DAILY DEVOTIONS

DR. CHAS. A. EDWARDS

The sea impresses on observers as chafing like some living creature in chains. Its distant murmur, and its dashing and foaming on the beach sound like a clamor for something it can never attain. Men are endowed with a capacity for contentment that is satisfied by contemplation of worthy purposes and participation is worth-while enterprises. He who turns for satisfaction to ignoble things is bound to become discontented, one among many such who make up a restless society. In its extreme discontent civilization is lashed into fury at times. We may trace its troubles to individual states of mind. "Wars come out of man's delight that war in your members." But peace, also derives from individual states of mind. Enough peace-mindedness would make a peaceful world. Peace was the last word of Jesus. "Peace I leave with you." Let not your heart be troubled. We do not need to wait for treaties and peace conferences and disarmaments to begin a program of peace in the world for Christ is our peace. Amen.

For the officers found 52 one-gallon jugs of illicit whiskey—each under a separate vine.
