Willis C. Hawley

OREGON lost one of its distinguished citizens this week with the passing of Willis C. Hawley who was for 28 years a representative in congress from the huge first congressional district.

But there is one part of Oregon where Willis C. Hawley will long be gratefully remembered—where he was never for a moment forgotten—and that is in our own city and county. It was Mr. Hawley, at the time the most powerful figure in congress, who insisted that a new soldiers home for veterans of the northwest states be located in his state and in his district.

THE British continue DAY air raiding of the German-held invasion coasts. German air attacks on England, London says, are light.

However, as the problem of choosing a site narrowed down it developed that two or three Oregon communities, all of them in Congressman Hawley's district, disavowed their original endorsement of Roseburg and endeavored to "get" the designation. It was a bad situation.

It is more than likely that Mr. Hawley would have been defeated in 1934 in any event although many believe he was downed in the primaries of that year largely because he kept his word and stood by his judgment in the matter of the location of the veterans facility.

sulting from the soldiers home controversy. Mr. Hawley was a gentleman, a scholar and a statesman. The history of Oregon will always accord him a high place, which he earned by honesty, ability and hard work.

had seemed in darkness to have been a withering attack had been in fact a COMPARATIVELY HARMLESS raid.

IF you want to keep the Russian-German picture straight in your mind, remember always that the primary German purpose is to DESTROY Russia's fighting forces. Unless that can be accomplished, Hitler's Russian campaign will have been a costly failure.

What happens to Russian cities is relatively unimportant. What happens to Russia's fighting forces is the whole story.

JAPAN is apparently cooking up something startling. Today's (Tuesday's) dispatches point to Indo-China as the most likely objective.

Domel (Jap news agency) is spreading tales that the British are preparing to invade Indo-China. That is the usual dictator excuse for a grab.

TAKING Indo-China wouldn't mean necessarily that the Japs are going all-out against the British (and now us) in the Orient. Indo-China would be grand trading stock if it later seemed advisable to make a deal with and Britain.

DNB (German propaganda) admits today that the Russians are carrying out Stalin's "scorch-ed earth" order. It says: "German troops, marching with heavy packs, tramped through the choking ash dust of BURNED forests."

THE British continue DAY air raiding of the German-held invasion coasts. German air attacks on England, London says, are light.

Boy Nabs Crew of German Bomber

LONDON, July 24. (AP) A 17-year-old Isle of Wight boy, hunting with a double-barreled shotgun yesterday morning, was said to have captured the crew of a German bomber after it crashed in a wheat field.

"I was out with my sporting gun after foxes," the captor, Geoffrey Jones, was quoted, "and saw the plane circling around. 'Eventually it crashed and the crew all came toward me. 'I more or less threatened them with my gun, and two of the Germans who had automatics started waving them about. I tried to take the guns off them but they would not give them to me.'"

Defense Quiz

Q. How long will Defense Bonds and Stamps be on sale? A. Indefinitely. Secretary Morgenthau has emphasized that the Defense Savings Program is to be a continuing effort. Its success will be measured by the number of persons taking part, as well as by the amount of money raised, which is now in excess of $700,000,000.

Q. Is the purchase of Defense Savings Bonds and Stamps compulsory? A. Absolutely not. Purchase of Bonds and Stamps represents voluntary action on your part. When you buy them you take your stand in the ranks of the National Defense Program. You automatically become a shareholder in your government.

Note—To buy Defense Bonds and Stamps, go to the nearest post office or bank, or write to the Treasurer of the United States, Washington, D. C., for an order form.

Leave for Salem—Mr. and Mrs. Harold Shogren, who have been on a business trip to eastern and southern Oregon points, have left for their home in Salem, following a short visit as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Scott Williams in Laurelwood. Mr. Shogren is assistant supervisor of defense education with headquarters in Salem. He formerly taught school in Grants Pass.

Corporations Get More Time for Tax Returns

J. W. Maloney, collector of internal revenue, states that corporations will have additional time within which to file 1941 capital stock tax returns, ordinarily due during this month.

The collector announced that a general extension of time has been granted until September 29, 1941, within which to file capital stock tax returns for the period ended June 30, 1941. As the extension is general it is not necessary to file an application therefor. Providing the tax is paid on or before September 29, 1941, no interest will accrue under the terms of the general extension of time.

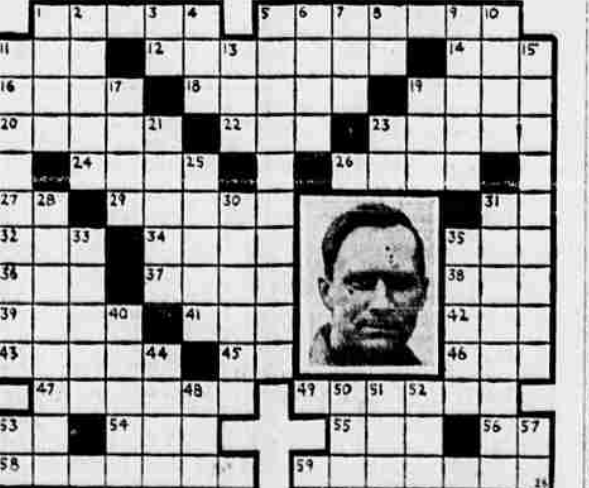

Mr. Maloney points out that the value now declared will form the basis for the adjusted declared value for the years ending June 30, 1942 and June 30, 1943, respectively; and that there is no election to increase this value in those years as was permitted for 1939 and 1940. Therefore, an adequate declaration is essential where corporations anticipate increased earnings during the next three income-tax taxable years.
