CHARMING SHOWER PARTY IS GIVEN

MYRTLE CREEK, Oct. 21.—The Christian Ladies Aid bloomed out into quite a festive affair Thursday afternoon when it was transformed into a bridal shower for Miss Marjorie Abbott, whose coming marriage to Roger Cooper of Bremerton, has been announced.

Tables in the dining room were attractively decorated with grapevine streamers, with apples, pears, grapes and figs adding their seasonal beauty.

A small table, at which the honored guest presided, was decorated with a miniature bride and groom in front of a little white church, and a small red automobile stood by in readiness to render assistance.

Each guest was handed a clothpin on which to inscribe her name. These were attached to the gifts which were carried to Marjorie's table by her classmates, Joyce Aid, Audrey Starbuck, Marjorie Curtis and Nadia Dyer.

At the long table Mrs. Homer Abbott, mother of the bride-to-be, sat at the head, and Mrs. Bess Sellers, mother of the groom sat at the foot. Covers were placed for and refreshments were served to Mrs. Nettie Snodgrass, Iris Ady, Cora Stone, Ada Trask, Mae Shirliff, Cecelia Sellers, Tillie Yocom, Allie Dyer, Veva Wimer, Zula Dyer, Lorraine Ireland, Ruth Wynter, Veneta Whitney, Bessie Vaughn, Bertha Whitney, Bessie Maddox, Cina Buell, Rena Naas, Mabel Rhodes, Laura Bates, Ruth Thorsen, Ethel Chase.

Control of Farm Prices Advocated By Secy. Wickard

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Wickard gave his support today to price-control legislation which would authorize ceilings on farm products at not less than 110 per cent of parity, but declared that agricultural commodities were not to high yet.

Recalling trials of farmers growing out of the inflationary and deflationary periods of the first world war, the secretary said: "I do not believe that the American economy can stand a repetition of anything like that."

Wickard's statement was made before a house banking committee considering an administration-supported price control bill. Greater Production Needed

Wickard declared, however, that price control alone would not prevent inflation. As for agriculture, he said, the surest preventive was increased production. He said the agriculture department had inaugurated a program designed to give this country its greatest production of food and crops next year.

"Like other farmers," the secretary said, "I have watched with mingled pleasure and fear these recent price increases for farm products. I think the pleasure is understandable enough after 20 years of unfairly low farm prices. Even greater than the pleasure, though, is the fear of what happens when prices get too high. They are certainly not there now. But speaking as one farmer, I hope they never do get there."

Wheat Penalty Opposed
The senate agriculture committee approved today legislation that would remove the penalty of about 49 cents a bushel on so-called excess wheat for farmers with short crops.

The measure already has been passed by the house. A similar bill was vetoed by President Roosevelt several weeks ago when congress attached riders seeking to freeze government loan stocks of wheat and cotton.

As a separate bill, the wheat penalty modification won a recommendation from the secretary of agriculture and unanimous approval of the senate committee.
