Marries on Valentine's Day

Mrs. John Edwin Killip

A very pretty wedding took place Saturday evening, Valentine's day, February 14th, at St. George's Episcopal church, when Miss Mari Joan Parkinson, beautiful daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Parkinson, of Roseburg, became the bride of John Edwin Killip, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Killip, of Ajo, Arizona. Rev. Perry Smith, rector of the church, performed the impressive ceremony at eight o'clock in the presence of about seventy-five close friends and relatives of the couple.

Preceding the ceremony Mrs. Paul Geddes played organ music and accompanied Miss Marie Ragndahl, of Portland, who sang, "Ave Maria" by Schubert and "At Dawning" by Cadman. Mrs. Geddes played the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin for the wedding party to advance to the beautifully decorated altar and at the close of the ceremony, played Mendelssohn's recessional march.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was charming in an afternoon frock of ice-blue crepe. She wore a fuchsia colored hat and matching accessories, and carried a white orchid and white prayer book. Her aunt, Mrs. Edward C. Sala, of Portland, was matron of honor and wore a pastel-colored rose wool suit with matching accessories and a corsage of gardenias. The bride's mother wore a grey Jersey ensemble with a gold hat and accessories of gold and a corsage of yellow tea roses. Norman Killip, of Ajo, Arizona, acted as best man to his brother.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. About thirty relatives and close friends attended. The serving table, covered with a lovely lace cloth was centered with a pink and white carnation bouquet arranged in the shape of a heart and flanked by tall pink tapers. The four-tiered wedding cake was molded in heart shapes and decorated in pink and white. The cake was cut by the bride and bridegroom and served by Mrs. M. Hazel Dixon. Miss Ila Laubach cut the ices and Miss Lucille Lenox served the punch. Miss Eugenia Virden and Miss Virginia Winston assisted in serving. The many beautiful wedding gifts were on display.

For traveling the bride chose a chocolate brown suit with dark brown sailor hat and matching accessories. She wore an orchid corsage. Following a honeymoon trip to Arinda, Calif., and points of interest in California, they will go to Burbank to make their home at 551 East Palm street.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding included: Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schaldach, of Oakland, Calif., Norman Killip, of Ajo, Arizona, Mr. and Mrs. Edw. C. Sala and daughter, Marilyn, Miss Rosmary Harrison and Miss Marie Ragndahl, all of Portland, and Miss Virginia Winston, of Corvallis.

The bride, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Parkinson, is very well known here and is a popular member of the younger set. She attended the local schools and was graduated in 1937, later going two years to Stephens college at Columbia, Missouri; a year at the Arizona State Teachers college at Flagstaff, Arizona, and her senior year at University of Oregon, where she was graduated. The bridegroom attended school at Ajo, Arizona, and spent four years at Flagstaff, Arizona, where he was graduated from the Arizona Teachers college. He is now employed at the Lockheed Air corporation at Burbank, Calif.
