This week all daily and weekly newspapers in Oregon outside the city of Portland will carry the first of a series of advertisements for the United States Navy.

The first advertisement of the series will be printed in the News-Review tomorrow. We mention it in advance hoping for maximum attention for this important message.

This is no ordinary advertising campaign. Newspaper advertising space is being used for the purpose because it is a quick and efficient method of doing a mass selling job.

12,000,000 Volunteers Wanted!

THE American Red Cross had something like 20,000,000 members in the days of World War I.

What more is to be said? The job before the American people is clear. It would require 12,000,000 new Red Cross members merely to equal the record of World War I.

The Red Cross will soon begin its annual membership roll call. Let's prepare now to give it a response that will be heard 'round the world.

THE Japanese press (which like all the dictator-controlled press of the world does what it is told to do and says what it is told to say) asserts today that Secretary Knox' forecast of inevitable collision with Japan unless she abandons her conquest plans is "sheer American bluff."

It is true that a lot of bluffing is being done on both sides, but in such a situation you never can tell when somebody will start shooting.

With hot heads around, one never knows what may happen.
