DAILY DEVOTIONS

DR. CHAS. A. EDWARDS

There is a river, the streams thereof shall make glad the City of God. These words of the Psalmist bring to our thought running water. Clear and cool, with luxuriant growth of green and fruitful trees along the river banks. Like refreshing water, thought in contemplation of spiritual reality, moves Godward, clear and unmoisted. On every side evil seems to be manifested in hatred, envy, confusion, disintegration. Wars, and rumors of wars. Yet in the midst of all we can say, "None of these things move me, for I am persuaded that neither death nor life, nor principalities nor powers, nor things present, nor things to come, nor height, nor depth, nor any other creature shall be able to separate us from the love of God which is in Christ Jesus our Lord. Man is sustained by the word of God. His task is to reflect God and he is to be ceaselessly employed. One who holds to these things will never lack anything needful for every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights with whom is no variableness neither shadow of turning. This is the river of life which streams forth from the throne of God, and by it men are refreshed and strengthened to do God's will, and walk in His ways. Amen.
