inet "board of information" says: "It still stands."

REVERTING momentarily to Churchill. Writing to General de Gaulle on Bastille day, July 14 (the French Fourth of July), he says:

"The spirit of the French people will rise again, purified and rejuvenated by what it has undergone. The soul of France can never die."

Britain, you see, is still handling the French with kid gloves.

ON July 14, 1789, the French people rose in revolution against the absolute monarchy of France, stormed the grim prison of the Bastille, took it and started cutting off heads. Within a month the ancient and decayed aristocratic order had collapsed.

Followed, over a period of four or five years, the bloody Jacobins and their bloody leaders, Robespierre, Danton and Marat, and the steady chop-chop of the guillotine cutting off heads. Then Charlotte Corday and the murder of Marat.

After that, in slow course of time, came Napoleon and the French conquest of practically all of Europe.

THE old aristocratic, autocratic order in France died in 1789 because it was rotten at the core. France died again in June, 1940, because its government was rotten at the core.

But you never can tell about the French people. They may rise again in their majesty if they find a leader.

U. S. Blacklists Persons, Firms in Latin America

WASHINGTON, July 18.—(AP)—The United States blacklisted 1,800 persons and firms in Latin America yesterday in an effort to bolster national defense and close export channels to Germany and Italy.

The blacklist was promulgated in accordance with a proclamation of President Roosevelt.

On the list were individuals and business establishments which the proclamation said were deemed to have been acting "for the benefit of Germany or Italy" or their nationals, or in collaboration with them.

Also on it were certain persons to whom, the proclamation said, the exportation of "any article or materials" from the United States "is deemed to be detrimental to the interest of national defense."

This expansion of the administration's economic warfare against the axis nations apparently was designed principally to plug leaks through which American supplies may have been shipped into Germany and Italy by way of Latin America.

It may result also in diminishing the funds which axis affiliates have been using for propaganda and subversive activities.

Furthermore, it may prevent firms and individuals which have been working with Italy and Germany from tapping assets in the United States.

An explanatory white house statement said the list would have two chief functions:

First, no article subject to the export control act may be exported to anyone on the list except under rigid restrictions.

Second, those listed will be treated as if they were Italian or German citizens under terms of an executive order which froze axis credits and assets in this country.

Govt. Plans for Added Power Unit Lists Copco

WASHINGTON, July 17.—(AP)—Covered in the proposal of the federal power commission yesterday for new electrical generating facilities were two Oregon steam projects.

One was the "L" station of Portland General Electric company, Portland, 35,000 kilowatts to be installed by 1945, and the other the California Oregon Power Co., Coos Bay plant at North Bend, 30,000 kilowatts, to be installed by 1944 and 30,000 by 1946.

Funds would be made available by the reconstruction finance corporation.

Defense Quiz

Q. A large number of sales of defense bonds and stamps are emotional responses to newspaper editorials or to speeches by famous men and women. Later, when the buyers cool down, will they not want their money back?

A. Results don't show this. The emotion which inspires the buying of defense bonds and stamps is not fleeting. It is based on a determination to guard and defend the American way of life at any cost.

Q. Is a big sales drive in preparation?

A. No. Purchases are voluntary. There is no place for any kind of coercion in offering defense bonds and stamps.

Note.—To buy defense bonds and stamps, go to the nearest post office or bank, or write to the treasurer of the United States, Washington, D. C., for an order form.

Porch Chair Fire Thought Started by Children

An automobile seat, converted into a porch chair, started a blaze Thursday afternoon at the vacant residence at 1068 Winches street. The fire department extinguished the fire before any serious damage resulted.

Children had been seen playing around the unoccupied house earlier and it was believed that careless handling of matches by youngsters was responsible for the fire.

Water Safety Courses Set at Camas, Days Creek

Water safety schools will open at Days Creek and Camas Valley on Monday, July 21, at 10 a. m.

The school at Days Creek is being sponsored by the South Umpqua Ladies club. Mrs. Elaine Ramsey of Riddle will be instructor.

The Camas Valley school is being sponsored by the Parent-Teachers club, with Alan Knudson instructing.

Both Mrs. Ramsey and Mr. Knudson are competent instructors, having recently completed the water safety instructor's course at Four Seasons lodge, Beaver Lake, Wash.

They are at present conducting water safety classes at Riddle and Glide.

DAYS CREEK, July 18.—Arrangements are being completed for the Red Cross water safety classes which are to be held at the Beals swimming hole July 21 to 31, inclusive.

Registration cards for those wishing to participate in these classes can be obtained at the Days Creek store. It is requested that all children, insofar as possible, have such cards signed by their parents, and present them to the instructor at the opening of the school at 10 o'clock Monday morning.

All adults and children who can possibly attend these classes are urged to do so. There is no charge for this instruction.

DAILY DEVOTIONS

DR. CHAS. A. EDWARDS

It is a human characteristic to overestimate ourselves. It is divine to be reasonable about what we are expected to perform. The foreman of a great steel mill has an interesting philosophy of his work. He never asks a man to hurry. It had been common for other foremen to make life very unhappy by making unreasonable demands. He makes it the rule of the shop to do his job with dispatch and the men soon learned the tempo of his plan.

He is not profitable to ask him to hurry unless they are ready to quicken their own speed. God is like that. We pray for the gift of discipline. He makes us the servant in the house. We ask to minister to a large congregation. He sends us to deputate work in the slum of the city. We want an important task. He gives us a minor one. We pray to save souls. He asks us whether we ourselves are truly saved. God measures by our abilities and our willingness to serve anywhere. Amen.

THE METHODIST CHURCH

Epworth League Camp Slated To Open Saturday

The annual Epworth league camp on Little river will open Saturday with an anticipated attendance of 125 young persons, it was announced today. The camp will continue for a period of one week.

Dean of the camp will be the Rev. S. Darlow Johnson, Grants Pass. The Rev. Ellsworth M. Tilton of Dallas will be camp manager; Mrs. Lucy Camp Crogwell, dean of women; C. G. Morris, Cave Junction, superintendent of grounds; Dr. Suste Standard, Medford, camp physician.

In addition to the camp officers, Dr. Melville T. Wire of Roseburg and Dr. Gorge W. Bruce, Ashland, will serve as faculty members.

The daily sessions will include class periods for study of various religious topics, recreation periods, and social gatherings.

The Epworth league camp is located a short distance from the Wolf creek ranger station on Little river. Buildings and improvements were installed by the league, following the purchase and donation of the site several years ago by the city of Roseburg.

ODDITIES

(By the Associated Press) All's Well

BRAZIL, Ind.—Virginia Strong is only 20 months old but she knew what to do when she fell into a well.

The tin lid on the well gave way beneath her and she plummeted 25 feet into chilling water.

She caught hold of the pipe from the pump and held on tight for 20 minutes until firemen could let down a man to save her.

Partners

INDIANAPOLIS — Freeman Bradford, 59, and his son, William, 23, decided they'd go into law practice together.

Both entered Indiana law school the father attending night classes and the son day.

Last week they were admitted to the Indiana bar and took their oaths before the state supreme court.

But now the partnership is off. The younger Bradford has been put into class 1-A in the draft and is expecting his call any day.
