American Legion Auxiliary Activities

By MRS. CLAUDE BAKER

Change of meeting time and place of the auxiliary was voted at the regular meeting this week. The unit will continue to meet each first and third week but will meet on Wednesdays for the first meeting hereafter. This meeting will take place at the Medical Arts child welfare rooms on the third floor, at noon for a potluck lunch after which business will be conducted and sewing done for the Red Cross. The second meeting will be held with the Legion as heretofore planned. Announcement of this will be made later. Red Cross sewing will be carried on each Wednesday at the rooms, where all those friends who would like to sew garments or make supplies are urged to attend. Next Wednesday at 2:00 the group will meet at room 305.

Several new committee appointments were made by the president, Mrs. Irvin Riegel, at the Tuesday meeting. Mrs. Harold Bender has been appointed on the nutrition and canteen committee. Announcement was made of the coming nutrition meeting to be held in the health rooms at the court house at 7:30 next Tuesday night. All those interested in nutrition are urged to be present to hear Mrs. Laura Wells, state consultant for the health department. She is a most interesting speaker, according to Mrs. Hazel Lytle, who is heading this work in Douglas county. "Proof of the pudding," a technicolor movie, will be shown. Each club should have at least two representatives present.

The auxiliary was most happy to welcome Mrs. Harry Boyle from Camas Valley. She and her Legionnaire husband have a long drive to attend meetings but her grin and chuckles are worth a mint to the unit. Canyonville Legionnaires were also present that evening. They have recently organized.

Poppies for the March sales were ordered. The poppies are being made now in veterans' hospitals throughout the country. Permission from the Legionnaire executive committee has been obtained to use proceeds of this poppy sale for "members of the present armed forces of the United States and their families, precedence being given in welfare work to families of veterans who have received injuries or have been killed in line of duty." Heretofore all revenue derived from the sales of the poppy has been used for welfare and rehabilitation work only, and has been restricted to the veterans of the World War and their families. The auxiliary is proud to announce that one of its members, Mrs. Victor Micelli, has been appointed as chairman for Douglas county on the state board for mobilization of women for voluntary defense work. In the event that any branch factory for defense products would be brought to Roseburg, the women enlisted would be paid union wages. They might be asked to take training, learning to make propellers, assemble motor parts or radios or to operate power machines, tractors or do wood working and clerical work.

Oregon is the first state to so enlist women. Other states are to follow. Feb. 16 to 26 has been designated as the enlistment period. Jan. 30 there will be a mass meeting in Roseburg called by Frances O'Connor to explain this new program which has been authorized by Gov. Sprague. Mrs. Saddle Orr Dunbar is state chairman.

The writer and Allen Riech are off to Yoncalla and a new first aid class. Mrs. Roy Young and Mrs. Tom Parkinson will give final exams to their Drain first aid classes next Tuesday night.

A NEW YEAR'S PRAYER

Dear God, be good to little things, No matter what the new year brings; To fluffy, playful, ball-like kittens, To brushed wool caps, and scarlet mittens; To soft fleece snow suits, and gashoses That have to take a lot of splashes, To sleds, and tops, and winding toys, And please, God, don't forget small boys.

Hitler's Hold On German People Not Yet Broken

By DeWITT MacKenzie (Wide World War Analyst)

A stroke of good fortune that could come to the allies would be a revolt in Germany and the consequent collapse of Herr Hitler. That perhaps accounts for the avidity with which a lot of folk are seizing on reports of disaffection in the Hitlerian ranks and trying to squeeze over-much juice out of this turnip. The tendency to wishful thinking probably has been increased by the seriousness of the allied position in these opening days of the battle of the Pacific—the effort being to offset the uncomfortable facts that for the moment we apparently must take it in the neck from the Japs.

Because of the danger that allied peoples may get a distorted view of the military position, and become too confident, spokesmen for the British foreign office has warned that reports of impending revolt in Germany should be treated with extreme reserve. That's good advice. We shouldn't forget the adage about counting our chickens, et cetera. The reports in question cover two points. One is that there is disaffection among Hitler's army officers and men. His recent shelving of several of his high command is cited in substantiation. The other is that there is growing discontent among the German people because of privations and military reverses. London newspapers have published a statement that the Nazi government has set up machine-gun posts throughout Berlin and other key cities to combat any attempt to overthrow the Hitler regime.

Of course, the allies have been working overtime ever since the war started to bring about a revolution in Germany. That has been one of their cardinal points of strategy. They haven't forgotten that the German army and people cracked in 1918. However, the allied command never for a moment has lost sight of the fact that there must be a combination of military and economic pressure to achieve victory.

Hitler's hold on his people has been, and may well still be, one of the most remarkable phenomena of our time. Even those who have condemned many of his policies, such as his persecution of the churches and the Jews, still have held that he has done great things for the fatherland. I encountered that attitude throughout Germany myself.

Some of his more fanatical followers regard him as a Messiah—literally so.

However, Germans as a whole have been following not ideals or political doctrines but their faith in the capabilities of an individual to achieve what he has set out to do. Undoubtedly much of this has been just faith in Hitler's uncanny good luck, which has accompanied his unquestionable skill.

Thus we have a situation in which the people of the reich will have lost everything if they lose their faith in this one man.

Registration of Civilian Fliers in Roseburg Asked

Registration of all local civilians holding private flying licenses is desired immediately at the office of the Roseburg chamber of commerce, Harry Pinniger, defense coordinator, announced today. The registration, he states, is preliminary to the formation of a civilian air patrol, which will take over patrol and scouting duties as a complement of the army air force.

Roseburg, it is announced, is to be made headquarters for a squadron of the civilian air patrol, and local pilots, who can qualify will be permitted to participate in the patrol. With dozens of local flying students holding licenses, as a result of the activities of the local flying clubs, it is anticipated that there will be little difficulty in organizing a patrol squadron here.
