

Roseburg Listed In Proposal For Feeder Air Route

The West Coast Airlines, Inc., of Seattle, has filed an application with the civil aeronautics board at Washington, D. C., for permission to operate a system of feeder airline routes in Washington, Oregon and California, according to word received by the Roseburg chamber of commerce today from the airlines company.

The system will include Roseburg, according to the plan proposed. The company proposes transportation of mail and express by means of the air pick-up method to and from terminals and serving routes between the terminals of major airlines. Passenger service would be provided later when suitable flying equipment has been developed, the company reports.

The company proposes seven routes, the first to cover Washington points between Bellingham and Seattle and the second from Portland to Seattle. Route three would include the territory from Portland to Roseburg with a dog leg to Marshfield. The remaining routes would be in California extending as far south as Santa Maria and Bakersfield.

SUMMONS

In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon for Douglas County. Jack Chapman and Mildred Chapman, husband and wife, Plaintiffs, vs. Nina Belt, a widow; Walter K. Belt, a widow; Wave L. Belt, his wife; William E. Belt and Mabel Belt, his wife; Mary Dimmick and R. E. Dimmick, her husband; Robert M. Belt and Dorothy Belt, his wife; and Walter K. Belt as Administrator of the estate of Walter C. Belt, deceased; Also All Other Persons or Parties Unknown claiming any right, title, estate, lien or interest in the real estate described in the Complaint herein; Defendants.

To: William E. Belt, Mabel Belt, Robert M. Belt and Dorothy Belt, and Also All Other Persons or Parties Unknown claiming any right, title, estate, lien or interest in the real estate described in the Complaint herein; Defendants.

In the Name of the State of Oregon: You and each of you are hereby required to appear and answer the complaint of plaintiffs filed against you in the above entitled court and cause on or before the expiration of four weeks from the date of the first publication of this summons, and if you fail to so appear and answer said complaint, the plaintiffs for want thereof will apply to the court for the relief demanded in said complaint, a succinct statement of which is as follows, to-wit:

For a decree that the plaintiffs are the owners in fee simple and entitled to the possession of the following described real property situated in the City of Roseburg, Douglas County, Oregon, to-wit:

Lot one (1) in Block "D," Laurelwood Addition to the City of Roseburg, Douglas County, Oregon as the same appears on the official plat of said Laurelwood Addition of record and on file in the office of the County Clerk of Douglas County, Oregon, save and excepting therefrom the North eighty (80) feet of said Lot one (1); and that the defendants and each and everyone thereof, and all persons claiming by, through or under them be forever enjoined from asserting or claiming any right, title, interest, claim, lien upon or equity in and to the above described premises; and that plaintiffs' title thereto be forever quieted.

This summons is served upon you by publication thereof for a period of four successive weeks in the Roseburg News-Review, a newspaper of general circulation published and issued at Roseburg, Douglas County, Oregon, by order of the Hon. Carl E. Wintberger, Judge of the above entitled court, which said order was made and dated the 26th day of May, 1941, and by said order you are required to appear and answer plaintiffs' complaint on or before the expiration of four weeks from the date of the first publication thereof, and the date of the first publication of this summons is May 30, 1941.

SERIAL STORY

LOVE POWER

BY OREN ARNOLD

COPYRIGHT, 1941, NEA SERVICE, INC.

YESTERDAY, Dr. Robert Hale, young scientist, and his assistant, Leona Sorni, stand in awe of the modern miracle they have performed. They have, by their laboratory plan to place a guard over their secret. Meantime, Dr. Hale has advertised for a secretary. At his office he bids Carolyn Tyler, beautiful, charming, and mysterious, the danger that must surround her work. She is not afraid. "But this," Dr. Hale insists, "is something that will revolutionize civilization!"

CHAPTER II

"THIS can be your desk. It's by a window. . . . Your typewriter needs a new ribbon. . . . Your notebook can rest on the desk arm, thus. . . . I can lower your chair, you are not as tall as I. . . . If I walk about as I dictate, don't be distracted, please. . . . You must weigh about 120 pounds, don't you, Miss Tyler?"

