

Seafoods Supply Reduced by War

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 5.—(AP)—Panzer divisions have invaded the northwest, hitting that space between the knife and fork occupied by the dinner plate. Wholesale grocers here told about it today, almost tearfully. Norwegian sardines have been gone for three months. Kipped crab meat, supplying 65 per cent of the American consumption, will be out and most American crabs are going on the fresh seafood market.

Maine furnishes some sardines and the Pacific coast has its pilchards but the catch is there—short production this year.

Canned oysters and shrimp are in short supply right now and the shrimp pack may be small because of high prices obtained for feed shrimp on the fresh market.

High prices and shortages of tinned tuna and salmon also were reported because of the army's heavy purchases.

"Almost anything in the seafood line now is a pain in the neck," one sales manager grumbled.

He added that Portland wholesale grocery prices were up, by conservative estimate, from 8 to 9 per cent since Jan. 1.

German Volunteers

AT this distance, it is hard to guess what lies behind the German announcement that they are opening the S. S. Elite corps to volunteers from 17 to 45.

Germany has had conscription, of course, for many years—any man in the reich was subject to military service at the fuhrer's will. Why volunteers at this stage of the game? It might be a publicity play to announce later a flood of volunteers, thus showing the world the great and enthusiastic support of Hitler. It might mean that among men of 45, many of whom are probably world war veterans, Hitler prefers to have in his S. S. corps only those who volunteer. A draft of men of this age might include many who remember too well the free days of the Weimar republic, and who are less pliable nazis than the younger men. It might mean only that it is preferred to take men at those ages whose responsibilities are such that they can serve with minimum inconvenience. But even that suggests that industrial manpower may be short.

This is one to put aside and remember later when more information becomes available.

They Catch On Quick

A PIONEER English farmer, no doubt one whose ancestors doubt before King John demanding Magna Carta, is growing an acre of American-style sweet corn for sale. This is so daring an innovation that the London papers have seen fit to explain it, thus:

"Corn is a favorite food in America... It is also regarded as a great delicacy by Anglo-Indians throughout the east. The cob is boiled for 15 minutes and served like a potato in its jacket. The leaves are removed, butter or margarine is spread over the corn, and it is sprinkled with pepper and salt.

"Then, holding it at the ends, you nibble the corn like a rabbit."

While the manner of recommended service may fall short of true American standards, the description of the technique of eating is perfect.

Maybe Britain is going to get something out of the war, after all; the privilege of eating sweet corn may not be worth a war, but it's worth a lot.

F. M. Wilkins, Leading Eugene Citizen, Passes

EUGENE, Sept. 5.—(AP)—Francis Marion Wilkins, 93, Eugene pioneer and leading citizen, died at his home Friday. His parents, Mitchell and Parmelia Allen Wilkins crossed the plains to Oregon in 1847, first making their home at Oregon City where Mr. Wilkins was born.

He was graduated from the Portland Business college in 1889 and in 1872 married Miss Emily Goltra of Eugene.

Mr. Wilkins was a member of the Eugene school board from 1888 to 1894, and was chairman of the city park board for 31 years.

He is survived by four daughters.

Father of B. H. Laird Of Roseburg Passes

Funeral services will be held at Dora, Ore., at 2 p. m. Sunday for J. Laird, who died at his home at Coquille, Thursday. He was the father of B. H. Laird, Roseburg resident.

German Volunteers

AT this distance, it is hard to guess what lies behind the German announcement that they are opening the S. S. Elite corps to volunteers from 17 to 45.

Germany has had conscription, of course, for many years—any man in the reich was subject to military service at the fuhrer's will. Why volunteers at this stage of the game? It might be a publicity play to announce later a flood of volunteers, thus showing the world the great and enthusiastic support of Hitler. It might mean that among men of 45, many of whom are probably world war veterans, Hitler prefers to have in his S. S. corps only those who volunteer. A draft of men of this age might include many who remember too well the free days of the Weimar republic, and who are less pliable nazis than the younger men. It might mean only that it is preferred to take men at those ages whose responsibilities are such that they can serve with minimum inconvenience. But even that suggests that industrial manpower may be short.

