The Corsican and the Austrian
 It proves nothing. It is no guide to the future. But the temptation to draw parallels between Hitler's invasion of Russia and Napoleon's is strong. Napoleon was a foreigner, a Corsican, ruling France. Hitler is a foreigner, an Austrian, ruling Germany. Napoleon rose to power in France on the tide of a revolution. Hitler rose thus in Germany. Napoleon terrorized Europe for years. So has Hitler. Napoleon picked a fight with Russia without a scrap of provocation, simply because he had decided that Russia must be eliminated. Hitler did the same. Napoleon had assembled a motley army of French, Italians, Swiss, Dutch, Poles and Germans. Hitler is using, in addition to his Germans, Rumanians, Bulgarians, Slovaks and Italians. Napoleon advanced as far as Smolensk without a serious battle, and took that city by storm in a two-day operation, Aug. 17, 18.

Here the pattern begins to diverge. Hitler advanced into Russia in three great movements, in the north against Leningrad, in the south against Kiev, and in the center against Moscow. That central drive reached Smolensk and captured it in a two-day battle about Aug. 10, 11. Here Hitler is a week ahead of the Napoleonic schedule. Hitler has made great progress also on both the southern and northern fronts at the same time, but roughly speaking he stands today where Napoleon stood at the same time. Now let us follow the fortunes of Napoleon the rest of the way. On Sept. 7 the Russians stood, and under the able Kutusoff gave battle at Borodino on the Moscow river. Both sides had enormous losses (the French 32,000, the Russians 47,000), but Kutusoff withdrew in admirable order, retreating through Moscow and taking its people with him. On Sept. 14 Napoleon occupied the city.

Between the 15th and 19th the Russians burned the city, and after remaining five weeks Napoleon got out of there. By the time he had reached Jaroslavl, Vjasma and Krasnoy, fighting continually the harassing Russians and Cossacks, cold weather descended. By the time he forced a passage over the Berezina river, the suffering from hunger and cold was terrible. On Dec. 3 Napoleon left the army to its fate and went back to Paris. The tattered remainder, only 100,000 of the 500,000 with which he started, crossed the Niemen to safety on Dec. 13. The expedition had cost Napoleon 300,000 lives and 100,000 prisoners.

All this is related, not to rouse any false hopes that history is about to repeat itself. It seldom does, and then with variations. But up to a point it raises some curious parallels.

It Didn't Have to Look
 A SHORT time before the Pétain-Darlan regime in France made its decision to help Germany in establishing its sway over Europe, a summer storm came to the little town of Versailles, seat of France's ancient glories. Two statues, one of Lafayette, one of General Pershing, stood on opposite sides of a street there. As the storm rose in violence, the statue of General Pershing swayed from its pedestal, fell, and shattered into a million fragments on the pavement. At least it never had to witness the events to come.

 If you will keep these basic facts in mind, you will be better able to understand and follow intelligently the fighting in Russia.

HERE is a basic precept of defensive warfare: Fight as long as you can on one line. When that line can no longer be held, FALL BACK TO ANOTHER. But keep your forces intact and in good fighting order.

Falling back in good order from one defensive position to another with a powerful enemy pounding at your rear requires military skill of a high order on the part of the commander and discipline and determination on the part of the retreating army. (You'll know all about that if you've played football.)

IN the Ukraine, Marshal Budyenny's Russian armies are now falling back to the line of the mile-wide Dnieper river. If they complete this difficult movement in good order, with discipline unbroken, the Germans will know they are up against a problem.

If not— Well, in that case, the result is apt to be bad. TODAY'S hot spot in the news: President Roosevelt announces a new service to ferry American warplanes (bombers, chiefly) direct to West Africa and thence on to the Middle East. (Just as American bombers are now being ferried across the north Atlantic to England.) Apart from its interest as a dramatic development in war transportation, it highlights the coming importance of Iraq and Iran in the fighting.

 (Forest Service Bulletin)

Fishing: Both trout and steelhead fishing is good in the North Umpqua river. Caddis and black gnat flies are the best lures for small trout, with the larger trout being taken on crawfish tails. Steelhead lures are Umpqua favorite, Cummings and natural bucktail flies.
 Fishing is fair in Diamond lake. Good catches are being made both on flies and by trolling. Trout fishing is also fair in the streams, the most successful lure now being bucktail caddis.

In Fish and Buckeye lakes in the South Umpqua area, fishing is fair. Stream fishing is poor. Flies are being used mostly. Huckleberries: Huckleberries are being picked at Huckleberry lake and Huckleberry gap on the Devils Knob road. The berries are of good size this year, but the crop is not over-abundant. In the Bohemia district, huckleberries are now at about their peak.

LETTERS to the Editor

DEPLORES ATTEMPT TO FORM U. S.-BRITISH UNION
 Editor News-Review: As I took up my paper today the first headline was that the president of the U. S. A. is at sea in the president's yacht to meet Prime Minister Churchill. Why? Why meet at sea? Questions are now rushing themselves through my mind. For the last ten or more years I have heard whispers of union with England. Lately I have seen it in print and heard it talked about. "Union now" what does it mean? Of course we are friends of England! We are friends of the English people. I must be one of those friends for I can trace my ancestry back to England 304 years ago. But this country, this United States of America, has grown up. When it felt itself of legal age our forefathers said: "We are able and of age to run our own government and they said it so emphatically that for 163 years we have been our own boss and carried our own name.

