We Suggest a Compromise

SATURDAY, improvement of the Pacific highway as a defense route was a certainty. Yesterday the president vetoed the defense highways bill.

There can be no adequate defense of the Pacific coast until men and equipment can be quickly moved to any point on the coast.

Congress recognized the need for federal defense highways. The bill was quickly passed by both houses. It provided for appropriations totaling $320,000,000.

But the defense highways bill was vetoed. The president says that the roads shall not be built. He objects to the manner of allocating the funds.

This is a reasonable contention. This appropriation should be no pork barrel. Highways for defense should be built where they are needed for defense.

Giving the congress the benefit of the doubt, perhaps they did not want the president to have the entire say on the appropriation. Perhaps they think his power already too great.

As a compromise we suggest the bill be repassed meeting the president part way. Let congress obtain from the army a list of necessary defense routes.

It closes the doors tonight (Saturday) on a $250,000,000 industry. It will end present employment for 175,000 or more American silk workers.

of silk hose wearing for American women. The war, you see, has teeth.

(THE primary purpose of the silk order is to close a market that has provided Japan with $100,000,000 in cash or credits annually.)

AS to silk hose deprivation: This writer doesn't wear silk stockings. But if he did he would buy and wear them NORMALLY until stocks are exhausted and would then buy and wear WHATEVER IS BEING WORN.

SILK stockings are a FASHION—like silk neckties for men. As long as everyone wears them, everyone WANTS to wear them—for failure to appear in public with legs fashionably clad in silk is an admission either of oddity or of financial stringency.

No American woman wants to admit that she is either odd or poverty-stricken. But when silk stockings are no longer obtainable because of lack of silk SOMETHING ELSE will become the fashion, and will then be the thing to wear just as silk is the thing now.

SO the deprivation won't really be as serious as at first glance it appears to be. It is merely one of many adaptations we will be called up to make.

DECISION to throw 175,000 people out of work (until something else can be found for them to do) is an unmistakable sign that the government of the United States means business.

Food Stamps To Buy Fresh Fruits

Further stamp plan aid to local farmers faced with seasonal surpluses of perishable fruits and vegetables was assured today with the release by the U. S. department of agriculture of the blue stamp food list for August.

All the commodities named to the list by the secretary of agriculture may be purchased with blue food stamps by those families taking part in the food stamp plan. M. Louis Belange, surplus marketing administration area supervisor, announced that 60,000 low-income persons were participating in the Oregon area.

Song Contest For Grangers is Dated

The annual state grange song contest for the southern Oregon district will be held at Riverside grange hall at 8:15 p. m. Saturday, August 9. The region consists of Coos, Curry, Josephine, Jackson, Lane and Douglas counties.

There will be nine divisions in this year's contest, include men and women soloists, duet, trio, quartet and chorus, and juvenile solo, duet and chorus. A professional division also is provided this year.

The contest is for the purpose of reviving interest in the singing of old songs, and selections used must have been written prior to 1900. Non-grange judges will determine the winners.

The regional winners will compete in the state finals to be held Sept. 5 at the state fair in Salem.

The home economics club of Riverside grange will serve refreshments at the conclusion of the program Saturday.

Dodgers Regain Stride, Winning 5 Games in Row

By JUDSON BAILEY (Associated Press Sports Writer) The Brooklyn Dodgers, after floundering around the west for several days, managed to return with a four-game winning streak and last night they promptly made it five by overwhelming the New York Giants, 11-6.

The Dodgers are back in stride. Both Wyatt and Higbe have become winning pitchers again. Camilli has regained his batting eye, hitting over 400 since his visit to a hospital. And the whole club has regained the drive which characterized it at the start of the season.

The St. Louis Cardinals yesterday cuffed the Cubs, 4-2, all right, but they lost the services of their keystone star, Frank Crespi, who was hit in the face by a line-drive during pre-game practice. If he were lost for any length of time now it would be a hard blow.

They got along without him yesterday because Lefty Ernie White pitched seven-hit ball to gain his 13th victory, his sixth in 17 days.

In the only other National league contest Lanning held the Cincinnati Reds to three hits while the Pittsburgh Pirates plowed to a 4-1 triumph.

The New York Yankees hit the winning trail again with a 7-5 decision over the last-place Washington Senators.

A ninth-inning home run by Jimmie Foxx decided a 7-6 struggle in favor of the Boston Red Sox over the Philadelphia Athletics in the only other major league game.

There wasn't much travel, at that, in that locality; but each day a dozen or so cars would make a brief appearance, pausing as a usual thing, if the occupants were strangers, to view the scenery from the bridge across the beautiful stream forming one of the boundaries of our camp.

We had few visitors—one of the Montgomery boys, of Look-in-glass, who is a forest guard stationed at Diamond lake; Fred Hawks, who is employed at the lodge there and, on the last day of our stay, Bert Riddle, Fred Bonebrake and Ernie Pruner and their families pulled in and made camp together in a meadow not far away. They were up for a stay of a week or ten days, and furnished us with news of what was going on in the world, which we had entirely been without for the past week—a happy state of affairs for anyone to be in, and exceptionally so for a couple of newspaper plugs who were badly fed up on news of any kind.

Draft May Not Summon Feller in Ball Season

CLEVELAND, Aug. 5.—(AP)—Bob Feller, baseball's leading pitcher, was called to a doctor's office today for a preliminary physical draft examination.

If pronounced fit, the 22-year-old Cleveland ace will undergo a later test by army doctors before being inducted.
