Mrs. Lawrence Perrin Watson

At one of the most beautiful weddings of the month of June, Miss Gay Evangeline Bubar, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Tyler Bubar, of Roseburg, became the bride of Lawrence (Larry) Perrin Watson, only son of Mrs. Lawrence M. Watson and the late Mr. Watson, of Eugene, Sunday afternoon, June 29th, at the home of the bride's parents at 148 Chadwick street in this city. Rev. Melville T. Wire, pastor of the Methodist church, performed the impressive ceremony at four o'clock in the presence of relatives and the immediate friends of the couple.

Huge bouquets of pink and white hydrangeas were used on the porch and to decorate the attractive reception hall of the home. Ivy, interspersed with single blossoms of regal lilies, twined the length of the winding staircase and formed the beautiful archway into the living room. Large magnolia blossoms, arranged with the waxy sprays of magnolia leaves, banked the fireplace and was used in a low arrangement on the mantle with tall sprays of the blossoms at the mantle ends.

An improvised altar was arranged at one end of the living room by the use of a high lattice-work background entirely covered by shiny laurel leaves and single blossoms of regal lilies. Pastel-colored hydrangeas outlined the arrangement, which was flanked by twenty-four white cathedral candles forming an arrow at each side. Miss Frances Louise Wimberly, dressed in a charming navy blue floor-length model trimmed in white applique, lighted the candles.

Following the wedding ceremony, a reception followed. Little Donna Jean Ellison, beautiful in a yellow organdy frock with matching hair bow and anklets, passed the individually wrapped wedding cakes in a gold basket with a yellow maline bow tied to the handle.

Married At Large Church Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Gale Anglin

Miss Alyce Carolyn Moon, lovely daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Moon, of this city, was married to Franklin Gale Anglin, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Anglin, of Roseburg, at the First Christian church, Saturday evening, June 28. Rev. John A. Barney, pastor of the church performed the ceremony at eight o'clock in the presence of a large number of friends and relatives of the bridal couple.

The brides of the church were decorated with lighted candles encircled by small nosegays of pastel flowers. The altar was banked with ferns and roses with a lattice-work background filled with ferns and pastel-colored summer blossoms.

Miss Bertha Moon, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and wore a charming blue chiffon floor-length gown with square neck and a corsage of sweetpeas tied with blue satin ribbon. Miss Hamay Anglin, sister of the bridegroom, was flower girl and was lovely in a blue formal frock and she carried a nosegay of sweetpeas tied with pink ribbon.

Arthur Anglin, brother of the bridegroom, acted as best man and Leslie Miller, of Roseburg, H. A. Easton, of Eugene, were ushers.

The bride's mother wore an attractive jacket-model dress of light blue Bernberg sheer and a corsage of sweetpeas and rosebuds. The bridegroom's mother wore a navy blue silk crepe model and a corsage of sweetpeas and rosebuds.

Miss Claude Williams and Mr. and Mrs. Bert Weekley and family. Gladoli and carnations formed lovely bouquets about the rooms, while the bride's table was decorated with crystal, pink and white flowers and tall lighted white tapers. The wedding cake, cut by the bride and bridegroom, was decorated in white and pink and was topped by a miniature bride and bridegroom.

The bride is well known in Roseburg, where she has many friends. She was a member of the 1941 senior high school class and was employed at the time of her marriage at the local Montgomery Ward company store. She has been active in Sunday school and Christian Endeavor work for several years at the Christian church.

Following a honeymoon trip to points of interest along the Columbia river, they will go to Stevenson, Wash., to make their home and where Mr. Anglin will be employed in the civil aeronautics airway communication station.
