WANDA ARMOUR ALTHAUS PRESENTS ADVANCED STUDENTS IN RECITAL

Wanda Armour Althaus presented her advanced students in a charming formal recital Wednesday evening at "Rose Studio," at the beautiful Althaus residence on West Douglas street. The recital opened with a class prayer. The musical background was lovely with Christmas greens, baby chrysanthemums and poinsettias in candlelight.

The many compliments from the guests praised the brilliant style and marked expression of every pupil taking part in the recital. Of special interest was the two-piano numbers featuring four students; original composition, "Meditation" by June Boyle; original composition of Franz Liszt to the strains of Liszt music by Betty Nachter, a student of the Garden valley school; original story of the life of Schubert to Schubert's Melodies by Marie Austin. Other numbers on the recital program were equally fine in the manner in which the students presented them.

Delicious refreshments were served later in the evening. The buffet table was beautifully appointed for the occasion. Betty Nachter cut leeks and Lila Mae Bond poured.

Students appearing in the recital were: Henrietta Johnson, Norman and Shirley Fisher, Dorothy Morberg, Betty Ann Johnson, Geraldine Merchant, Marie Austin, Doris Moran, Rachel Dora, June and Joan Boyle, Lila Mae Bond, Christina Trapalis, Betty Nachter and Betty Lee Hahn.

ART AND EMBROIDERY CLUB CHRISTMAS PARTY IS ENJOYABLE AFFAIR

The annual no-hostess turkey luncheon and Christmas party of the Roseburg Art and Embroidery club was one of the most delightful parties of the week, when it was held Wednesday at one o'clock at the home of Mrs. Cluck in West Roseburg.

Christmas tree favors and a very beautiful holiday motif decorated the long luncheon table, where covers were arranged for Mrs. Bergh, Mrs. Beals, Mrs. Bailey, Mrs. Cluck, Mrs. Cox, Mrs. Cornell, Mrs. Decker, Mrs. Darby, Mrs. Hoffmeister, Mrs. Houshell, Mrs. Lennie Houser, Mrs. Hawn, Mrs. Ingles, Mrs. Lucas, Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Neal, Mrs. Patty Napier (a new member), Mrs. Rhoads, Mrs. Stubblefield, Mrs. Stephenson, Mrs. Snyder and Mrs. Worthington.

Mrs. Cluck surprised the members by presenting a Christmas gift to everyone. Gifts were exchanged and a surprise game was held with Mrs. Beals winning the first prize and second prizes going to Mrs. Stephenson and Mrs. Rhoads.

The next meeting will be held January 7 at the home of Mrs. Bergh at 1275 Umpqua avenue.

Local Matron Wins Turkey Gown Prize

Mrs. Vernon Orr, nee Barbara Ott, was the winner of the $25.00 prize offered at the recent turkey show at Oakland for the best costume fashioned entirely from turkey feathers. Mrs. Orr designed and made the entire costume and explains in the following original poem written by her, of how she happened to enter the contest and the fashioning of the costume.

FUN WITH FEATHERS
I saw in the paper a few months ago,
Of contests galore at a real turkey show.
What took my eye most was a contest for those,
Who'd use turkey feathers to make all their clothes.

I went to the market where turkeys were picked,
I'd enter that contest although I got licked.
I gathered up feathers forever it seemed,
Their colors were many, they glistened and gleamed.

"That ought to hide something," a man said to me,
I'm glad that I weigh just a hundred and three.

I went to my home where I started my task,
"How long did it take me?" you laughingly ask.
It took me two months if it took me a day,
But twenty-five dollars is pretty good pay.

I sorted out feathers and started to sew,
I'd try the dress on as I finished each row.
I put in a zipper that opened in front,
For buttons in feathers would be hard to hunt.

And then came the day when I finished the great job,
I put on my feathers and faced the great mob.
I'm glad that I entered the contest that day,
For twenty-five dollars just simply "ain't" hay."

I stand here before you, my joy is complete,
With only one hardship I know I must meet.
My feathers are dirty, they need to be preened,
I'll bet I'm the FIRST turkey ever DRY-CLEANED.

Installation of the 1942 officers of Roseburg chapter of Eastern Star was a large and colorful event of Thursday evening at the Masonic temple.

The chapter room, decorated by the retiring worthy matron, Mrs. Maurice J. Newland, was unusually beautiful and carried out the holiday motif. A holy scene was arranged in front of the altar by the use of figurines and colored lights, while large sprays of fir greenery, tied with red cellophane bows and decorated with brilliant Christmas ornaments, banked the side walls and draperies. A potted poinsettia plant graced the pedestal at the five star points.

Installing officers included: Mrs. D. H. Morgan, matron; Mrs. Guy Cordon, marshal; Mrs. R. D. Williams, chaplain; Mrs. Homer Grow, organist.

New officers installed included: Worthy matron, Mrs. S. J. Shoemaker; worthy patron, Earl Wiley; associate matron, Gladys H. Strong; associate patron, G. M. Krell; secretary, Mrs. V. J. Nicell; treasurer, Pearl Jones; conductress, Mrs. H. H. Turner; associate conductress, Mrs. G. C. Finlay; chaplain, Mrs. John William Robertson; marshal, Mrs. O. M. Berrie; organist, Frances Lintott; Ada, Mrs. A. J. Ellison; Ruth, Mrs. G. W. Marshall; Esther, Mrs. J. P. Molschenbacher; Martha, Mrs. Earl Wiley; Electa, Eugenia Virden; warden, Mrs. J. McCuan and sentinel, Mrs. T. B.

Mrs. A. B. Taylor very charmingly sang, "O, Holy Night," and Mrs. W. M. Campbell (with Mrs. G. C. Finlay furnishing background piano music) told the beautiful Christmas story.

Refreshments were served at the close of the program at beautifully appointed tables in the banquet room. The long tables were colorful with sprays of holly, pine and tall red candles.

Mrs. Roy Catching and Mrs. Washington Hughes were joint chairmen of the hostess committee and were assisted by Mr. and Mrs. P. T. Bubar, Mrs. William Bell, Mrs. Edward G. Kohlhaugen, Miss Elaine Easton, Mrs. G. V. Wimberly, Mrs. George K. Quine, Mrs. Guy Cordon, Mrs. D. H. Morgan and Mrs. O. M. Berrie.