This is one to put aside and remember later when more information becomes available.

They Catch On Quick

A PIONEER English farmer, no doubt one whose ancestors doubt before King John demanding Magna Carta, is growing an acre of American-style sweet corn for sale. This is so daring an innovation that the London papers have seen fit to explain it, thus:

"Corn is a favorite food in America... It is also regarded as a great delicacy by Anglo-Indians throughout the east. The cob is boiled for 15 minutes and served like a potato in its jacket. The leaves are removed, butter or margarine is spread over the corn, and it is sprinkled with pepper and salt.

"Then, holding it at the ends, you nibble the corn like a rabbit."

While the manner of recommended service may fall short of true American standards, the description of the technique of eating is perfect.

Maybe Britain is going to get something out of the war, after all; the privilege of eating sweet corn may not be worth a war, but it's worth a lot.

F. M. Wilkins, Leading Eugene Citizen, Passes

EUGENE, Sept. 5.—(AP)—Francis Marion Wilkins, 93, Eugene pioneer and leading citizen, died at his home Friday. His parents, Mitchell and Parmelia Allen Wilkins crossed the plains to Oregon in 1847, first making their home at Oregon City where Mr. Wilkins was born.

He was graduated from the Portland Business college in 1889 and in 1872 married Miss Emily Goltra of Eugene.

Mr. Wilkins was a member of the Eugene school board from 1888 to 1894, and was chairman of the city park board for 31 years.

He is survived by four daughters.

Father of B. H. Laird Of Roseburg Passes

Funeral services will be held at Dora, Ore., at 2 p. m. Sunday for J. Laird, who died at his home at Coquille, Thursday. He was the father of B. H. Laird, Roseburg resident.

German Volunteers

AT this distance, it is hard to guess what lies behind the German announcement that they are opening the S. S. Elite corps to volunteers from 17 to 45.

Germany has had conscription, of course, for many years—any man in the reich was subject to military service at the fuhrer's will. Why volunteers at this stage of the game? It might be a publicity play to announce later a flood of volunteers, thus showing the world the great and enthusiastic support of Hitler. It might mean that among men of 45, many of whom are probably world war veterans, Hitler prefers to have in his S. S. corps only those who volunteer. A draft of men of this age might include many who remember too well the free days of the Weimar republic, and who are less pliable nazis than the younger men. It might mean only that it is preferred to take men at those ages whose responsibilities are such that they can serve with minimum inconvenience. But even that suggests that industrial manpower may be short.

This is one to put aside and remember later when more information becomes available.

They Catch On Quick

A PIONEER English farmer, no doubt one whose ancestors doubt before King John demanding Magna Carta, is growing an acre of American-style sweet corn for sale. This is so daring an innovation that the London papers have seen fit to explain it, thus:

"Corn is a favorite food in America... It is also regarded as a great delicacy by Anglo-Indians throughout the east. The cob is boiled for 15 minutes and served like a potato in its jacket. The leaves are removed, butter or margarine is spread over the corn, and it is sprinkled with pepper and salt.

"Then, holding it at the ends, you nibble the corn like a rabbit."

While the manner of recommended service may fall short of true American standards, the description of the technique of eating is perfect.

Maybe Britain is going to get something out of the war, after all; the privilege of eating sweet corn may not be worth a war, but it's worth a lot.

F. M. Wilkins, Leading Eugene Citizen, Passes

EUGENE, Sept. 5.—(AP)—Francis Marion Wilkins, 93, Eugene pioneer and leading citizen, died at his home Friday. His parents, Mitchell and Parmelia Allen Wilkins crossed the plains to Oregon in 1847, first making their home at Oregon City where Mr. Wilkins was born.

He was graduated from the Portland Business college in 1889 and in 1872 married Miss Emily Goltra of Eugene.

