ping and exterminating the other's forces.
 It is too early yet even to try to foretell what the outcome will be.

BRITAIN, through her foreign secretary, Anthony Eden, today voices a sharp warning to leaders of Japan's expansion policy to "reflect WHILE THERE IS STILL TIME."
 Japan, through her premier Prince Fumimaro Konoye, retorts that it would be "difficult to predict where the flames of the European conflict might spread" and adds that the Japanese government is doing everything within its power "to mobilize all resources and manpower for ANY EVENTUALITY."
 The poker game, you see, is still on.

AT Chungking (China's Inter-ior capital) the American gunboat Tutuila is damaged in the course of a Jap air raid, although no one is hurt.
 That could be an "incident" if the U. S. wanted to make it so. Instead, the tendency appears to be (as these words are written) to regard the damage as unavoidable in the course of the bombardment.
 Anyway, there is still no shooting.

ON the home front, President Roosevelt today asks congress to authorize him to establish a ceiling for prices and rents.

He seeks no authority to put a limit on wages but asks the voluntary co-operation of labor to prevent wages from rising abnormally.
 He says:
 "Labor has far more to gain from price stability than from abnormal wage increases, for these are likely to be illusory and quickly overtaken by sharp rises in living costs which fall with particular hardship on the least fortunate of our workers and our old people."

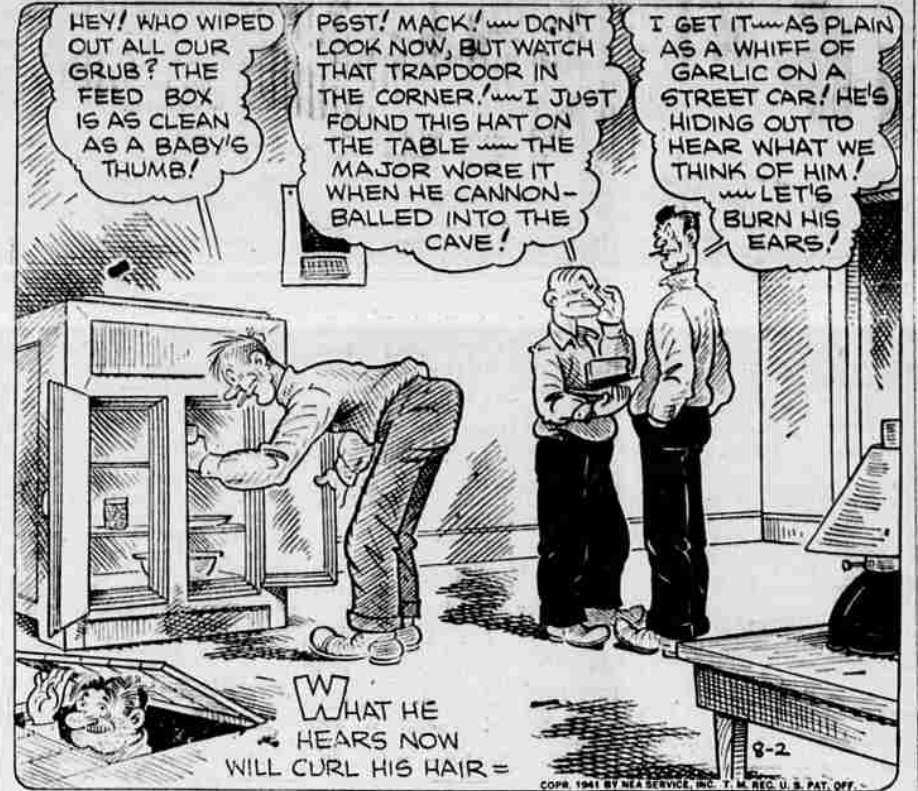

HIS statement that abnormal wage increases will result in sharp rises in living costs is an admission that a price ceiling won't work without a wage ceiling.
 He thus places a big responsibility on labor, which will be judged in the years to come by the way it acts under this load of responsibility.

Movie Champion Is Feted In Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, July 31.—(AP)—The movie industry has gone all-out for Private Kenneth Wilkinson. With one exception, that is.
 The army's champion movie-goer, a 19-year-old, red-haired, bespectacled Oklahoma native, has had a reception not even accorded royalty.
 He's been behind the scenes in all the big studios; he's rubbed shoulders with stars; he's been given private screenings of unreleased pictures.
 He received a plaque from no less a dignitary than Will Hays, president of the producers' association. He's lunched with Dean-a Durbin, seen the town's glam-orous spots.
 He even had a chance to kiss Barbara Stanwyck—at a photographer's request—and turned it down. He wasn't sure the army would approve.
 But all cannot be clover. Private Wilkinson has one great disappointment.
 It's Judy Garland who done him wrong.
 "I wanted most of all to see her," he sighed. "I think she's wonderful."
 Dave Rose thought so too, and Dave had the inside track. In fact, he and Judy were married Sunday night, a few hours after Wilkinson flew in from Fort Lewis, Wash., for his week in the sun.
 The five-foot, four-inch private has seen 320 films since he joined the army 10 months ago. From Fort Lewis, he travels 18 miles to Tacoma by bus, usually alone. There he divides his time and his first class private's pay of $36 a month among eight theaters.
 But the cost is small, he says, when it earns a trip like this.

