DAILY DEVOTIONS

DR. CHAS. A. EDWARDS

The outstanding pillars of democracy are the ten commandments which teach us our duty toward God and our duty toward our fellowman.
They are all summed up in the later commandment of Christ to love God with all one's heart and mind and soul and strength, and to love one's neighbor as one's self.
Above everything else the founders of America knew what some of us are too ready to forget, that the rights for which we stand are bestowed upon all men by their Creator.
They are not granted to some men by other men. Consequently only where true religion is strong can democracy with its recognition of the rights of men be strong. We have a duty to deal justly toward our neighbors because they are men like ourselves with the same rights and the same desires for life and happiness. In the Declaration of Independence we find the American conviction that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights, that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness, that governments exist not for themselves, but to secure these rights for the people, that the only powers governments have are granted from the consent of the governed.
Amen.

morning.