Mr. Wilkins was a member of the Eugene school board from 1888 to 1894, and was chairman of the city park board for 31 years.

He is survived by four daughters.

Father of B. H. Laird Of Roseburg Passes

Funeral services will be held at Dora, Ore., at 2 p. m. Sunday for J. Laird, who died at his home at Coquille, Thursday. He was the father of B. H. Laird, Roseburg resident.

German Volunteers

AT this distance, it is hard to guess what lies behind the German announcement that they are opening the S. S. Elite corps to volunteers from 17 to 45.

Germany has had conscription, of course, for many years—any man in the reich was subject to military service at the fuhrer's will. Why volunteers at this stage of the game? It might be a publicity play to announce later a flood of volunteers, thus showing the world the great and enthusiastic support of Hitler. It might mean that among men of 45, many of whom are probably world war veterans, Hitler prefers to have in his S. S. corps only those who volunteer. A draft of men of this age might include many who remember too well the free days of the Weimar republic, and who are less pliable nazis than the younger men. It might mean only that it is preferred to take men at those ages whose responsibilities are such that they can serve with minimum inconvenience. But even that suggests that industrial manpower may be short.

This is one to put aside and remember later when more information becomes available.

They Catch On Quick

A PIONEER English farmer, no doubt one whose ancestors doubt before King John demanding Magna Carta, is growing an acre of American-style sweet corn for sale. This is so daring an innovation that the London papers have seen fit to explain it, thus:

"Corn is a favorite food in America... It is also regarded as a great delicacy by Anglo-Indians throughout the east. The cob is boiled for 15 minutes and served like a potato in its jacket. The leaves are removed, butter or margarine is spread over the corn, and it is sprinkled with pepper and salt.

"Then, holding it at the ends, you nibble the corn like a rabbit."

While the manner of recommended service may fall short of true American standards, the description of the technique of eating is perfect.

Maybe Britain is going to get something out of the war, after all; the privilege of eating sweet corn may not be worth a war, but it's worth a lot.

F. M. Wilkins, Leading Eugene Citizen, Passes

EUGENE, Sept. 5.—(AP)—Francis Marion Wilkins, 93, Eugene pioneer and leading citizen, died at his home Friday. His parents, Mitchell and Parmelia Allen Wilkins crossed the plains to Oregon in 1847, first making their home at Oregon City where Mr. Wilkins was born.

He was graduated from the Portland Business college in 1889 and in 1872 married Miss Emily Goltra of Eugene.

Mr. Wilkins was a member of the Eugene school board from 1888 to 1894, and was chairman of the city park board for 31 years.

He is survived by four daughters.

Father of B. H. Laird Of Roseburg Passes

Funeral services will be held at Dora, Ore., at 2 p. m. Sunday for J. Laird, who died at his home at Coquille, Thursday. He was the father of B. H. Laird, Roseburg resident.

German Volunteers

AT this distance, it is hard to guess what lies behind the German announcement that they are opening the S. S. Elite corps to volunteers from 17 to 45.

Germany has had conscription, of course, for many years—any man in the reich was subject to military service at the fuhrer's will. Why volunteers at this stage of the game? It might be a publicity play to announce later a flood of volunteers, thus showing the world the great and enthusiastic support of Hitler. It might mean that among men of 45, many of whom are probably world war veterans, Hitler prefers to have in his S. S. corps only those who volunteer. A draft of men of this age might include many who remember too well the free days of the Weimar republic, and who are less pliable nazis than the younger men. It might mean only that it is preferred to take men at those ages whose responsibilities are such that they can serve with minimum inconvenience. But even that suggests that industrial manpower may be short.

This is one to put aside and remember later when more information becomes available.

