Monday is the Day

MONDAY is officially designated as "Army Day." For that day all restrictions against parades and the assembly of crowds have been lifted.

Hundreds, possibly thousands, of people are daily doing a routine civil defense task. This work consumes their time, works a definite hardship and is often physically difficult.

Although it has been repeatedly published, we mention again the fact that business houses in Roseburg will be closed during the afternoon for the parade and the program. School will let out and, taken all in all, it is going to be a great day.

THIS war is far different from any conflict of recorded history. In this great struggle civilians are victims of attack if not permitted to be combatants.

It is true, of course, that we likely never shall be required to put in action all of the rather elaborate machinery and organization that has been set up to cope with any and all things that might occur to mar the ordinary life of civilians.

So, let's turn out Monday and view the parade. We will thereby learn a great deal about the job that is being done and, through this public exhibition, the workers will have a chance to show their strength.

on the west coast of Burma. Any- as, as your map will show you, is on the Bay of Bengal coast of Burma, fairly well to the north of Promé, where the bitterest of the fighting is going on.

It is separated from the Irrawaddy valley by mountains, but a trail leads through the mountain range, coming out well in the rear of the British line and about the center of the Burma oil fields.

They, you see, are up to their old flanking tricks which served them so well in Malaya.

AKYAB is about 350 miles across an arm of the Bay of Bengal from Calcutta, at the mouth of the Ganges river. If the Japs decide to go into India, Calcutta is about the spot where they will strike first.

All this is going on while the leaders of India's factions dicker with Cripps.

WE'VE been reading for several days that American and Australian air forces have achieved at least temporary superiority in the air over the islands ringing Australia from the north. Recent dispatches from Melbourne say the Japs in New Guinea are receiving air reinforcements which can only be described as "considerable."

THE Sydney (Australia) Sun's correspondent at Melbourne says:

"Eight fully equipped Japanese divisions (120,000 to 150,000 men) are now believed massed in Java and at Singapore awaiting the starting signal for Japan's next major offensive. These forces are said to include a large number of parachute troops."

He adds: "The growing flow of U. S. aid to Australia is considered likely to SPEED Japan's next move."

(IMPLYING that the next move will be against Australia and that it is likely to get under way immediately, before STILL MORE American help arrives.)

Douglas County's Registrants In War Draft Lottery of March 16th Are Listed

Following are the order and serial numbers of men registered with the Douglas county selective service board on Feb. 16, 1942. The order numbers were determined by a lottery held March 17 and appear in the first column below. The number 10,000 was arbitrarily added to all order numbers of the third draft in order to simplify handling. Thus No. 10234 would indicate that the registrant holding such number is number 234 in order of call in this registration. The same rule applied to higher numbers, such as 11234 would indicate the registrant to be 234 in order number.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 4.—It is the intention of President Roosevelt to treat the alien Japanese in the United States so generously that it will set an example to the Nipponese war lords and the enemy will in turn be nice to any Americans who fall into their hands. Members of the Japanese colony in the national capital—the embassy—are being detained by this government at the most expensive pleasure resort in the country, where they are denied nothing except freedom to leave the establishment, and none of the embassy care to leave, for Japan never offered such service and surroundings.

The president has ordered that every consideration be extended to the Japanese, aliens and native born, in the target area of the Pacific coast. He has directed that the federal reserve bank at San Francisco and its branches in Portland, Seattle and Boise extend to the Japanese every facility to keep those with property from being robbed by greedy creditors or slickers. Thousands have been temporarily located in the interior of California, but in Oregon, Washington and Idaho (not much difficulty with those in Idaho) it is suggested that the Japanese be pushed inland, taken into Wyoming, Nebraska and Kansas. Suggestion is made that many can be placed on farms.

Japanese who work are to be well paid. Rumored here that the compensation may be $75 to $90 a month, depending on the character of the labor, and this does not please some people who resent the idea of these alien enemy suspects being paid three or four times the $21 a month drawn by the American soldier. Rumor has been neither corroborated nor denied.

Fingerprinting for Chefs. Before long every restaurant employe (chefs especially) and every baker, from the Greasy Spoon to the swanky night club, will be fingerprinted. There will be no exceptions. Bureau of federal investigation will handle the job. Everyone who handles food, from the kitchen to the customer, and those in the bakeshops will be registered with the inevitable prints. So far as known, there has been no food poisoning by enemy aliens in this country yet, but it is a practice in several world spots where American ships are carrying war supplies and hundreds of people have been victims. Fingerprinting is expected to furnish a lead if anyone tries it here.

Doctors to Be Drafted. War department is compiling a list of every physician, dentist and veterinarian in the northwest and before the end of the year will have slapped many into uniforms. Vets with pet shops and pet hospitals should begin considering disposing of their establishments, for veterinarians are to be in great demand; not all of the army rolls on rubber—there is still the cavalry with its horses. Already there is reported a scarcity of doctors as young professional men have been drained from the towns of the three states. Admiral Ross McIntyre, who understands the situation in the northwest because he was in practice there before becoming white house physician, has undertaken to prevent several small towns from having the last physician taken into the army. Now, however, the communities will be combed over once more.

In this registration war department hopes to obtain the professional men from the 37 to 45 age class from local draft board, but will try to pick out older men, also, who are active in practice. All told, the war department plans on 16,000 additional physicians and 3,000 additional dentists this year, and the navy is after 3,000 doctors before next January. Navy will take medics up to 50 years but those near that age will not be assigned to warships or cruisers; they will be given shore duty and hospital ships. Elderly physicians grabbed by the army will not be sent with expeditionary forces, but kept in the United States, releasing the younger men for overseas campaigns, and war department will not be too particular about the physical condition of the older medics.
