Axis Heads Want No Interference In "New Order"

BERLIN, Aug. 30.—(AP)—The England of the present mentality can have no share in Europe's new order as designed by Adolf Hitler and Benito Mussolini, authorized sources commented today following the sixth and longest meeting of the two dictators since the war began.

"England arrogates to itself the right of playing minister of interior everywhere," the spokesmen said, "hence she is unfit for a Europe of cooperation."

Remarks of A. A. Berle, assistant U. S. secretary of state, that the next era would be American were described as another example of plutocratic powers trying to meddle in world affairs.

Berle, in a speech before the Williamstown (Mass.) Institute of Human Affairs, asserted Thursday night that the next era would be the "American century" only if "the word 'American' is taken in its broadest, finest sense." He added that "it is plain destiny" that the future falls in a large measure to the United States.

"America for Americans," the German sources said, "is agreeable to us but the United States should keep hands off elsewhere. We have no ambitions whatever in the Americas. But leave us alone please."

The five-day meeting of Hitler and Mussolini which ended yesterday was declared by the German press to have brought forth a "clearer and more constructive plan" than the eight points President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill formulated at sea earlier this month.

The Essen National Zeitung condemned the eight points as containing "the makings of new wars" and repeating "Wilsonian phrases and injustices." The National Zeitung declared the axis plan "will eliminate the causes which have led to wars in Europe."