They Catch On Quick

A PIONEER English farmer, no doubt one whose ancestors doubt before King John demanding Magna Carta, is growing an acre of American-style sweet corn for sale. This is so daring an innovation that the London papers have seen fit to explain it, thus:

"Corn is a favorite food in America... It is also regarded as a great delicacy by Anglo-Indians throughout the east. The cob is boiled for 15 minutes and served like a potato in its jacket. The leaves are removed, butter or margarine is spread over the corn, and it is sprinkled with pepper and salt.

"Then, holding it at the ends, you nibble the corn like a rabbit."

While the manner of recommended service may fall short of true American standards, the description of the technique of eating is perfect.

Maybe Britain is going to get something out of the war, after all; the privilege of eating sweet corn may not be worth a war, but it's worth a lot.

OUT OUR WAY

WHY MOTHERS GET GRAY

Ludwig Confesses U. S. Activities As German Spy

SPOKANE, Wash., Sept. 6.—(AP)—Kurt Frederick Ludwig, charged in New York with violation of the espionage laws and with conspiracy to violate the law, has admitted mailing to Europe vital information concerning the United States army, airplane production and ship movements, U. S. Attorney Lyle D. Keith said.

Ludwig, 35-year-old German American who has been characterized as the head of an international spy ring, was ordered by Federal Judge Schwellenbach to be returned to New York to stand trial.

His bond was continued at $50,000.

Keith told Ludwig's "partial confession" after Richard D. Auerbach, special F. B. I. agent had made reference to it in his testimony. Ludwig, however, has not admitted the espionage indictment against him.

"He has admitted sending vital military information through the mails, but he hasn't admitted the charges in the indictment," Keith explained. "In effect, he has admitted certain facts which are alleged in the indictment, but he has not confessed to the formal charge.

"He has admitted using the mails to transfer information concerning Mitchell field, certain airplane factories, certain troop movements, the armaments on certain vessels leaving American ports with munitions and descriptions of the vessels and their apparent points of destination.

"He has admitted mailing information on the number of planes at certain fields, on the production of planes in American factories and the things responsible for delay in production, and his opinion as to the delay in speeding plane production.

"He admits sending out technical information on planes and other implements of war manufactured in the United States, and the size of military contingents at certain fields and forts on the Atlantic seaboard and in the midwest.

"This information, he has admitted, was mailed to 'mail drops' in Portugal and Spain.

"He admits getting money for it and that he has not worked at a legitimate occupation since he returned to the United States in May 1940. He admits that under more or less mysterious circumstances he received money in amounts ranging from a few hundred dollars to as much as $2,000.

"He has told of receiving requests in code for particular information and transferring the

Oregon State Medical Society Names Officers

PORTLAND, Sept. 6.—(AP)—The Oregon State Medical society closed its annual convention yesterday with election of officers.

Dr. W. W. Baum, Salem, elected last year, became president. Others were: Dr. Thompson Coberth, The Dalles; Dr. R. W. Stearns, Klamath Falls; Dr. Raymond E. McKeown, Marshfield, vice-presidents.

Elected for three-year terms as councilors were E. H. McLean, Oregon City, first district; Dr. Henry Garjohst, Corvallis, third district; Dr. R. W. Hemingway, Bend, fifth district.

Named president for 1942-43 was Dr. George E. Henton, Portland.

Widow of Army Major Indicted for Murder

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 6.—(AP)—Mrs. Marie H. Tucker, 39, was indicted by the county grand jury yesterday on a charge of the murder of her husband, Major George A. Tucker, of the third coast artillery.

"Your honor, is there some way we can indict liquor when it is guilty in a case like this?" Charles Pierce, a member of the jury asked Superior Judge Scheinman, when the indictment was returned.

Judge Scheinman made no reply but ordered Mrs. Tucker to appear later for arraignment.

Funeral Services Held For F. R. Poulter's Baby

Services were held in the Fair Oaks cemetery, Thursday at 10 a. m. for the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred R. Poulter, of Sutherland. Rev. Mr. Manfred of Sutherland officiating. Arrangements were in care of the Stearns mortuary, Oakland.

