DAILY DEVOTIONS

DR. CHAS. A. EDWARDS

Religion must be a living, vital thing, a flowing current in your life. If you hold it close within your own heart it will become a dead, stagnant thing. Let it run over, flowing from your heart you need never fear that it will be lost, it will touch and revivify some faltering wavering faith. Do not think you should stay on your knees, while your neighbor lies ill and alone. Neither did the Master mean when He said, "Ye are a separate people," that you should not minister to those outside of the fold. But remember that He did say, inasmuch as ye have done it unto me, even so do to others. Often a door has been opened by a friendly act, or a kind word. A word of cheer to a despondent soul is, "Like apples of gold in baskets of silver." It returns to us a hundredfold in blessings upon our own soul. Religion is like the magic cask in the fable of old. The more it is drawn upon, the richer, the fuller is the yield. We have the assurance that every kind deed brings with it a rich reward. Let us be generous in our sowing of kind words. Amen.
