DAILY DEVOTIONS DR. CHAS. A. EDWARDS

Jesus cannot be confined within a tomb; that is the meaning of Easter. No matter what materials the tomb may be constructed, no matter how carefully precautions to prevent His escape have been made, no matter how watchful and alert the guards may be, Jesus will overcome every effort to restrain Him. The deep conviction that Christ lives is the heart of the Christian faith. By it millions upon millions of God's children have been sustained in their hour of agony and grief, finding hope when hope seemed all but gone. Time and again Christ seemingly entombed has broken the shackles and marched forward, conquering and to conquer. He was all but buried beneath the ecclesiasticism of the medieval church, but was released upon a waiting and expectant world when the reformation rolled away the stone. He was confined by a corrupt and indifferent church, but was freed when Wesley, under divine guidance, presented him anew to a spiritually impoverished and expectant England. In the history of our faith there have been dark days aplenty and tragic situations, but Jesus has survived every crisis. After Gethsemane there is Easter, after death, the triumph of undying life. There is no final defeat of Christ. He lives and because He lives we too shall live. Amen.