League Standings

(By the Associated Press)

Pacific Coast
Team	W.	L.	Pct.
San Diego	91	65	.583
Sacramento	92	66	.582
Seattle	88	65	.575
Hollywood	76	80	.487
San Francisco	72	86	.456
Oakland	71	87	.449
Portland	67	87	.435
Los Angeles	66	87	.431
National
Team	W.	L.	Pct.
Brooklyn	85	47	.644
St. Louis	83	47	.638
Cincinnati	71	59	.546
Pittsburgh	71	60	.542
New York	62	66	.484
Chicago	60	74	.448
Boston	52	76	.406
Philadelphia	37	92	.287
American
Team	W.	L.	Pct.
New York	91	45	.670
Chicago	70	65	.519
Boston	70	65	.519
Cleveland	66	65	.503
Detroit	64	70	.474
St. Louis	59	73	.447
Philadelphia	58	74	.439
Washington	54	75	.419

James H. Robinson Dies Here at Age of 70

James Heston Robinson, 70, died Thursday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Claire Edwards, of Roseburg, after a short illness. He was born in Nashville, Tenn., May 6, 1871. For the past 16 years he had been a resident of Sutherland. He was married in Los Angeles, Calif., Dec. 2, 1903, to Miss Rebecca Jane Dunlap, who died several years ago. Mr. Robinson was a member of the Methodist church.

He is survived by a son Cecil R. Robinson, Berkeley, Calif.; a

San Diego Grabs Coast League Lead From Sacramento

Padres Win 16-Inning Battle With Hollies; Beavers Take 2 Games, 2-0, to Quit Cellar

By the Associated Press

Ruefully, the Sacramento Solons looked backward today to that pleasant time, only a few weeks ago, when they held a comfortable Coast league lead of 16 games and everybody was conceding them the pennant.

So when they awoke this morning they could hardly believe their own eyes when they saw the San Diego Padres were leading them by one percentage point—583 to .582.

San Diego took the league leadership by beating Hollywood, 5-3, in a terrific 16-inning battle last night while Sacramento was dropping a 2-1 decision to second-division Oakland. It was Sacramento's third defeat in a row.

Seattle, meantime, edged up to within a game and a half of first place by nipping Los Angeles, 6-0.

The Rainiers, 1939 and 1940 pennant winners, had an easy time with Los Angeles. Webber showed excellent control, holding the Angels to five hits.

The Los Angeles defeat, coming at the same time that Portland was winning a pair of 2-0 victories over the San Francisco Seals, pushed the Angels into the cellar as Portland climbed out.

The San Diego Padres, in going into first place, had to do it the hard way. Hollywood gave them no help in last night's game. The teams were tied at 1-1 for nine innings, beginning in the seventh. In the sixteenth, the Padres scored four tallies before being retired and held the Stars to two runs in the same inning, to make the final count, 5-3, for San Diego. Schulte, Hollywood second sacker, made 16 assists to set a new league record.

Hard Luck for Munger

Sacramento's defeat by Oakland, its third in a row, was harder on Hurler Munger than anybody else. Munger pitched two-hit ball for Sacramento through eight innings and then lost the game because the umpire ruled he had balked.

The Senator's downfall came in the eighth inning, when it looked like they were a cinch to win, with a 1-0 lead and Munger and all his mates working smoothly. The Oaks came to bat and Devaurs smashed out a two-bagger. Conroy singled, Salvenson fanned, Duzzeaboo doubled to score Devaurs and tie the score.

Chapman was the next batter, and Munger looked him over carefully, meantime keeping an eye on Conroy. Then the umpire ruled that Munger had balked, and Conroy trotted home with the winning tally.

Portland's climb from the cellar was largely due to the hurling abilities of Hilleher, who whiffed 10 San Francisco batsmen in the first, and Hurler Orell, who struck out seven Seals in the ninth.