Profiting by a seeming error, if not a real error in their dealing with the U. S. A., England has granted self government to several British possessions with the proviso that they still be considered part and parcel of the British empire.
 My encyclopedia states that the British empire covers an area of 13,181,331 square miles. I do not know whether this includes the territory taken from Germany at the close of the first world war or not.
 As a nation we have been free and independent for 163 years. We are providentially so situated that we can easily protect ourselves from aggression. Let's not fool ourselves into thinking that any nation is unselfish in seeking "Union Now." We are a rich nation and our wealth is a temptation to the one, who calls herself mother nation, to covet us. Let's be friends and help when a friend needs help, but let's be our independent selves.
 Frankly I have no sympathy with the idea of helping a communist nation, which for years has sought to turn this country communistic in government, which means abolition of all orderly government, abolition of inheritance, abolition of private property, abolition of patriotism, abolition of family, abolition of religion.

There is no denying such abolitions for they are in effect in Russia and the sacrifice of hu-road is now open and is in fair shape. The roads in the Cow creek area of the South Umpqua district are in good shape, as is the South Umpqua road. The Devils Knob road is rough but passable, and there is lots of traffic on it. Deer can be seen from the roads at almost any time of day.

Fairs: The southern Douglas county fair will be held at Canyonville Saturday, August 23. Attention is also called to the southern Lane county fair at Cottage Grove on Friday and Saturday, August 22 and 23. Forest service exhibits may be viewed at both fairs.

Fire danger: Campers and travelers are requested to use special care in building campfires; and please do not smoke on any of the Umpqua forest roads except between Rock creek and Copeland creek and the highways leading to Diamond lake. All other roads are closed to smoking while traveling. Please stop your car or horse or, even if walking, just sit down if you must smoke. This will pretty much insure against fires starting through carelessly dropped matches, cigarette stubs and the like. Your hearty cooperation is earnestly requested.—UMPUQA NATIONAL FOREST.

Undergo Minor Operations—Theron and Allen, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Theron J. Harris, underwent tonsilectomies at Mercy hospital yesterday.

When viewed against the background of its own times, the Book of Daniel is an important and fascinating book. It bears witness to the faith that God is in control of history, and that His rule will finally be established. That is a faith we need today to have renewed, and an intelligent use of Daniel in our teaching and preaching should strengthen and encourage our people. To have it alone as many of us do, is to facilitate its misuse by fanatics of one sort or another. We ought to teach and preach from the Book of Daniel as from the rest of the Bible. At the same time we must be on our guard and put our people on their guard against those who would use their misinterpretation of the book as a blueprint in the development of history in our own day. We must check the fanatical interpretations of those who would find some pet key of their own to unlock its mysteries. Daniel had a message for Jesus in Palestine in 164 B. C., and was written for that constituency and at that time. It never imagined history was to last for thousands of years to come. It still has a message for us, but that message is indirect rather than direct. It cannot tell us when we are going to win this war. It did not anticipate Hitler. But it does stir and undergird our faith in God. Amen.

THE FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH
 "The Sociable Christ" or "The Sin of Being Happy" is the sermon topic Sunday evening at eight o'clock. Did Jesus ever smile and laugh? Should preachers tell jokes in the pulpit? Why is Christianity such a happy religion? Can one be happy in spite of poverty, persecution and poor health? Two junior boys will render special music Sunday evening. A Bible quiz on Luke 5 will be a part of the Sunday evening services. New members and their Christian partners will lead in the quiz. "Stop, Look and Listen" is the theme of the sermon Sunday morning at 11. This is a special message as the Baptist pastor begins his third year with the local Baptist church. The Sunday school meets each Sunday morning at 9:45 and the young people meet each Sunday evening at 7 o'clock.

Would Wipe Out Tax Exemptions On All Incomes

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—(AP)—A recommendation that a congress wipe out completely all tax exemptions on personal incomes was laid before the senate finance committee yesterday by Walter A. M. Cooper, chairman of the taxation committee of the American Institute of Accountants.
 Present exemptions are $2,000 for married persons and $800 for single individuals. The treasury has recommended a reduction to $1,500 and $750, respectively.
 In a prepared statement, Cooper, a resident of White Plains, N. Y., also urged that normal income taxes be withheld at source of all payments of salaries, dividends, interest and other fixed or determinable income. Social security taxes now are collected in a similar manner.
 The recommendations, Cooper said, were based on five considerations:
 1. The federal government originally set up the income tax "to add a little 'gravy' to the federal revenue." Now, however, the levy is the government's chief revenue producer.
 2. "Our defense is being developed to protect the right of everyone to live and to earn any income whatsoever and there is no reason why every person in the United States should not contribute a share of that burden, proportionate to the amount of income, if any.
 3. "The imposition of tax on all incomes without exemption would tend to prevent inflation of prices and probably would be more helpful in accomplishing the desired result in that respect than anything heretofore suggested.
 4. "The collection at the source would... make the problem of collection simpler than it is today....
 5. "Elimination of exemption would produce a very substantial amount of revenue."
