

Activities In Instruction In First Aid Listed

The First Aid Instructors club received a report of numerous activities at the meeting attended Monday by 18 members. The meeting was conducted by Roy Parslow and Jack Robertson. Alvin Knudston reported that 40 police reservists of the civilian defense committee had been enrolled for a 10-weeks course of instruction. Roy Huffman will assist Mr. Knudston in conducting the weekly classes for the police reservists.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Metzger are organizing a class at Sutherland, meeting Sunday evenings.

Mrs. Tom Parkinson and Mrs. Roy Young will conduct a class at Drain, beginning next week.

The business and professional women's club in Roseburg has asked for a class and Alan Reich and Mrs. Geraldine Sheehy were assigned as instructors.

Mary Hollinger and Lois Baker will instruct the motor corps group of 15 members.

A number of communities have requested that instructors be made available and the balance of the membership of 28 persons in the instructors club will be assigned to classes in the near future, it was reported.

Local school teachers, the club reports, have been doing an excellent job. Miss Vera Fredrickson has a Junior Red Cross class of 32 pupils at Rose school. Elinor Sherk has a class of 30 at Fullerton school, while Bruce Mellis has a standard class of 25 at senior high school. Jack Robertson and Verna Carothers are organizing mobile units and will be in charge of the groups. Instruction will be furnished all civilian defense groups now being organized.

Chairmen of the various departments of the instructors club include Roy Parslow, first aid; Jack Robertson, civilian defense coordinator; Al Reich, equipment and supplies; Alan Knudston and James Osborne, mobile and highway stations; Alvin Knudston, Roy Huffman, Verna Carothers, detachments; Dr. B. B. Shoemaker, medical advisor; Mrs. Roy Young, recording secretary.

Jitney Jamboree Set At Roseburg Junior High Oct. 25

Witches, black cats, agonized groans, clammy handclaps, bats, beetles and wierd incantations are a few of the eerie but time-honored manifestations of Halloween scheduled for the public attending the Junior Jitney Jamboree at Roseburg Junior high school at 8 p. m., Saturday, Oct. 25.

The jamboree is an annual event, sponsored by the student body as a benefit to the student body fund. Students at junior high school do not pay a student-body fee, and the funds from the jamboree are used for student body activities.

This year an enthusiastic faculty-student committee, under the chairmanship of Miss Irene Greenbaum, has arranged a pep program to augment the usual laugh-producing and prize-giving concessions. Various prizes are to be awarded to persons attending the entertainment, and prizes also will be awarded for the best costumes worn by junior high school pupils.

Hobo King Starts Hoboette Round-Up

SEATTLE, Oct. 21. (AP)—Jeff Davis, king of the hoboes, who has spent most of his life rounding up his fellow knights of the road, was embarked today on a unique venture for his colorful career—a roundup of the lassies on the road in the interest of national defense.

He said trustees of the Order of Hoboettes have asked him to do what he could to get the feminine wanderers off the roads in the west and into such activities as nursing and others that would be of value in the national emergency.

"Hoboes have made the supreme sacrifice of going to work for the duration," Davis commented, "and the Hoboette cards will be taken away from any girls or women who don't give up their wandering within three weeks."

Davis estimated 10,000 members of the Hoboette order were on the road, hopping from here to there after brief stops for work as waitresses, chewing gum girls or in homes.

What would forfeiture of their cards mean?

"Say, those cards are valuable," the hobo king ("and explain that I'm duly elected") explained.