DAILY DEVOTIONS DR. CHAS. A. EDWARDS

The healing of the blind man throws light on the meaning of faith. It is not the acceptance of a creed, or the defense of the shade of meaning of a word. The faculty of faith was not given to man to create orthodoxes or heresies. Faith is what men live by. "Man" it has been said is a wicket gate swinging between the seen and the un seen world. Faith is opening the gate to the invisible world. It is the conviction that we live in a world changed with possibilities. The blind man believed that he could have his eyes opened. It was unto him according to this faith. There is for every individual a greater wisdom, a whiter purity, a deeper peace, happier human relationships, greater achievements, more skill, of health, and of wealth, and a greater Christlikeness than he has yet experienced. A man's faith is the degree to which he believes these things are possible from God, and according to his faith so shall it be unto him. "A faith that shines more bright and clear, when tempter's rage without; that when in darkness feels no doubt." Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace whose mind is stayed upon Thee. Amen.

Dodgers, Cardinals Face Deciding Bill In National League

By JUDSON BAILEY Associated Press Sports Writer These are the dog days in baseball.

The American league pennant has been won. The race in the National has narrowed down to the Brooklyn Dodgers and St. Louis Cardinals.

The three games these teams will play at St. Louis—Thursday, Friday and Saturday night—will be long way toward settling things. They're the games everybody is waiting for.

Durocher is grooming his Dodger pitching staff for them. Fred Fitzsimons, 34 and 40, is slated to pitch the first game and won't work until then.

Wyatt will work the second contest and Curt Davis the third, both getting a grooming in the series this week-end with the Giants.

Southworth will counter with Ernie White and Howard Pollet in the first two engagements and, if these two left-handers get along all right, he may throw another southpaw, Max Lanier, at the Dodgers in the final tilt.

The Pirates split a doubleheader with Cincinnati yesterday to stay a half game out of third place. In the opener Joost hit a homer with the bases loaded to climax Cincinnati's eight-run rally in the eighth and give Deringer a 10-4 victory. In the nightcap Dietz pitched six-hit ball for a 1-0 triumph over Starr, who allowed only five hits in his debut with the Reds.

Auker pitched a five-hitter as the White Sox, 3-1, last night to toss Chicago back into a tie with Boston.

Move—Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Dishman have moved from 314 West Lane street to 457 Pitzer street.

Three-Man Power Control Plan Hit By Secy. Ickes

TACOMA, Sept. 6.—(AP)—Stepping squarely into the center of the one-man versus three-man Columbia river power control fight, Secretary Harold L. Ickes took a Tacoma audience last night that it was "rank balderdash" to believe a three-man board would mean freedom, independence and local control.

Ickes, who seeks to have control of the Bonneville-Grand Coulee setup vested in the secretary of the interior, spoke before the Washington-Oregon public ownership convention in the home town of Senator Homer T. Bone (D., Wash.), an opponent of one-man control and author of a bill which would establish a Columbia river authority with a three man board.

"Our over-burdened president prefers to have Bonneville directly under the supervision of the secretary of the interior," Ickes said.

Objecting to the three man man board, he quoted Roosevelt as saying, "If you are going to do that I shall have to ask for two additional presidents because one simply could not do a proper job if a number of three-man boards were to report directly to him."

Praise of Dr. Raver, present Bonneville administrator, was voiced by Ickes in pointing out the inconsistency of his opponents who admit Dr. Raver is doing a good job but still clamor for a three-man board.

"I can understand why the private utilities should want to replace Dr. Raver with a three-man man board... they can't control Raver... but they have a chance that one or two members of a three-man board would hamstring him."

The convention later adopted without debate a resolution calling for arbitration and compromise on the proposed "home-rule" bill of Senator Bone and thus sidestepped the problem which was felt might break up the meeting into two opposing factions.

OLD FASHIONED REVIVAL

Charles E. Fuller, Director
Old Hymns and Gospel Preaching
KRRR
Sundays, 5:00 P. M.
1490 Kilocycles
Continuously International Gospel Broadcast

VACATION!
At Beautiful Natureland

JUST SOUTH OF BANDON ON THE BEACH

- Beautiful grounds, artistically designed.
- Private drive to beach.
- Clamming, fishing and surf bathing.
- Excellent dining room service.

