Lean Forward, Americans!

AMERICANS generally delight in leaning back in an easy chair, barber shop chair or just any convenient chair and listening to the advice and argument of whomever happens to be indulging in that good old custom of sounding off.

And it's a very fine thing in time of peace. But the time has arrived and it's right now—when we all must lean forward, cast a fishy eye at our whispering informant or windy talker, and ask ourselves a question. Is he, or quite possibly she, pulling my leg, knowingly or unknowingly, for the benefit of Adolph, Benito or Lieut. Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita?

As all school children know by now, Hitler's cardinal rule is "Divide and Conquer." And as all Czechs, French, Dutch and Norwegians know it is one of the smartest and most devilish politico-military weapons of all time. Why? Because it works.

Edmond Taylor, noted student of propaganda, declares now is the time to fear and fight the slime of Nazi propaganda which seeped over the great, impregnable Maginot line and drowned France. It worked in France and other countries and it can work here.

Oh, you won't get any letters from Doctor Goebbels telling you President Roosevelt is crazy, or that we are obviously headed for dictatorship, or that the Jews and Communists plan to chop the hands off every third baby boy. You will get something much slicker and much harder to combat. There are and will be some of those raver types for the lunatic fringe, but chiefly they will be in such forms as these:

We are dupes of British imperialists. Our entire Pacific fleet was destroyed at Pearl Harbor. The army had to shoot 400 strikers in a Detroit tank factory. Jap saboteurs have destroyed large sections of San Francisco. Six troop transports with 10,000 American soldiers on each have been sunk. The republicans are blocking the war effort. The democrats are blocking the war effort. Jesse James, Peter the Rabbit, the no-grades-for-girls rule are messing things up. In short, things have gone to hell. We can't win. There's no use trying. We've lost up to now and besides Hitler has no designs on America. He just wants all the Germans of Europe joined in one big happy family.

Those are the things you have heard and will hear. Those are the things axis agents spread, and the alleys and rat holes are infested with them. Good Americans hear them. They tell other good Americans. Soon the vicious lie assumes the proportions of a national scandal and everybody is talking about it. That wrecks morale, wrecks the war effort and can wreck America. It's all the simple application of "Divide and Conquer."

This doesn't mean free speech, free press and free assembly must be shelved. It does mean that every loyal American must lean forward, not backward, repeat no wild rumors, and smash as many lies as possible. And above all, have faith and work hard.

the Great Man, Baldy Benito Mussolini, is concerned. We have sorely missed the brayings of this empire builder. The comic strips are fine, but what our morale really needs is the incomparable comedy which rolls from Rome every time Mr. Great Stuff sounds off.

Therefore, our gloom has gone, thanks to an alert journalist of Bern, Switzerland, who supplied a New York newspaper with the intelligence that Benito had "broken his official silence" with a blast at Italians who talk continually of peace.

So the Italians are talking of peace? It must be so because the All Highest says so, and such an admission from him means only one thing—a great many good Italian people are sick and tired of the war and of Mussolini. Does that make Italy undeniably the weak sister of the axis and the place to strike?

State Press Comment

PROTECTING OUR FORESTS

(Portland Oregonian) The great Tillamook forest fire started from a spark caused by the friction of drawing a log over a dry cedar deadfall. We learned a sad and costly lesson. Forestry departments and loggers and timber owners have added hastily to their fire prevention methods since then, but the known ease with which a fire gains headway in the forests, when the humidity is low and a summer has already dried out the undergrowth, has aroused public concern and inquiry over precautions taken to forestall activity of enemy incendiaries.

It is reassuring to learn from an announcement by State Forester Rogers that an Oregon forest defense council has been formed to coordinate already established fire prevention and fire fighting activities of several public and private agencies. The man power of the logging and mill companies and their equipment are pledged. Five hundred college and high school boys are to be enlisted as fire watchers. There are 2200 men regularly employed in the state forester's office. All told, it is expected that close to 100,000 men will be available for the work.

An additional plain essential is removal of enemy aliens from our proximity to the forests. It is a natural supposition that this will be done. And it is helpful to the public peace of mind to know that the menace of incendiary sabotage in the forests is to be met with intelligent planning and the recruiting of fire-preventing and fire-fighting legions.

Farmer's Concoction May Supply Rubber Salisbury, Md., Mar. 13—(AP)—Homer Pilkinton, 44-year-old farmer, has concocted a material that looks, feels and acts like rubber and sent samples to the National Inventors Council to determine whether it might be of value in the war effort. Pilkinton, who studied chemistry at Heintzberg university, Germany, said the base of the synthetic rubber was an ordinary plant, the name of which he did not disclose. He obtained one sample that was spongy and another that was firm. No natural rubber was used in its preparation, he said. He mixed chemicals with the plant, experimented in his kitchen and prepared the material on his cookstove at a cost estimated at less than 15 cents a pound.
