American Legion Auxiliary Activities

By MRS. CLAUDE BAKER
Tuesday, Feb. 17, at the I. O. O. F. hall the auxiliary will entertain Legionnaires, their wives and any eligible to membership, according to President Bess Riegei. At 6:30 a potluck supper will be served with each unit member bringing a covered dish and bread and butter for her guests. She should also bring complete table service. Coffee and cream will be served by the committee composed of Mrs. S. W. Van Voorst, Mrs. Margaret H. Brown and Mrs. Ned Dixon.

Mrs. Riegei reports that entertainment has been provided for the evening. She urges everyone to be there.

"Lincoln was honest. He was a good man, too!" So said young Ivan Vaughn of Glide yesterday when he showed me his second grade paper. His teacher, Violet Wiltshire, had given each child a picture of Lincoln about whom they were to write. Thus early in our schools are pupils taught Americanism and good citizenship.

Feb. 16 is the day for registration of women for war time work. When you are called upon you will have the plan explained to you, so it is to be hoped everyone will find some place to help.

In England today, how surprised you would be if instead of a red-cap, 114 pounds of charming femininity were to tote your luggage from the station. Over there now you would see a woman tuck a curl under her cap before hoisting a mailbag on her back. The driver of a plow would pause for a minute to powder her nose, before climbing into the seat and releasing the clutch. In munitions factories and machine shops the protective peak of a workman's cap would be set at a jaunty angle over saucy eyes, and nimble fingers would be busy at the lathes.

The Legion and auxiliary all over the nation have pledged to give and secure other pledges for defense bonds and stamps. You who are giving to your country will be interested in learning what your dimes will buy for the army and marines. I'll tell you what it will do for navy and air corps next week.

A ten-cent savings stamp purchased by a citizen will buy one set of insignia for our army. A 25-cent stamp will buy a dozen bandages.

One dollar invested in stamps or bonds will buy the army one arm splint; six dollars will buy it one anti-tank shell; ten dollars will buy it a tent; $19.36 will buy it one 81-millimeter trench mortar shell.

The sum of $370 invested in defense bonds will buy our army 17 surgical beds; $500 will buy it a

Captured Deer With Mystery Ill To Be Examined

A yearling deer, believed to be suffering from a malady which has caused a large number of deaths recently among the deer in the North Umpqua area, was captured at Illahee today and is being brought to Roseburg for examination in an effort to identify the disease, V. V. Harpham, forest supervisor, reported.

During the past few years a recurring malady has taken a heavy toll of deer. The state game commission, working through the department of biology at Oregon State college, has endeavored to identify the disease in order that a study may be made to reduce losses. The work, however, has been handicapped by the inability to secure deer while still alive or shortly after death.

Capture of the sick animal at Illahee is expected to furnish the department one of the best specimens so far obtained in the study. Experts from the college are expected here tonight to examine the animal, Mr. Harpham reported.
