The Song of Bread

A MAN said in a prose poem that smacked of semi-Biblical beauty and truth: "Love bread, heart of the home, savor of the rest, joy of health; "Respect bread, sweat of the brow, pride of labor, poem of sacrifice; "Honor bread, glory of the fields, fragrance of the earth, feast of life;

And his people believed him. They knew the truth of what he said long before he said it. For centuries upon centuries the peasant people tilled their fields, sowed the wheat, reaped the harvest, turned it into flour, baked it into bread, made it the true staff of life not only for themselves, but for the poor and humble workers in the congested cities.

A little bread, a little wine, a little freedom was all the people asked. Then the man took their freedom away from them. But still they had their bread and their wine. Still they were fairly content, for they had peace with their simple meals.

Then the man took their peace away from them. He sent their sons into battles on the sea, on the land and in the air. They grieved, for they did not want the war. But still they had their bread.

Then the man took part of their bread away from them. He said the war made it necessary. He reminded them of the slogan he had painted and carved all over the country: "Work, obey, fight."

Still the people, the older people, worked and obeyed while their sons fought. But there was hollowness in their stomachs and concealed bitterness and rebellion in their hearts.

The people are the Italians. The man is Mussolini. Hunger and privation and suffering and wounds and death are the price the people pay for having a Mussolini.

Cheers for Cucujil!

IT'S a nuisance for many of us. Every month we get one of those pesky bills for electric current. Almost makes a fellow want to move down to the balmy shores of Mexico facing the big Gulf. For we are reliably informed that electric light bills are totally unknown down there. All the lucky folks have to do is go out in their garden and capture a handful of cucujil.

Never heard of them? Well, they are a sort of greenish-black beetle that produces a phosphorescent light. Put half a dozen of them in a little bamboo cage and they will give as much light as a 15-watt electric bulb.

Ho, hum, let's turn out the cucujil beetles and go to sleep.

Doughboy's Clean Life

THE post property officer at Fort Dix in New Jersey, where a large number of Uncle Sam's selectees are being trained for the army, is getting writer's cramp. Half his time is consumed in scribbling requisitions for soap.

Not only did he recently ask for 25,000 cakes of face soap, but also for 135,000 tablets of laundry soap, 10 tons of dishwashing powder, and 13,200 pounds of soap grit for cleaning pots and pans. It's pretty evident that when the Army gets through with them, all those lads are going to make excellent husbands. They will be able to launder a handkerchief and polish a pan with the best of them. That's national preparedness, that is.

Editorials on News

Russia must rely heavily on British and AMERICAN aid. The port of Archangel, on the White sea, is the QUICKEST way for such aid to arrive. The Germans will seek to close the Archangel gate. Leningrad, if it can be held, will be a stumbling block in their way.

FROM Kuhlshes, where part of the soviet government has already gone, come reports that Russia is gathering, arming and training new armies back of the Volga. Russia's job from now on is to retain strength enough to remain as a threat to the German flank. With the approach of winter, the fighting will probably shift to the south. During the winter, Russia must reorganize her forces.

All this, of course, is based on the supposition that Russia will go on fighting.

WHAT of us? Our job will be to produce equipment enough to keep the Russians and the British ARMED and able to fight and to GET IT TO THEM.

President Roosevelt's Navy Day speech leaves little doubt that the navy will be used to get it to them after it is made.

THE first job is to MAKE IT. If we fail in that supremely important job, the consequences will not be pleasant.

CONGRESS is beginning debate on amendment of the neutrality act to permit American ships to enter the war zones. It is already debating arming of them.

It is a foregone conclusion that amendment will be approved. The neutrality act was a gesture in the first place, designed to say that this war was no concern of ours and that we proposed to stay away from it.

If we are to arm the enemies of Hitler and GET THE ARMA-MENT TO THEM, we can't stay away from it.

Horace Berg Appointed Agent of Insurance Co.

Appointment of Horace Berg as special agent for the Prudential Life Insurance company for the Roseburg area was announced today by John W. Gallagher, Eugene, assistant manager. Mr. Berg recently sold his interest in the Douglas County creamery to Richard Willett, with whom he had been associated in business here for the last 26 years. Mr. Berg, in assuming his new position, expressed appreciation for patronage of the past years and expressed the hope he would be able to give the same type of efficient service in his new endeavor.

He has been very active in civic affairs during his residence here, serving as a member of the school board for a number of years, besides being active as a manager of the municipal and school bands.

Delinquency Causes Told In Address at Rotary

Broken homes and poverty are the principal influences contributing to juvenile delinquency. W. A. Johnson, judge of Josephine county, told Roseburg Rotarians at the weekly club meeting held Thursday at the Umpqua hotel. More than one-half of the children who appear before the juvenile court of Josephine county for delinquency, Judge Johnson said, come from homes that have been broken by divorce. Poverty is the second greatest cause of juvenile delinquency.

He told of the 22 institutions established in Oregon for the care of children, and stated that the court has authority to place children in an institution deemed most advisable. He advised the opinion, however, that delinquent children have a far greater opportunity for correction if they can be placed in private homes.

Rummage Sale Saturday—The September and October project committees of the Catholic church will sponsor its closing rummage sale Saturday, November 1, at the former Maddox grocery building on North Jackson street. Mrs. T. H. Ness, Mrs. J. A. Harding, Mrs. R. L. Carpenter, Mrs. F. Ritzman, Mrs. Harris Ellsworth and Miss Helen Casey will be in charge of the sale.

Defense Quiz

Q. How does a voluntary payroll allotment plan for enabling employees to buy Defense Savings Bonds operate?
A. After the Defense Savings program has been clearly explained, employees state what amount of Defense Savings Stamps or Bonds the company is to buy for them each pay day from their earnings. When enough Stamps have been accumulated, the company exchanges them for Bonds, which are delivered to the employees.
Q. What is the fundamental aim of the Treasury Department's Defense Savings Program?
A. To create an immense reservoir of American savings through systematic investment in their government's securities by all the people.
Note—To buy Defense Bonds and Stamps, go to the nearest post office, bank or savings and loan association; or write to the Treasurer of the United States, Washington, D. C. Also Stamps are on sale at retail stores.
