American Legion Auxiliary Activities

By MRS. CLAUDE BAKER
Next Tuesday night at eight o'clock at the army the American Legion Auxiliary will hold its regular bi-monthly meeting with Mrs. Irvin Riegel, president, presiding. On Monday night preceding the senior meeting, the junior group will meet at 7:00 at the home of the advisor, Mrs. James Young to install officers. Gertrude Pierce will be installed as president; Audrey Roselund, vice-president; Ruth Ann Ruhl, treasurer, and historian Jerry Merchant. Refreshments will be served until school was started and the girls settled, they should start the year with their usual energy.

Listen at 5:00 o'clock for the radio program of the auxiliary with Sue Parkinson at the microphone. This correspondent must teach the motor corps first aid class that night at 7:30 but will manage to get part of the auxiliary meeting at 8:00. Mrs. Roy Young and Mrs. Tom Parkinson went to Drains Tuesday night for their first aid class which they will conduct there.

Did you see the navy day windows? The auxiliary wishes to thank those who have contributed to an interesting display. Many persons have viewed it while it has been up. We wish to thank the staff of the "Wheel of Fortune" for requesting the pictures and each of you who have sent them in. Would you mind going all the way and calling for them. They will be at the chamber of commerce office. We were highly flattered when a request came for a picture of the windows to be sent to Washington, D. C. to be made a part of the permanent navy day government record. Are those not a fine looking group of fellows? Could you tell the dads from the new "crop"? See that innocent expression on Roy Young's face? And did you see Crit? And how many recognized a face you see often in the post office? Would you have known Carl Roselund? And did you see "Life"? And the navy band? All pictures of our own boys. It's your window, we hope you all saw it. We thank Helen Casey for its use. She has most generously allowed us the use of her building for various affairs.

We trust you will cooperate completely in the blackout tonight. If you think you will be anxious when the siren is to sound you should see those at the filter station. When the buzzer sounds each person immediately notes whether it is his station which is called. He or she actually, though an officer is on hand to be sure calls and plotting are correct, must note with care where the plane is and its travel direction. This is phoned into Eugene and Portland before the plane will arrive so that were it an enemy they would be prepared. So you see how important it is that the blackout be successful, how much they need each of us to do his part. Put a blue cellophane over your lights if you must use them. We do not wish to be even theoretically bombed. Do your part, the American Legion auxiliary urges.

We hope that each of you will try to help the Red Cross this year. The auxiliary child welfare rooms have been moved from the second to the third floor of the Medical Arts building. The auxiliary will sew each Wednesday there at two o'clock for the Red Cross. Be there, urges Bess Riegel, president.

See Peg Young if you can help plant playgrounds. The Rose school playground must be planned at once to have it finished early.

Membership in the unit this year is greater at this time than at any time in recent years. Perhaps it is world conditions but none seems to wish to let her membership lapse in so great an organization. Have you seen Flossie Pounds to be sure you are one of the group.

Did you see that gorgeous sunrise Thursday morning. That red reflection on the flaky clouds? At the same time the "Sons of the Pioneers" had just come on and Bob Nolan's lovely song, "The Touch of God's Hand" was getting us into the mood of the day. Every sunset, every desert, every mountain, he said was the touch of God's hand. I like to be bustled around to those tunes, don't you? Gives us a treat with our commercial. That's just what the unit does. Come out Tuesday and see.

S. D. C. GRANGE TO MEET SATURDAY NIGHT
Soutn Deer Creek grange will hold regular business meeting at the hall Saturday, Nov. 1st, beginning with a potluck supper, to be served at 7:30. Those arriving on or before 7:30 will be given a number for the winning of a door prize. All members urged to be present.