Reasonable Rates for Day or Week

NATURELAND COTTAGES
Bandon, Oregon

TOPS 'EM ALL!

James H. Robinson Dies Here at Age of 70

James Heston Robinson, 70, died Thursday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Claire Edwards, of Roseburg, after a short illness. He was born in Nashville, Tenn., May 6, 1871. For the past 16 years he had been a resident of Sutherland. He was married in Los Angeles, Calif., Dec. 2, 1903, to Miss Rebecca Jane Dunlap, who died several years ago. Mr. Robinson was a member of the Methodist church.

He is survived by a son Cecil R. Robinson, Berkeley, Calif.; a

James H. Robinson Dies Here at Age of 70

James Heston Robinson, 70, died Thursday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Claire Edwards, of Roseburg, after a short illness. He was born in Nashville, Tenn., May 6, 1871. For the past 16 years he had been a resident of Sutherland. He was married in Los Angeles, Calif., Dec. 2, 1903, to Miss Rebecca Jane Dunlap, who died several years ago. Mr. Robinson was a member of the Methodist church.

He is survived by a son Cecil R. Robinson, Berkeley, Calif.; a

19TH CENTURY COMPOSER

HORIZONTAL

1 Wild animal tracks.

7 Checkered materials.

13 Timorous.

14 Regains strength.

16 Eight (comb.).

17 Symbol for iron.

18 Poem.

20 Female saints (abbr.).

21 Barriers.

22 Spring (abbr.).

24 It is (poet.).

25 Hinders.

27 Engineering degree (abbr.).

28 Elevated (abbr.).

29 Levels.

32 Actual.

33 Ruin.

35 Musical note.

36 Inquires.

38 Doctor in training.

43 Right (abbr.).

44 Famous gulfer.

45 Obtain.

47 Cement.

52 Paid (abbr.).

53 On.

55 Upriser.

57 Used in winter.

58 Exclamation.

59 Near.

60 Ovum (arch.).

61 Falsehood.

62 Keep hidden.

65 Reverbate.

67 Sounds.

68 Blackboards.

VERTICAL

1 Capable of being cut.

2 Heads.

3 Girl's name (poes.).

4 Belonging to.

5 Kind of fish.

6 Rain and snow, increment.

7 Those who procrastinate.

8 Burdens.

9 Alcoholic drinks.

10 Prefix.

11 Diamonds (abbr.).

12 Snake.

13 Famous composer.

15 Emphasis.

22 Compass point.

26 Apparent.

29 Shut.

30 Comparative suffix.

31 Letter of the alphabet.

34 Metal fastener.

36 Protests.

37 First name of 13 vertical.

39 Till sale (abbr.).

40 Concerning.

41 Table linens.

42 Whirled.

46 Towards.

48 Make a speech.

49 Ceremonies.

50 Towards.

51 Lead.

54 Political faction.

56 A girl's name.

57 Turn around.

63 Company (abbr.).

64 Corpse.

66 Old Testament (abbr.).

ANSWER TO PREVIOUS PUZZLE

LEIS RUDYARD JITE
ORIT APPOINTED LARA
ONE ISSUE SONER

MENTION NUNO SETH
ACENT NOUNIC SETH
NOB ISSW HELD
ANAT SOABARS REI
GOT SCABARS SLUE AN
DYNAMIS KIPPLING
KILLER PIPIN
DAVE ALLEGATO TOV
ALL ALLEGATO EVA
SEE RAMDABT KAM

1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12
13 14 15
16 17 18 19
20 21 22 23
24 25 26 27
28 29 30 31
32 33 34
35
36 37 38 39 40 41 42
43 44
45 46 47 48 49 50
51 52
53 54 55 56 57
58 59 60 61
62 63 64 65 66
67