while Hitler seeks to force the French to fight the British.

A French diplomatic source in Zurich (Switzerland) is quoted as saying that Weygand can't guarantee the attitude of his men in north Africa if they are called upon to fight the pro-British free French forces of General de Gaulle.

THE Zurich dispatch is carried by the Exchange Telegraph, a British news agency. So it may represent wishful thinking.

FROM Ankara, Turkey's capital, comes reports day after day telling of German "tourists" pouring into Syria—the same reports that have come from every country Germany has invaded.

If you are observant, you will have noted that in the past two or three days there are persistent reports of ITALIAN air attacks on Malta and Gibraltar and Italian activities at Tobruk, in Libya.

Red Cross Nurses Slighted, Complaint at Meeting

PORTLAND, June 10.—(AP)—The nation's Red Cross nurses have been slighted, Oregon nurses decided here yesterday.

Nurses were told by Gladys Badger, director of nursing service for the Pacific branch of the Red Cross, that Oregon must enroll at least 140 nurses to meet army needs.

State health officers, also in session, were told by Samuel Martin, attorney, that a new state law requires them to care for psychiatric cases which police handled formerly.

Ex-Navy Yeoman Traps 2 Japanese In Spy Activity

LOS ANGELES, June 10.—(AP)—Al D. Blake, 50-year-old former yeoman in the U. S. navy, is charged with two Japanese with conspiracy in an asserted espionage plot against the United States but a federal official called him a hero today.

Blake, said an investigator in the U. S. district attorney's office, obtained "first hand, on-the-ground" information which led to the arrests.

U. S. Attorney Palmer filed charges of "conspiracy to obtain national defense information to be used for the injury of the United States and to the advantage of a foreign power" against Blake and:

Toru Kono, 39, a lieutenant commander in the imperial Japanese navy, registered as a language student at University of Southern California.

Torichi Kono, 36, for many years major-domo in the home of Charles Chaplin, screen comedian, and known as the most prominent Japanese in Hollywood.

Blake made two trips to Hawaii at expense of the Japanese to obtain information concerning the Pacific fleet in Hawaiian waters.

Blake told naval intelligence officials, who instructed him to work with the Japanese. For several months Blake did, so ably that he was not suspected of being engaged in counter-espionage.

DAILY DEVOTIONS DR. CHAS. A. EDWARDS

Visions sometimes flash with a compelling vividness upon the individual. At times they break forth in the very day itself, as with St. Paul. At other periods they may be the slow creation of years of spiritual striving, until one sees, as it were with effort, some high and holy aspiration becoming the goal of all life.

"Work or Fight," Order Issued By U. S. Draft Chief

WASHINGTON, June 9.—(AP)—Workers judged by the government to be "impeding" the national defense program were virtually ordered today to "work or fight."

Brig. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, deputy selective service director, telegraphed all state directors to reclassify draft registrants "who have ceased to perform the jobs for which they were deferred."

In a related action today, the house voted tentatively to prevent payment of any part of a $10,000,000,000 appropriation to any worker or employer who refused "for as long as 10 days" to abide by recommendations of the national defense mediation board.

The amendment offered by Rep. Pace (D-Ga.) was adopted 172 to 31 on a standing vote.

Previously, the house had adopted tentatively another amendment to the same appropriation which would have denied employment to any person in the defense program who seeks forcibly to prevent return of workers in a plant after the national defense mediation board has asked the men to return to their jobs.

SERIAL STORY DOLLARS TO DOUGHNUTS BY EDITH ELLINGTON

YESTERDAY: Bee is furious when she learns the merchandise manager has stolen Anthony's idea. Refusing to listen to Anthony's protest, she leads the way to Mr. Fletcher's office, rakes in, demands an explanation. Fletcher is cold. "The idea was good so the store adopted it. There's nothing more to it. Perhaps you'd like to talk to the general superintendent." Bee snarls: "We will. Now. In this office."

WEEMING STEPS IN CHAPTER XXVIII "WHAT are you going to do, Bee?" Anthony asked oddly, reaching for the telephone. "You can't call Sheldrake! He wouldn't come!"

"Oh, yes, he will! Take your hand off the phone." "But Bee, wait a minute—" "What's the matter with you?" Anthony said evenly, "I'd rather you wouldn't."

"I bet you'd rather!" Mr. Fletcher sneered. "Let her go ahead. Let her call him. Do you think she'd even get to talk to him? His secretary's not that dumb."

Beatrice whirled on him. Suddenly all the arrogance of the days before she became Bee Davis was in her small face, in the lines of her body, in the way her voice cut levelly through the stillness.

"What's the meaning of this rumpus, Fletcher?" he demanded peremptorily. "Have you lost your mind? Can't you handle anything by yourself? Must I be annoyed for every blasted trifle?"

"What connections? What are you getting at? Do you mean you know his son or something like that at school and now you're ashamed for him to find out you've been working here as section manager?"

"You mean you met him in the office of the old man who helped you through school? Your guardian?" "Yes."

"Reflect on your guardian? Are you out of your mind?" She thought she understood, a moment later. She asked slowly, "Does your guardian do business with this store? Is that it? You're afraid a quarrel with Sheldrake might result in lost sales?"
