ernor Sprague today proclaimed November 20 as Thanksgiving November 20 as triansgiving day, asking Oregon citizens to "use this occasion to light anew the candles of our faith in the fatherhood of God and the ulti-fatherhood of God and the ultimate brotherhood of man." The date, the third Thursday in the month, is the same as pro-claimed by President Rooseven and by the governors of most other states. Next year, how-ever, the date will be changed back to the traditional last Thursday of the month.

The text of the proclamation: "Thursday, the twentieth day of November, 1941, has been ap-pointed a day of thanksgiving for the United States of America by the president thereof, the Honorable Franklin D. Roose, velt, Now therefore I, Charles Sprague, governor of the state of Oregon, do proclaim said Thursday, the twentieth day of No vember next, as Thanksgiving day for Oregon, to be observed as a public holiday. "Measured by the statistics of the market-place this year has been a prosperous one for all our people. Production of farms and factories has been at high and profitable levels.
