000 of the company's 17,000 employees as members, turned back 1,000 night shift men at the gates. There were no disorders. Police armed with riot guns and tear gas bombs stood by but they confined their efforts to observation and traffic duties. The picketers admitted maintenance men and union guards to the plant.

Strike Reverses Decision

Only last Sunday some 6,000 union members had voted to rescind an earlier strike ballot decision and accept recommendations of the national defense mediation board for a working contract. Those recommendations included a modified union shop, vacation adjustments and a 12 per cent wage increase, which the company already had paid retroactive to June 24.

Despite this vote, the local union's executive board decided yesterday to call the strike.

A union spokesman said that before the 12 per cent wage increase was granted, the hourly scale was: first class mechanics, $1; second class mechanics, 95 cents; third class mechanics, 90 cents; first class handymen, 82 cents; second class handymen, 76 cents; helpers, 65 cents.

NORTHWEST FLOUR MILLS STRIKE IN PARLEY STAGE

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 7.—(AP)—Representatives of the North Pacific Millers' association and AFL Grain Processors' unions met here today with Federal Labor Conciliator Jesse E. Jacobson in an effort to end the tie-up of nine major northwest mills.

Lack of space will cause mills to order grain held at the sources, particularly in eastern Oregon and Washington and Montana, barring early settlement, Andrew N. Crystal, vice-president of Crown mills, Portland, said.

Approximately 1000 workers are affected by the tie-up, which unionists have termed a lock-out and employers a strike, three here, three in Spokane, two in Seattle and one in Tacoma. Workers at the Crown mills struck last Thursday when negotiations over wages and working conditions broke down. Other mills closed when workers refused to handle "hot" flour from the struck mill.

According to Ted M. Hopkins, district vice-president of the Grain Processors' union, operators were asked for a 10-cent-an-hour increase. He said they offered 7 1/2 cents but later withdrew the offer.

the Caucasus," the British report said. "There has been no great change in the situation in the last 24 hours."

"It is increasingly clear that on all other fronts the third great German offensive has been held and that progress in the Ukraine is very slow."

Hitler's high command asserted that German losses were "moderate" compared with the "extraordinarily high" casualties suffered by the Russians—the latter estimated by DNB, the official German news agency, at 3,000,000 killed.

Louis P. Lochner, chief of the Associated Press Berlin bureau, now inspecting the Finnish front said Finnish officers considered the Russians well equipped but weak in aviation and no longer capable of large scale counter-offensives in the north. German bombers raided Moscow for the 14th night attack but Russians said they were unsuccessful. Some civilian casualties were reported.

British Warn Japan

In the far east crisis, the British sounded a stiff new warning to Japan, declaring that "all preparations are ready to smash any Japanese attempt to cut the Burma road or move further westward."

The warning apparently referred to a possible Japanese move into Thailand from bases in French Indo-China or an attempt to invade China's southwest province of Yunnan, through which the Burma road feeds supplies to Chinese armies in the north.

An authoritative British war review in London said that Thailand was expected to resist any Japanese encroachment and that British aid to the Thais would be conditioned by the American response to the situation.

Japan declared British and American concern over her intentions toward Thailand was unwarranted. The Japanese board of information said reports that Japan was threatening the kingdom tended to harm feelings and maintained she wanted only friendly relations with Thailand.

The U. S. government, it was reported in Washington, saw Japanese pressure on Thailand as part of an axis plan to control the oceans. Part of the plan would be German occupation of naval bases in French colonial possessions.

Britons, meanwhile, talked of an offensive action by their growing middle east army fattened with recently-arrived planes, tanks and munitions from the U. S. some observers expected a move through Iran to help Russia protect her Caucasian oil fields. Others suggested a new attack on Libya was in the making.

The British air offensive ground on with night attacks centered on Frankfurt, Mannheim and Karlsruhe; the Germans countered with raids over Britain which London said injured a small number of persons and caused slight damage after a small number of planes reached east and southeast England.

Texas Youth Held Here On Auto Theft Charge

Fred Carroll Cannon, 18, of Leveland, Texas, was being held in custody here today in lieu of $500 bail, following his arrest last night on a charge of automobile theft. Sergeant Paul Morgan of the state police reported that Cannon had signed a statement admitting he stole the automobile three weeks ago from a used car lot at Lubbock, Texas, and had been on a tour of the Pacific coast. Texas authorities have been notified of the arrest, Sergeant Morgan said.

Vernon R. Mitchell, 18, Portland, and Harold I. Cooley, 17, Roseburg, members of the Reedsport CCC camp, were riding with Cannon at the time of his arrest last night at Sutherlin. sary to do so in the interest of national defense. It also could terminate the legislation by passage of a concurrent resolution.