Eugene Fire Department Gives Answer to Critics

EUGENE, Aug. 1.—(AP)—Eugene city officials were the recipients of severe criticism today, the aftermath of a fire which destroyed 18 structures at an estimated damage of $50,000 Wednesday just south of Eugene.
 Mayor Elsha Large and the city council here refused to allow fire trucks to go outside the city limits.
 Admitting the policy seemed cold blooded, Mayor Large explained that action by the city firemen would have been unfair to other outside areas which have formed fire districts and are making their contributions toward the upkeep of the department.
 "It is very regrettable," the mayor said, "but the city council has gone on record in favor of providing fire protection only to outside cities and to districts or concerns which have made arrangements for this protection."

Information For Recreationists
 (Forest Service Bulletin)

North Umpqua: Trout fishing is still good and cutthroat trout are being taken. Steelhead fishing is slow, but experienced fishermen are taking an occasional fish. Best lures for steelhead are the Cummings and Umpqua Favorite flies. Roads are in good shape, with the recent rains settling the dust. The Copeland creek sector will be open from 4 p. m. to 8 a. m. on week days and will be open all day on week-ends.
 South Umpqua: Fishing in Fair lake and Buckeye lake is fish. Stream fishing too is fair. Roads are all in good condition, and all of the roads to the lookouts are excellent.
 Bohemia: Stream fishing is fair. Flowers on Fairview mountain are still good. Rujada camp is in excellent condition and has a swimming pool, a ball diamond, and camping and picnic areas. From this camp it is only a two-mile hike to Rujada point, which offers a grand view.
 Diamond lake: The recent rains have settled the dust and, as a result, the roads are in good shape. Fishing is fair. There are several falls which are to be seen in this area. Toketee falls can be reached by a one-mile hike; Lemolo falls are a three-quarters of a mile hike; White-watson falls can be driven to; and Watson creek falls require only a 200-yard hike. The latter falls have a sheer drop of 300 feet.

DAILY DEVOTIONS
 DR. CHAS. A. EDWARDS

How big is your world? This after all is a fair question for all of us, or another way of asking is how long and wide is your horizon? One way to assort ideas and world views is to classify them as we do optical lenses, according to focal distances. Some reach farther than others. Some reach, others individual and some commercial systems reach ten years, a month, twenty-four hours ahead. Big getters are sometimes big losers. God's thoughts are long threads throughout all generations. Emerson measured the years by centuries. The yardstick of God is the ages to come. That is why it cannot be shaken by the march of time. Short views tend toward pessimism. Feet and inches, hours and minutes express and include only small objectives. It is the swing of the world-without-end that thrills our souls. The unseen realities of spirit and hope and love and faith and kindness that are eternal. "The Eternal God is thy refuge and underneath are the everlasting arms." Such a vision enlarges man's horizon and delivers him from the discouragement of the short view. It is better to walk in the dark with God than to walk alone by sight. May we cultivate the long view. Amen.

Mystery Liner Is Declared Lost

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—(AP)—A mystery of the sea was disclosed today when Swedish government officials at Stockholm ruled officially that the cargo-passenger liner Venezuela must be regarded as lost with eight passengers and 41 crew members.
 The ruling concluded a two-months investigation instituted after the new 6,991-ton vessel, vanished on a voyage from Gothenburg to Rio de Janeiro.
 Nothing could be learned about the ship. Belligerents denied sinking her, no wreckage was found and no storms ruffled the north Atlantic during the period of the voyage.
 The vessel left Gothenburg April 8 with a "safe conduct" guarantee from Germany, Italy and England.
 At Torshavn, Faroes islands, the Venezuela picked up eight survivors of the Finnish freighter Carolina Thorden which had been destroyed by German bombers a few days earlier.
 The Venezuela sailed for Rio April 8 and radioed April 17 that she would reach South America on May 2.
 Nothing more ever was heard of her.
 Aboard the ship, still suffering from wounds received in the Carolina Thorden disaster, was pretty Nancy Sarin, 28, blue-eyed, flaxen-haired fiancée of Henry E. Kolego, mining engineer of Silverton, Colo.
 A nurse, she served her country, Finland, against the Russians and then spent months trying to reach the United States to wed Kolego.
 Back From Eugene—Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Snyder and their daughter, Mrs. Louis A. Miles and her daughter, Mary Jean, all of this city, have returned to their homes, following a short stay in Eugene visiting Mrs. Roy Elmore and Mrs. Frank Moody.
