

Huskies Defeat Vandals In Final 5-Minute Rally

MOSCOW, Idaho, Feb. 10.—(AP)—The University of Washington will be out to regain undisputed possession of the northern division Pacific coast conference basketball lead tonight when it attempts to duplicate last night's 44-37 victory over the Idaho Vandals.

Superior reserve strength enabled the Huskies to win last night's fracas as the Huskies fielded a well rested squad in the final five minutes to come from behind and walk off with the victory.

A dramatic duel between Husky forward Chuck Gilmur and the Vandal's star center, Ray Turner, highlighted the game until Turner fouled off half way through the second period as a result of his persistent close checking of Gilmur. The Husky ace walked off with scoring honors with 18 points, scoring 7 field goals and four free tosses.

Score at halftime had favored Washington, 19-17, but the Huskies dropped behind in the face of a steady Vandal attack until Idaho led 35-34. Coach Edmundson then sent in his starting line-up again for a last-minute victory. Washington and Washington State now both have seven wins against four defeats in conference play and a win tonight by the Huskies will give them a half game lead; a loss and they will trail by the same amount.

R. H. S. Debating Teams Make Good Showing

The Roseburg High school debate squad returned last week from a successful invasion of McMinnville, where they participated in the Linfield college debate tournament. One team, composed of Margaret Thompson and Jonathan Shephard on the affirmative and Jack Horn and Varney Baker on the negative, won five out of their first six preliminary debates and thus reached the final rounds. Beaverton won first place in the tournament, followed by Eugene and Albany in a tie for second, and Roseburg next. This is the first time a Roseburg team ever reached the finals of this tournament and is exceptional in that there were 19 teams entered in the senior division.

Seniors Take Top Spots In Interclass Contests

In the interclass contests held last week at Roseburg Senior high school the seniors continued capturing points as they won the boys' basketball and extemporaneous speaking contests. In basketball the seniors were followed by the juniors and sophomores in that order. Extemporaneous speaking resulted in the same result for the three classes, seniors, juniors and sophomores. Antia Young won for the seniors, while the juniors were represented by Virginia Wolski, and the sophomores by Eula Carnahan.