It was Carolyn's first chance to get in an answer. He had been speaking in a monotone, getting her settled with meticulous attention to details.

"Only 118," she corrected. Then added, half amused, "Must I pass a physical test, too?"

"Oh, no! I—I was just noting how becoming your street dress is. I am sensitive to all sorts of phenomena. It is unimportant at the moment. Immediately, we must hire a guard. Men, with guns. I have no idea where to get them!"

Carolyn looked her surprise. She noted that he was gazing off now, frowning. Something inside her told her to take the initiative; here, maybe, was her chance to make good with him at once! An exceptional job with exceptional pay the advertisement had said. Well, it meant she had to use her head, no doubt.

"I'll get them," she volunteered blindly. "How many men, Dr. Hale? And what salaries? And where—?"

"Oh, why, any salary necessary. You must understand that money is no object here now, Miss Tyler! We are amply financed. We have something of transcendent importance. All former requisites, all of human thinking, must be reorganized so as to—"

"Goodness! Then, no doubt, we can buy the necessary guns. What kind? And how many?"

"Why, a dozen men at least. On all sides of the main laboratory yarder to see that absolutely no one even approaches the place night or day."

"Whew!"

"It is extremely important, Miss Tyler!"

"I don't doubt it. Let me use the telephone."

ODDLY enough, he appeared now to forget her entirely. She noted the way he buried his nose in papers and charts at his broad desk. Plainly he had been willing to delegate a task to her, then assume that she would do it promptly and exactly right.

She was a little nervous about all this. And yet, she would try! She dialed a number. Ken Palmer answered, and instantly she spoke most earnestly to him, in somewhat hushed manner.

"Ken! Ken, this is me. This is I. I mean, look here, Ken, listen carefully. I got the job. I am out at Dr. Hale's laboratory now, at work and—listen carefully, Ken—stop whatever you're doing and go buy me one dozen rifles and one dozen pistols. . . . No, Ken, no and no and no! Listen to me! Get a dozen of each and send them out here at once! Money is—no consideration. Send them C. O. D. or anything."

"And Ken, hire me some—I am NOT being funny, I tell you! Hire me a dozen trusted men to use those guns. I mean, to stand guard around a place for Dr. Hale. . . . Yes, guard, like—well, like soldiers or police or something. Men we know, or you know, Ken. Hurry!"

Something of her intensity must have slid over the wire to him. Ken Palmer became serious, as one does with any emergency call. A minute later Carolyn was back near her employer.

"It's taken care of," she announced. "They'll be here before night."

"That's fine. There's your dictation pad. A letter for Dr. P. D. Hines, University Hall, Detroit. . . . Dear Dr. Hines: Miss Sorni and I hasten to report that the experiment was a complete success. Of course, I shall withhold details until adequate tests can be run. Anything but absolute secrecy would be devastating now. Also, there has been no time to prepare the necessary shields. It happened only this afternoon. Measure of the radiation is impossible today but lead plates can be arranged within a week. In any event there is grave danger at this stage, as you will realize. Leona Sorni knows every step I have taken, so that if anything should happen to me before I can have detailed reports made out, then—"

Carolyn's eyes narrowed. She stole a quick glance at him, then had to keep her pencil flying. Fortunately, she was an expert at secretarial work. Two years with an energetic banker had helped.

Roseburg Odd Fellows To Greet Grand Sire

A large group of Odd Fellows from Roseburg will go to Eugene next Saturday and Sunday to attend a state-wide meeting at which James A. Hagerman of Saskatoon, Sask., Canada, grand sire of the I. O. O. F., will pay an official visit to the Oregon lodge. Only twice in recent years has a grand sire visited the Oregon jurisdiction. The Eugene committee, headed by Charles P. Poole, has arranged sight seeing tours, banquet, mass meeting and picnic, local lodge members have been advised. The picnic Sunday will be held at "Swimmers Delight," two miles east of Goshen. Delegations from Washington and Idaho are expected to join with the hundreds of Oregon lodge members who will be present for the meeting.
