Dark Age Threatened

PERHAPS one of the most serious consequences of the nazis' rule of Germany and of their military victories in most of Europe is that they threaten to bring back to the Old World a recurrence of the Dark Ages when civilization was at one of its lowest ebb and when learning was almost blotted out.

Fear of just exactly that was voiced recently by Dr. E. A. Graham of St. Louis, president of the American College of Surgeons. He said if the nazis dominated the world after the present war, the atmosphere necessary for the growth of science and the spread of education would not exist. Speaking of his own sphere, he added that German surgery since Hitler came to power had been practically sterile.

What he said of surgery is true of the condition of all the arts and sciences. The Nazi bonfires of books they did not like were highly symbolical of the Hitler "New Order." Men's minds in Germany are no longer free. Their study is fettered. Their teaching is shackled. Professors must talk the kind of fake science that Nazi racial rubbish demands. Their art must be the kind that a one-time inept house painter can appreciate. The blight has fallen everywhere.

The German press is today nothing but a set of Goebbels-edited handbills. There was a time when the Berliner Tageblatt and the Frankfurter Zeitung ranked among the great papers of the world. German science and research were once at the top. Today many of its best men are in exile. Those who remain must servilely twist facts to suit Nazi theories.

Once the German theatre taught the world. Today it only holds up the mirror to nazidom. There was a time when German literature, even in translations, loaded the bookshelves. "Verboten" today are men like Erich Remarque of "All Quiet on the Western Front," Arnold Zweig of that war masterpiece, "The Case of Sergeant Grischka," and the great brothers, Thomas and Heinrich Mann, with their masterly novels.

The Nazi regime has found none among its followers worthy to untie the shackles of the authors who made 20th century German literature world famous. Those authors are no longer considered German. They have given a great legacy to the world, but they are disinherited by the land of their birth. It is a sad and sorry tale. It has its moral as all tales have.

Science and the arts flourish best in the warming sunshine of freedom. They wither in the dark cellar of tyranny.

A Tale of Tailors
AT last Mussolini's Italy has done it. The victory the great clown in Hitler's circus has longed for so ardently has come at last. The tailors have done for their Duke what his soldiers and sailors and airmen could not accomplish.

editors will be hard put to it for words to express their feelings.

Brace yourself for this news - trouser cuffs are a darn British invention and must no longer surround Italian ankles!

Editorials on News

PUTTING the Churchill and the Knox statements together leaves little doubt that Japan is being told to put up or shut up. What she will do remains to be seen.

It must be remembered that Japan is ruled by a military clique that lives by war and might PERISH by war.

FINLAND today (Wednesday) turns down the American warning to withdraw from the war with Russia or lose American friendship.

The Finnish note says: "Finland doesn't want to fight any longer than her vital security demands, but can't expose herself to future peril by artificially interrupting military operations before their objective is wholly realized."

The note adds: "If Finland had had sufficient strength during the 1939-40 winter war she would have done the same and surely nobody would have doubted the justice of Finnish operations."

THAT is a crack at Britain, which failed to come to Finland's aid in the winter war of 1939-40, and by indirection is a crack at the United States.

It seems to indicate that Finland is too much under the German thumb to quit fighting if she wanted to.

CHURCHILL says today: "We learned through Hess that Hitler originally counted more on starvation of the British than on invasion."

"Starvation having failed, he may be forced into invasion as soon as he can screw up his courage and make arrangements to take the plunge."

AS to starvation prospects, he says: "In the four months ending in October, Britain's shipping losses DROPPED ALMOST TWO-THIRDS."

He then tells of carrying the shipping war into the enemy's territory. "Britain and her allies," he says, "have sunk or seriously damaged nearly a million tons of axis shipping in the four months ending in October and destruction of axis shipping is proceeding with greater violence than before."

HE then adds: "In 1943, we shall have sufficient shipping to undertake OVERSEAS operations."

That sounds like an indirect answer to those who are clamoring for a British invasion of Europe NOW.

LETTERS to the Editor

PARKING ORDINANCE FOR BENEFIT OF FARMERS

Roseburg, Ore., Nov. 12, 1941
Editor News-Review: I note a letter to the editor, under date of Nov. 12, regarding the parking ordinance recently enacted by the Roseburg city council.

This ordinance was passed by the council after it had been petitioned to do so by a joint committee of the service clubs and the chamber of commerce here in Roseburg. This ordinance was not aimed at the farmers trading in Roseburg, but rather was designed to be of benefit to them.

The police department is attempting to use good judgment in the enforcement of this ordinance in that the available parking space will be utilized by the shoppers and not as all-day garage facilities by local merchants and office workers.

Biblical Views To Be Shown, Oakland

Colored pictures on "Biblical Archaeology; Palestine and Fulfilled Prophecies," will be shown in the Community church, Oakland, November 16, 17 and 18. Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at 7:30 p. m., by Miss Odette Rea Dunn, of Emmett, Idaho.

Sunday night, Miss Dunn will present recent pictures which reveal fulfillment of prophecy, showing the New Jerusalem built within the old city walls, and within boundary lines laid down by God through the prophet and recorded in Jeremiah 31:33-41. She will show pictures of the marvelous changes which the Jews are making in the land of Palestine, transforming it into a veritable paradise.

Monday night Miss Dunn will show pictures of the excavation of the ancient cities of Jericho, Samaria and Babylon, which have been buried under the ground and lost to all knowledge of man.

Tuesday night the subject will be "Animals of Adam's day; and Excavations of Ur of the Chaldees."

There will be no charge for admission, but a free will offering will be taken. The public is invited to attend.

A popular sport in central Asia in recent years is to hunt with golden eagles, which have been trained to catch foxes, wolves, antelopes, and wild goats.
